Israel To Pull Her Troops Out Of Egypt

About-Face View On Mideast Crisis Reported To Ike

Police Force Gets Co-Operation, But Russ Trouble Threatens

WASHINGTON (AP)—Prime Minister Ben-Gurion Thursday night notified President Eisenhower that Israel will "willingly withdraw" its forces from Egypt "upon conclusion of satisfactory arrangements with the United Nations" regarding a UN Middle East police force.

"Your statement that a United Nations force is being dispatched to Egypt in accordance with pertinent resolutions of the (U.N.) General Assembly is welcomed by us," Ben-Gurion said in a message replying to one Eisenhower dispatched to him Wednesday.

The Ben-Gurion position, as set forth in the note to the President, was a reversal of the Prime Minister's attitude of Wednesday.

Ben-Gurion at that time rejected proposals for putting foreign troops, "no matter how called," on Israeli territory or in areas under Israeli occupation.

In his message to Eisenhower Thursday night, Ben-Gurion said:

"We have never planned to annex the Sinai Desert (in Egypt).

'Willingly'

"In view of the United Nations resolutions regarding the withdrawal of foreign troops from Egypt and the creation of an international force, we will, upon conclusion of satisfactory arrangements with the United Nations in connection with this international force entering the Suez Canal area, willingly withdraw our forces."

Ben-Gurion did not specify what he means by "satisfactory arrangements" with the U.N., but he did say:

"Although an important part of our aim has been achieved by the destruction, as a result of the Sinai operation, of fedayeen (commando) gangs and the bases from which they were planned and directed, we must repeat our urgent request to the United Nations to call upon Egypt, which has consistently maintained that it is in a state of war with Israel, to renounce this position, to abandon its policy of boycott and blockade, to cease the incursions into Israel territory of murder gangs and, in accordance with its obligations under the United Nations Charter to live at peace with member states, to enter into direct peace negotiations with Israel."

New Note

The Israeli Prime Minister did not say whether his willingness to withdraw troops from Egypt and co-operate with the projected Middle East police force was contingent upon acceptance by Egypt of the request he outlined with respect to that country.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary said, however, that Eisenhower was dispatching a new note to Ben-Gurion expressing "appreciation" of the Prime Minister's note to him.

Eisenhower, in his message to Ben-Gurion Wednesday, called on Israel to comply with the U.N. resolutions during withdrawal of foreign troops from Egypt and providing for sending an emergency police force into that area.

Tension Eased

Israel's reported readiness to cooperate in ending the Mid East conflict would tremendously boost prospects for an easing of dangerous tensions in the area.

However, new signs of possible trouble arose. Defense Department sources said they had received reports that Russia was sending military equipment, including MIG jet fighters, as well as "advisers" into Syria, Arab neighbor of Israel.

Military men here viewed the weapons movement as one more bit of evidence of the Soviets sticking a finger into the scrambled pie of the Middle East situation, in which Moscow already had clamored for open intervention.

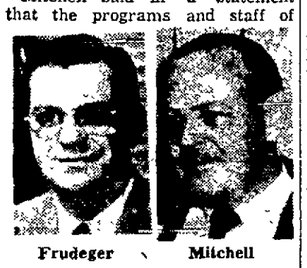
Those watching the situation from Washington declined to identify the nationality of the pilots for the Soviet fighter planes in Syria. But their mention of accompanying "advisers" suggested strongly the pattern that was followed in North Korea where Russian pilots flew jet planes until North Korean pilots could be trained.

Frudeger Sells KLIN; Price Said $190,000

Lincoln radio station KLIN has been purchased by the Flecher-Mitchell Corporation for $190,000 subject to approval by the Federal Communications Commission, former owner Robert Frudeger announced Thursday.

The newly-organized Corporation is headed by John I. Mitchell, executive vice-president and general manager of the Cedar Rapids Broadcasting Company, Cedar Rapids, Ia.

Mitchell said in a statement that the programs and staff of



Frudeger Mitchell

KLIN will remain unchanged, following official authorization by the FCC, and that Howard Frederick, assistant manager of KLIN, and Roger Hoffman, sales manager, will retain their present positions.

Frudeger, president of the Frudeger Broadcasting Company, will continue to operate the station until the sale has been formally approved by the FCC.

Radio Veteran

A radio veteran of 19 years experience, Mitchell began his radio career as a page boy for NBC in New York. He was formerly commercial manager of KCBC, Des Moines, Iowa, and later manager of stations in Sioux City and Cedar Rapids, Ia.

Mitchell, his wife, and two sons, 5 and 9, will reside in Lincoln, but he will retain his present holdings in Cedar Rapids.

KLIN was originally called KOLN, changing to its present title when Frudeger bought the radio station in April, 1955. Frudeger came to Lincoln to manage the station as the former manager of WGIL in Galesburg, Ill., and executive advertising director for the Galesburg Daily Register Mail.

Following this sale, the station was given a new call signal and transferred to its present offices in the Sharp Building. Purchase price was $120,000.

Prior to affiliation with the Frudeger Broadcasting Company, Radio KOLN, along wtih KOLN-TV was sold to the Cornhusker Radio and Television Corporation in August, 1953. Both stations were bought for $650,000, which included debt liabilities.

Radio KOLN had been under the ownership of Inland Broadcasting Co. of Omaha before its sale to Cornhusker in July, 1952.

Warmer Temps Set In State Friday

Warmer temperatures with highs in the 50s were predicted for Friday by the Weather Bureau.

Clear to partly cloudy skies were expected and no precipitation was indicated in the forecast.

High temperature Thursday was 49 at Valentine. The mercury dipped to eight at Chadron, nine at Sidney and 10 degrees at Scottsbluff. Lincoln recorded it lowest reading of the season, 24 degrees.

Omaha had a trace of snow early Thursday morning.

Temperatures across the nation presented an amazing contrast. While the eastern seaboard shivered in the midst of a cold wave, the mercury soared to a record 95 at Los Angeles Thursday.

The Weather Bureau predicted "a pleasant fall weekend" for Nebraska with warming temperatures and no precipitation.

It Will Be Just Where It Was In The 84th: 49 Demos, 47 For GOP

By J. W. DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP) — A close Republican victory in Kentucky Thursday brought the Senate division for the 85th Congress next year to just where it was in the 84th: 49 Democrats and 47 Republicans.

By ordinary standards, that would assure continued Democratic control of the Senate. Some complicating factors, however, gave Republicans an outside chance at it.

Late returns from Kentucky indicated Republican Thruston B. Morton had come through finally in his seesaw race with Sen. Earle Clements, the assistant Democratic floor leader.

Democrats Relieved

The day's developments also brought a measure of relief for Democrats who had been somewhat concerned over whether Sen.-elect Frank Lausche of Ohio, an independent - minded Democrat, would go along with them in the vote to organize the Senate.

Lausche said at Columbus he would finish his term as governor, which ends Jan. 14. That would seem to mean he did not plan to be in Washington for the vote at the opening of Congress on Senate organization, leaving it up to the other Democrats to set it up to their satisfaction.

With Lausche absent, and assuming a full representation otherwise, the vote would be 48 Democrats and 47 Republicans. If Lausche did come in and vote with the Republicans, there would be a 48-48 tie and Vice President Nixon could break it in favor of the GOP.

Vote Is Important

The vote decides which party gets the committee chairmanships and the majority strength on each committee.

The House was definitely Democratic once more. With five races still undecided, Democrats had elected 231 members to 199 for the Republicans.

The present House division is 232 Democrats, 203 Republicans.

The five remaining undecided House seats are in New Jersey, Kentucky, Missouri, Nebraska and Washington. The Republicans led only in New Jersey.

—UP TO 5,000 HUNGARIANS—

Ike Orders Doors Open To Refugees

Action To Meet President's Instructions Is Started

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower Thursday ordered admittance to the United States of up to 5,000 refugees from Soviet-oppressed Hungary.

Pierce J. Gerety, deputy administrator of the Refugee Relief Act, told a White House news conference that action to meet the President's instructions is being started at once.

In a statement, the President said:

"Few events of recent times have so stirred the American people as the tragic effort of Hungarian men and women to gain freedom for themselves and for their children.

"The brutal purge of liberty which followed their heroic struggle will be long and sorrowfully remembered, not only by those directly suffering from that brutality, but also by all humans who believe in the dignity of man."

Concern

The President said this country's immediate concern "must be for those whose suffering we, the members of the free world, can effectively alleviate."

Eisenhower acted under general authority he has under the Refugee Relief Act.

Gerety said all of the refugees to be admitted to the United States are now in Austria, which borders Hungary. He estimated that between 14,000 and 16,000 Hungarians have fled across that border.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said the President had asked him to tell newsmen that he calls on all Americans to help by notifying the government if they can give assurances of employment, housing and financial aid to the refugees on arrival in the United States.

Those who can give such assurances, Hagerty said, should wire Gerety.

Famine, Looting Threaten Hungary

VIENNA (AP) — Famine, severe shortages of clothing and widespread looting threaten battle-torn Hungary, the Soviet-imposed government said Thursday night. Pockets of resistance still held out doggedly, but at least one fell in a "human shield" incident.

"The Russians got us out with a typically Communist dirty trick," said the leader of 45 rebels who abandoned trenches at the Hegyeshalom border station and crossed into Austria to surrender their arms.

"Two Russian tanks came down the road toward the border station. Beside them marched some armed Hungarian soldiers who were collaborators of the Russians. In front of the tanks the Communist marched groups of Hungarian civilians, farmers and others.

"The Hungarian civilians shouted to us: 'Don't shoot! we are Hungarians.' We couldn't fire through our own people, so we had to retreat."

Blackout

Inland, there was a rebel radio blackout after broadcasts reporting continued violent fighting near Budapest.

While the Soviet - controlled Budapest radio appealed to foodstuff workers to return to their jobs, a government minister called on the population to do all in its power "to annihilate the already beaten armed gangs who continue their evil doings."

He spoke as a number of delegates assailed the Soviet Union for its role in putting down the Hungarian rebellion and installing the puppet regime of Premier Janos Kadar.

Emilio Nunez-Portuondo of Cuba led the attack with a call on the Assembly to deny representatives of the Kadar regime a seat in the 11th regular Assembly convening next Monday.

Hungary Relief Fund Started

More than 10,000 Hungarian patriots are today dead for defying Russian suppression of Hungary's freedom attempts.

Thousands more are wounded. Half of Budapest is destroyed.

Another 10,000 Hungarians have escaped to Austria as refugees, joining 2,000 already there.

Many Americans in gratitude for the rights of freedom, including that of free elections so precisely enjoyed this week, want to offer encouragement of the freedoms by raising $1 million for relief of anti-communism Hungarian refugees.

3. Yugoslavia, the first Communist bloc member to defy Moscow, teamed with non-Communist nations in a strong demand to the Soviet Union to pull its troops out of Hungary.

4. The East German news service ADN said Soviet Premier Bulganin has told President Eisenhower that withdrawing Soviet forces from Hungary is "completely and entirely" the business of the Hungarian and Soviet governments.

They Fell 14 Miles

Balloon Soars To Record, Then Plummets—Safely

BROWNLEE, Neb. (AP) — Two Navy balloonists soared to a record altitude of more than 14 miles Thursday, then plummeted unexpectedly—but safely—to earth in Nebraska's sparsely settled sandhills when trouble developed.

The balloon, taking off at the "Stratobowl" in the Black Hills near Rapid City, S.D., carried Cmdrs. Malcolm D. Ross, 37, and Morton L. Lewis, 43, both of Washington, D.C., to 76,000 feet.

They reached that height 2 hours and 50 minutes after cast-off. Outside their seven-foot pressurized aluminum globe, they saw a "dark blue black" sky. The earth looked black, too.

Sipping

They began to descend at 1,000 feet a minute. At 56,000 feet Lewis radioed they were sipping coffee, and "we invite you in."

Then something went wrong; the airmen said later "we had no idea what. . . ."

The rate of descent increased to 1,400 feet a minute.

"We are cool, calm and collected," they reported. "We think we will stay with the balloon as long as we can."

Ross and Lewis began pitching out their oxygen and radio gear trying vainly to reduce their rate of fall. Their last radio message was, "We will be out of communication for some time. We are beginning to. . . ." The message broke off at this point.

Smooth Drop

The drop, though fast and dangerous, was smooth, they recalled afterwards. As they neared the earth they cut away the big plastic gas-filled balloon.

The balloon was not cut away until the gondola practically touched ground. The balloon was later found 15 miles to the southeast of the landing. The balloonists told cattle range pilot Dan Higgins, who landed his light plane nearby, that the gondola skidded about five feet after touching ground but the landing was an easy one.

They were about 140 miles from their take-off point.

A plane which had followed from Rapid City, and a rancher in a pickup truck, were first to arrive. They found the airmen cold but unharmed and the gondola intact.

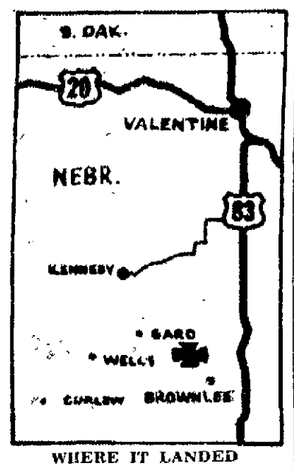
To keep the temperatures bearable, the gondola was built and painted in such a way to utilize radiation from the sun and earth. The bottom was painted black, to absorb heat from the earth, and the top was white, to reflect the sun's heat should the temperature become too high. A system of fans brought in heat from the bottom and cool air from the top.

Temperatures in the gondola dropped as low as 32 above, but the Navy men wore skin-tight pressure suits which helped them stay relatively comfortable.

Later a Navy helicopter arrived and flew the men to Ainsworth, Neb. The Navy had scheduled an intensive physical for the men, as part of the scientific purposes of the flight, before newsmen were to be permitted to talk to them.

The 76,000 foot ascent compared with the previous record of 72,395 set in 1935 by a balloon taking off from the same bowl near Rapid City.

However, Capt. Iven C. Kincheloe, in a Bell X2 rocket plane, had made a higher—126,000 feet—but unofficial flight last August at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif.



WHERE IT LANDED

BALLOONISTS WANTED JAVA

OMAHA (AP)—Dan Higgins, cattle range area pilot who was one of the first persons to reach Navy Cmdrs. Malcom L. Ross and Morton L. Lewis after they made their emergency gondola landing, said their greeting to him was:

"Hi, did you bring some coffee?"

Higgins said that Ross and Lewis, outside of having some trouble with plugged ears, looked good and none the worse for wear.

"They were cheerful but serious and a little chilly before rancher Loren Boyer's wife rushed over some coffee," Higgins said.

Third Badly Hurt

Craft Piles Up On Hunting Trip

BREWSTER, Neb. (AP) —Two Minnesota men were killed and a third seriously injured when their plane crashed in a sparsely settled region 14 miles southwest of here Thursday.

Killed were Borge Nielsen of Minneapolis believed to have been piloting the two engine plane, and W. K. Dorrans, Hopkins, Minn. Suffering a broken arm and a broken leg was Norman Knafla, Minneapolis.

Knafla was hospitalized at Sargent, Neb., but was unable to give authorities any story on the crash.

He was reported still unconscious early Friday morning and in critical condition.

The men were believed to have been on their way to Minnesota after a hunting trip in the North Platte river region of central Nebraska. Hunting guns were found in the wreckage of the plane.

Authorities said it appeared from the wreckage that one engine on the plane had failed. One of the engines was found 100 feet away from the wreckage, scattered over a hillside.

Bob Spooner, Sargent mortician who was called to the scene of the accident, said the plane did not burn. The crash occurred on the Wiggins ranch in Blaine County.

Knafla remained unconscious late Thursday.

Time of the crash was placed at 11:15 a.m. Thursday.

Another Big Three Talk May Be Near On Mideast Issue

LONDON (INS) — Another Big Three Western meeting at the top level may be in the making as a result of the Middle East crisis.

Diplomatic sources reported British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden and French Premier Guy Mollet may go to Washington to confer with President Eisenhower in about a week or ten days.

Israel agreed to pull its troops out of Egypt's Sinai Peninsula amid reports of a new Soviet buildup of the Arab states.

Russia's role is the dangerous dispute, and the need to patch up any remaining major differences among the Western powers, are expected to be key issues in any new Big Three meeting.

$18 Million Paid To State Farmers For 'Banked' Soil

Nebraska farmers have received $18,599,943 in soil bank payments through November 2, ranking second to Iowa in total payments, the Department of Agriculture announced.

The Department reported that total payments to farmers participating in the new soil bank program were $181,147,696.

'Inmate Left Pen With State Funds'—Bovey

By ROY CAMPBELL
Star Staff Writer

A Penitentiary inmate who served over two years for auto theft rehabilitated himself by juggling institution accounts in his own favor to the tune of $245, Warden Joseph Bovey said Thursday.

The warden said he is considering filing a complaint against the inmate, William A. Brown of Cullman, Ala.

The warden said he would rather have the money back, and not Brown, but will file a complaint charging ledger alteration if the money isn't returned.

Brown, 28, was serving a three-year term for auto theft from Hall County. He started his sentence Aug. 18, 1954. He was released after serving the minimum of his penalty on Sept. 25, 1956.

As with all inmates, Brown drew a check including all funds accumulated by him during his more than two years at the Pen. This included $20 gratuity given each inmate when he leaves.

Brown's check was for $245, a larger than normal size for inmates serving such a short time.

A check of the books in the business office, where Brown worked as a typist and clerk, showed a shortage in the account of the other inmates, Bovey said. It was revealed in the check that Brown had been altering the books, taking funds out of the accounts of other inmates and transferring them to his own, Bovey said.

Warden Bovey said Brown actually handled no money in the business office where he worked with a regular employe of the Pen. The warden said he had instituted a policy of having no inmates working in the business office, but had permitted Brown this privilege until his scheduled release.

Brown took advantage of the privilege in making off with funds due his fellow prisoners, Bovey said.

The warden said the funds will be made up and that they are the responsibility of the Penitentiary. Because of Brown's status as an inmate, though, he could not be bonded to insure the state or the institution against the loss.

Brown was arrested with the stolen car in Richmond, Calif. His record shows previous violations of auto theft and petit larceny.

Vote Is Important

The vote decides which party gets the committee chairmanships and the majority strength on each committee.

The House was definitely Democratic once more. With five races still undecided, Democrats had elected 231 members to 199 for the Republicans.

The present House division is 232 Democrats, 203 Republicans.

The five remaining undecided House seats are in New Jersey, Kentucky, Missouri, Nebraska and Washington. The Republicans led only in New Jersey.

—UP TO 5,000 HUNGARIANS—

Ike Orders Doors Open To Refugees

Action To Meet President's Instructions Is Started

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower Thursday ordered admittance to the United States of up to 5,000 refugees from Soviet-oppressed Hungary.

Pierce J. Gerety, deputy administrator of the Refugee Relief Act, told a White House news conference that action to meet the President's instructions is being started at once.

In a statement, the President said:

"Few events of recent times have so stirred the American people as the tragic effort of Hungarian men and women to gain freedom for themselves and for their children.

"The brutal purge of liberty which followed their heroic struggle will be long and sorrowfully remembered, not only by those directly suffering from that brutality, but also by all humans who believe in the dignity of man."

Concern

The President said this country's immediate concern "must be for those whose suffering we, the members of the free world, can effectively alleviate."

Eisenhower acted under general authority he has under the Refugee Relief Act.

Gerety said all of the refugees to be admitted to the United States are now in Austria, which borders Hungary. He estimated that between 14,000 and 16,000 Hungarians have fled across that border.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said the President had asked him to tell newsmen that he calls on all Americans to help by notifying the government if they can give assurances of employment, housing and financial aid to the refugees on arrival in the United States.

Those who can give such assurances, Hagerty said, should wire Gerety.

Famine, Looting Threaten Hungary

VIENNA (AP) — Famine, severe shortages of clothing and widespread looting threaten battle-torn Hungary, the Soviet-imposed government said Thursday night. Pockets of resistance still held out doggedly, but at least one fell in a "human shield" incident.

"The Russians got us out with a typically Communist dirty trick," said the leader of 45 rebels who abandoned trenches at the Hegysehalom border station and crossed into Austria to surrender their arms.

"Two Russian tanks came down the road toward the border station. Beside them marched some armed Hungarian soldiers who were collaborators of the Russians. In front of the tanks the Communist marched groups of Hungarian civilians, farmers and others.

"The Hungarian civilians shouted to us: 'Don't shoot! we are Hungarians.' We couldn't fire through our own people, so we had to retreat."

Blackout

Inland, there was a rebel radio blackout after broadcasts reporting continued violent fighting near Budapest.

While the Soviet - controlled Budapest radio appealed to foodstuff workers to return to their jobs, a government minister called on the population to do all in its power "to annihilate the already beaten armed gangs who continue their evil doings."

He spoke as a number of delegates assailed the Soviet Union for its role in putting down the Hungarian rebellion and installing the puppet regime of Premier Janos Kadar.

Emilio Nunez-Portuondo of Cuba led the attack with a call on the Assembly to deny representatives of the Kadar regime a seat in the 11th regular Assembly convening next Monday.

Hungary Relief Fund Started

More than 10,000 Hungarian patriots are today dead for defying Russian suppression of Hungary's freedom attempts.

Thousands more are wounded. Half of Budapest is destroyed.

Another 10,000 Hungarians have escaped to Austria as refugees, joining 2,000 already there.

Many Americans in gratitude for the rights of freedom, including that of free elections so preciously enjoyed this week, want to offer encouragement of the freedoms by raising $1 million for relief of anti-communism Hungarian refugees.

The Journal-Star Printing Co. has already given $200. You may express your help by sending donations to:

They Fell 14 Miles

—NEBRASKA SANDHILLS LANDING—

Balloon Soars To Record, Then Plummets—Safely

BROWNLEE, Neb. (AP) — Two Navy balloonists soared to a record altitude of more than 14 miles Thursday, then plummeted unexpectedly—but safely—to earth in Nebraska's sparsely settled sandhills when trouble developed.

The balloon, taking off at the "Stratobowl" in the Black Hills near Rapid City, S.D., carried Cmdrs. Malcolm D. Ross, 37, and Morton L. Lewis, 43, both of Washington, D.C., to 76,000 feet.

They reached that height 2 hours and 50 minutes after castoff. Outside their seven-foot pressurized aluminum globe, they saw a "dark blue black" sky. The earth looked black, too.

Sipping

They began to descend at 1,000 feet a minute. At 56,000 feet Lewis radioed they were sipping coffee, and "we invite you in."

Then something went wrong; the airmen said later "we had no idea what. . . ."

The rate of descent increased to 1,400 feet a minute.

"We are cool, calm and collected," they reported. "We think we will stay with the balloon as long as we can."

Ross and Lewis began pitching out their oxygen and radio gear trying vainly to reduce their rate of fall. Their last radio message was, "We will be out of communication for some time. We are beginning to. . . ." The message broke off at this point.

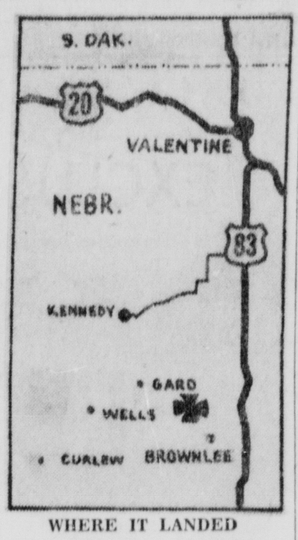
Smooth Drop

The drop, though fast and dangerous, was smooth, they recalled afterwards. As they neared the earth they cut away the big plastic gas-filled balloon.

The balloon was not cut away until the gondola practically touched ground. The balloon was later found 15 miles to the southeast of the landing. The balloonists told cattle range pilot Dan Higgins, who landed his light plane nearby, that the gondola skidded about five feet after touching ground but the landing was an easy one.

They were about 140 miles from their take-off point.

A plane which had followed from Rapid City, and a rancher in a pickup truck, were first to arrive. They found the airmen cold but unharmed and the gondola intact.



WHERE IT LANDED

To keep the temperatures bearable, the gondola was built and painted in such a way to utilize radiation from the sun and earth. The bottom was painted black, to absorb heat from the earth, and the top was white, to reflect the sun's heat should the temperature become too high. A system of fans brought in heat from the bottom and cool air from the top.

Temperatures in the gondola dropped as low as 32 above, but the Navy men wore skin-tight pressure suits which helped them stay relatively comfortable.

Later a Navy helicopter arrived and flew the men to Ainsworth, Neb. The Navy had scheduled an intensive physical for the men, as part of the scientific purposes of the flight, before newsmen were to be permitted to talk to them.

The 76,000 foot ascent compared with the previous record of 72,395 set in 1935 by a balloon taking off from the same bowl near Rapid City.

However, Capt. Iven C. Kincheloe, in a Bell X2 rocket plane, had made a higher—126,000 feet—but unofficial flight last August at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif.

BALLOONISTS WANTED JAVA

OMAHA (AP)—Dan Higgins, cattle range area pilot who was one of the first persons to reach Navy Cmdrs. Malcom L. Ross and Morton L. Lewis after they made their emergency gondola landing, said their greeting to him was:

"Hi, did you bring some coffee?"

Higgins said that Ross and Lewis, outside of having some trouble with plugged ears, looked good and none the worse for wear.

"They were cheerful but serious and a little chilly before rancher Loren Boyer's wife rushed over some coffee," Higgins said.

Third Badly Hurt

Craft Piles Up On Hunting Trip

BREWSTER, Neb. (AP) —Two Minnesota men were killed and a third seriously injured when their plane crashed in a sparsely settled region 14 miles southwest of here Thursday.

Killed were Borge Nielsen of Minneapolis believed to have been piloting the two engine plane, and W. K. Dorrans, Hopkins, Minn. Suffering a broken arm and a broken leg was Norman Knafla, Minneapolis.

Knafla was hospitalized at Sargent, Neb., but was unable to give authorities any story on the crash.

He was reported still unconscious early Friday morning and in critical condition.

The men were believed to have been on their way to Minnesota after a hunting trip in the North Platte river region of central Nebraska. Hunting guns were found in the wreckage of the plane.

Authorities said it appeared from the wreckage that one engine on the plane had failed. One of the engines was found 100 feet away from the wreckage, scattered over a hillside.

Bob Spooner, Sargent mortician who was called to the scene of the accident, said the plane did not burn. The crash occurred on the Wiggins ranch in Blaine County.

Knafla remained unconscious late Thursday.

Time of the crash was placed at 11:15 a.m. Thursday.

Another Big Three Talk May Be Near On Mideast Issue

LONDON (INS) — Another Big Three Western meeting at the top level may be in the making as a result of the Middle East crisis.

Diplomatic sources reported British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden and French Premier Guy Mollet may go to Washington to confer with President Eisenhower in about a week or ten days.

Israel agreed to pull its troops out of Egypt's Sinai Peninsula amid reports of a new Soviet buildup of the Arab states.

Russia's role is the dangerous dispute, and the need to patch up any remaining major differences among the Western powers, are expected to be key issues in any new Big Three meeting.

'Inmate Left Pen With State Funds'—Bovey

Star Staff Writer

A Penitentiary inmate who served over two years for auto theft rehabilitated himself by juggling institution accounts in his own favor to the tune of $245, Warden Joseph Bovey said Thursday.

The warden said he is considering filing a complaint against the inmate, William A. Brown of Cullman, Ala.

The warden said he would rather have the money back, and not Brown, but will file a complaint charging ledger alteration if the money isn't returned.

Brown, 28, was serving a three-year term for auto theft from Hall County. He started his sentence Aug. 18, 1954. He was released after serving the minimum of his penalty on Sept. 25, 1956.

As with all inmates, Brown drew a check including all funds accumulated by him during his more than two years at the Pen. This included $20 gratuity given each inmate when he leaves.

Brown's check was for $245, a larger than normal size for inmates serving such a short time.

A check of the books in the business office, where Brown worked as a typist and clerk, showed a shortage in the account of the other inmates, Bovey said. It was revealed in the check that Brown had been altering the books, taking funds out of the accounts of other inmates and transferring them to his own, Bovey said.

Warden Bovey said Brown actually handled no money in the business office where he worked with a regular employe of the Pen. The warden said he had instituted a policy of having no inmates working in the business office, but had permitted Brown this privilege until his scheduled release.

Brown took advantage of the privilege in making off with funds due his fellow prisoners, Bovey said.

The warden said the funds will be made up and that they are the responsibility of the Penitentiary. Because of Brown's status as an inmate, though, he could not be bonded to insure the state or the institution against the loss.

Brown was arrested with the stolen car in Richmond, Calif. His record shows previous violations of auto theft and petit larceny.

4 Die When Plane Hits Apartment House

35 Jersey Families Flee Into Street

NORTH BERGEN, N. J. (AP) A twin-engine airplane struck an 800-foot radio tower in the rain Thursday and crashed into the top of a crowded apartment house eight blocks away. Four persons were killed. Two of the dead were the plane passengers.

Thirty-five families fled into the street as flames erupted from the five-story brick building at 70th St. and Broadway.

Parts of the privately owned plane narrowly missed a moving car on the street below and a parochial school a block away.

The airplane hit the northwest corner of the apartment house, three feet from the top, with a tremendous roar and disintigrated.

Woman Jumps

Three bodies were found on the fourth and fifth floors, which were smashed to rubble. The fourth body was that of a woman who jumped in fright to the street below.

Police made tentative identifications of the other two apartment dwellers.

Those identified were:

Russell S. Williams, Indianapolis, Ind., president of the Bonded Gasoline & Oil Co., a subsidiary of Gaseteria, Inc. He was en route from Indianapolis to New York's La Guardia Airport to meet his son and daughter-in-law returning from Europe.

William Cromley of Trafalgar, Ind., pilot of a plane which took off at 9 a.m. from a private field near Indianapolis.

Positive Identifications

Those the police identified positively were:

Mrs. S. M. Phelps, wife of the assistant chief engineer of the New York Times, the woman who hit the street below.

Mrs. Florence Pyne, 55, who lived alone on the top floor of the apartment.

Fifteen persons were injured, one seriously.

Flying through fog and rain, the pilot apparently saw the tower and tried to swerve, but was too late. A wing was imbedded in the structure, 10 feet from the top.

T. C. Streibert Resigns U.S. Federal Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—Theodore C. Streibert Thursday resigned as director of the United States Information Agency, effective Nov. 15.

And Dr. Martha M. Eliot submitted her resignation as chief of the children's bureau in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, effective Jan. 1.

The White House announced acceptance of both resignations by President Eisenhower.

In an exchange of correspondence made public by the White House Streibert told the President he is leaving government service because of "personal considerations." He wrote:

"Although as you know, I undertook this work originally with a committment for only one year, I have now completed more than three years of service, and my family responsibilities will not permit further continuance."

Clements Unseated

. . . By Kentucky Vote

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Thruston B. Morton unseated Sen. Earle C. Clements, a longtime political power, Thursday and completed a GOP jackpot in Kentucky.

Morton's election to a six-year term means Kentucky, whose voting habits are strictly Democratic, will have two Republican U. S. senators for the second time in history.

John Sherman Cooper, who entered the race only after a nudge from President Eisenhower, wrapped up his victory for the four years remaining in the late Alben W. Barkley's term in early counting Tuesday night. He defeated former Gov. Lawrence W. Wetherby.

Three Prizes

Eisenhower's sweeping endorsement—the first accorded a Republican presidential candidate in Kentucky since 1928—means the GOP plucked all three major prizes in the state and also returned two representatives to the U.S. House.

Unlike the easy sailing enjoyed by Eisenhower and Cooper, Morton and Clements engaged in a suspense - packed ballot counting duel that took a decisive turn for the first time Thursday.

With just 99 of 4,052 precincts unreported, Morton's lead was 4,521 votes on a tally of 493,779 to 489,258.

Morton was leading by wide margins in 55 of the late-counting precincts and Clements was leading by strong to medium margins in 44.

Cooper pushed his bulge to 52,551 votes with a total of 516,477 to 463,926 for Wetherby.

Quick Action

CAIRO (INS) — Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns said Thursday he hoped to have the first ten United Nations observers in Egypt in 48 hours to oversee the cease-fire pending arrival of an armed U.N. "peace task force."

The new commander-in-chief of the U.N. peace force told newsmen soon after his arrival in Cairo that he had asked Israel for permission to send observers from Jerusalem across Israel and the conquered Sinai Peninsula, but "so far no reply" was received.

Sullivan And Met OK TV Scenes For Half Million

NEW YORK (INS)—Ed Sullivan has arranged with the Metropolitan Opera Company — at a price exceeding half a million dollars — to put scenes from five Met operas on television, starting Nov. 25.

Signing the Met and its stars, Sullivan said, is his answer to "the people who wrote me saying they didn't like Elvis Presley and we should get some fine music."

The agreement for more than $100,000 for each Sunday evening performance is the most the hour-long show has ever paid for talent. The normal talent budget is $25,000.

For his half-million-plus Sullivan will get the first regular television appearance of the opera company including such personages as the fiery soprano Maria Meneghinis Callas, conductor Dimitri Mitropoulos and general manager Rudolf Bing.

The first opera telecast will star Madame Callas in excerpts from act II of Puccini's "Tosca" on the Sullivan show Sunday, Nov. 25. Sullivan estimated the excerpts will run 18 minutes.

Students Protest

VIENNA (AP) — Students and young workers smashed their way into several Communist party district headquarters and destroyed the Soviet war memorial in Schwarzenberg Place Thursday night.

They clashed with steel-helmeted police trying to protect frightened Austrian Reds. A number were reported injured.

Linking arms, the youths marched chanting "Freedom for Hungary" and "Today Hungary, tomorrow us."

Eden Voted Confidence

. . . By 58-Vote Margin

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Eden's forces nipped a revolt in the Conservative party and won a vote of confidence Thursday night on Eden's bold decision sending troops into Egypt.

The government was given an almost normal margin of 58 votes in Commons after a reported pledge to pull out of Egypt when a U.N. police force can take over the Suez Canal.

The Normal Conservative majority in the house is 63 votes.

The vote rejecting the Labor Party move to unseat Eden was 320-262.

Lloyd Given Credit

Reliable sources credited Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd with helping to quash a threat by some Conservatives to turn on Eden for taking the hazardous way.

They said Lloyd categorically assured wavering Conservatives that British and French forces would leave the Suez Canal Zone unconditionally when an international police force moves in.

Eden supporters cheered him when the vote was announced. But Laborites remained defiant in the great debate that has sharply divided Britain.

Police Battle Paris Reds

PARIS (INS) — More than 5,000 brick-tossing Communists fought armed French police Thursday night in Paris.

Preliminary police reports said that about 100 of the Red demonstrators were injured in the rioting.

The Communist rioting followed violent anti-Red outbreaks Wednesday.

Nightstick wielding police charged the demonstrators and bystanders indiscriminately to clear the boulevard as the Communists began to hurl rocks breaking shop windows.

The police drove the crowds into subway entrances. Cafes hurriedly clanked down their steel shutters while concierges locked apartment street doors.

A massive group of steel helmeted police and guards succeeded in maintaining comparative order.

Bulganin and Klementi Voroshilov, Soviet President, is messages made public by the Tass news agency, spoke for friendly relations between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Moscow radio broadcast an election analysis, heard in London, which said the election was a personal victory for Eisenhower but a rejection of Republican party policies.

T. C. Streibert Resigns U.S. Federal Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—Theodore C. Streibert Thursday resigned as director of the United States Information Agency, effective Nov. 15.

And Dr. Martha M. Eliot submitted her resignation as chief of the children's bureau in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, effective Jan. 1.

The White House announced acceptance of both resignations by President Eisenhower.

In an exchange of correspondence made public by the White House Streibert told the President he is leaving government service because of "personal considerations." He wrote:

"Although as you know, I undertook this work originally with a committment for only one year, I have now completed more than three years of service, and my family responsibilities will not permit further continuance."

Clements Unseated

. . . By Kentucky Vote

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Thruston B. Morton unseated Sen. Earle C. Clements, a longtime political power, Thursday and completed a GOP jackpot in Kentucky.

Morton's election to a six-year term means Kentucky, whose voting habits are strictly Democratic, will have two Republican U. S. senators for the second time in history.

John Sherman Cooper, who entered the race only after a nudge from President Eisenhower, wrapped up his victory for the four years remaining in the late Alben W. Barkley's term in early counting Tuesday night. He defeated former Gov. Lawrence W. Wetherby.

Three Prizes

Eisenhower's sweeping endorsement—the first accorded a Republican presidential candidate in Kentucky since 1928—means the GOP plucked all three major prizes in the state and also returned two representatives to the U.S. House.

Unlike the easy sailing enjoyed by Eisenhower and Cooper, Morton and Clements engaged in a suspense - packed ballot counting duel that took a decisive turn for the first time Thursday.

With just 99 of 4,052 precincts unreported, Morton's lead was 4,521 votes on a tally of 493,779 to 489,258.

Morton was leading by wide margins in 55 of the late-counting precincts and Clements was leading by strong to medium margins in 44.

Cooper pushed his bulge to 52,551 votes with a total of 516,477 to 463,926 for Wetherby.

Quick Action

CAIRO (INS) — Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns said Thursday he hoped to have the first ten United Nations observers in Egypt in 48 hours to oversee the cease-fire pending arrival of an armed U.N. "peace task force."

The new commander-in-chief of the U.N. peace force told newsmen soon after his arrival in Cairo that he had asked Israel for permission to send observers from Jerusalem across Israel and the conquered Sinai Peninsula, but "so far no reply" was received.

Sullivan And Met OK TV Scenes For Half Million

NEW YORK (INS)—Ed Sullivan has arranged with the Metropolitan Opera Company — at a price exceeding half a million dollars — to put scenes from five Met operas on television, starting Nov. 25.

Signing the Met and its stars, Sullivan said, is his answer to "the people who wrote me saying they didn't like Elvis Presley and we should get some fine music."

The agreement for more than $100,000 for each Sunday evening performance is the most the hour-long show has ever paid for talent. The normal talent budget is $25,000.

For his half-million-plus Sullivan will get the first regular television appearance of the opera company including such personages as the fiery soprano Maria Meneghinis Callas, conductor Dimitri Mitropoulos and general manager Rudolf Bing.

The first opera telecast will star Madame Callas in excerpts from act II of Puccini's "Tosca" on the Sullivan show Sunday, Nov. 25. Sullivan estimated the excerpts will run 18 minutes.

Students Protest

VIENNA (AP) — Students and young workers smashed their way into several Communist party district headquarters and destroyed the Soviet war memorial in Schwarzenberg Place Thursday night.

They clashed with steel-helmeted police trying to protect frightened Austrian Reds. A number were reported injured.

Linking arms, the youths marched chanting "Freedom for Hungary" and "Today Hungary, tomorrow us."

Eden Voted Confidence

. . . By 58-Vote Margin

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Eden's forces nipped a revolt in the Conservative party and won a vote of confidence Thursday night on Eden's bold decision sending troops into Egypt.

The government was given an almost normal margin of 58 votes in Commons after a reported pledge to pull out of Egypt when a U.N. police force can take over the Suez Canal.

The Normal Conservative majority in the house is 63 votes.

The vote rejecting the Labor Party move to unseat Eden was 320-262.

Lloyd Given Credit

Reliable sources credited Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd with helping to quash a threat by some Conservatives to turn on Eden for taking the hazardous way.

They said Lloyd categorically assured wavering Conservatives that British and French forces would leave the Suez Canal Zone unconditionally when an international police force moves in.

Eden supporters cheered him when the vote was announced. But Laborites remained defiant in the great debate that has sharply divided Britain.

Trigger-Happy

BLIND RIVER, Ont. (AP) — Until this week it was perfectly legal to fire a gun in the streets of this uranium mining center. Now a law prohibiting gunplay in the streets has been passed because one citizen complained hunters were shooting holes in his workshop walls.

Police Battle Paris Reds

PARIS (INS) — More than 5,000 brick-tossing Communists fought armed French police Thursday night in Paris.

Preliminary police reports said that about 100 of the Red demonstrators were injured in the rioting.

The Communist rioting followed violent anti-Red outbreaks Wednesday.

Nightstick wielding police charged the demonstrators and bystanders indiscriminately to clear the boulevard as the Communists began to hurl rocks breaking shop windows.

The police drove the crowds into subway entrances. Cafes hurriedly clanked down their steel shutters while concierges locked apartment street doors.

A massive group of steel helmeted police and guards succeeded in maintaining comparative order.

Ike Congratulated By Red Premier

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikolia Bulganin congratulated President Eisenhower Thursday on his re-election and sent him best wishes "for strength and good health."

Bulganin and Klementi Voroshilov, Soviet President, is messages made public by the Tass news agency, spoke for friendly relations between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Moscow radio broadcast an election analysis, heard in London, which said the election was a personal victory for Eisenhower but a rejection of Republican party policies.

OMAHA (INS) — The University of Nebraska Medical College will close two wards of its hospital in Omaha because of a lack of funds.

Dr. J. P. Tollman, dean of the college, said Thursday the action will eliminate 34 beds.

Dr. Tollman explained that the hospital is operating on a fixed budget voted by the 1955 Legislature while costs and wages, plus the number of patients, have continued to increase.

He estimated that it would cost about 125 thousand dollars to keep the two wards open until next July when additional funds will be available from the Legislature.

Dr Tollman said the wards will be closed as soon as patients are released.

The Morse Story

With the count nearly complete, Oregon's Sen. Wayne Morse had piled up an approximate 80,000-vote lead over former Secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay. Back of that impressive victory is one of the most amazing stories of the Tuesday election.

Slightly more than a year ago we were visiting with Sen. Morse.

He voiced the opinion then that one of the greatest handicaps under which members of Congress labored is the fear of defeat. That was one fear that seemingly never has assailed Sen. Morse. Oregon throughout its history has demonstrated again and again that it is confirmed in its Republican faith. Rarely has it elected a Democratic governor. Generally its congressional delegation has been Republican.

We assume that in due time the story of Morse, who switched party allegiance and as a result found himself fighting for re-election with his back to the wall, will become known. But the magnitude of his victory over a man who had been governor of the state, was widely known, and served as a member of the Eisenhower cabinet returns Morse to Washington with his prestige enhanced.

In shifting party affiliation, Morse sacrificed committee seniority. We trust that the Democratic organization will see to it that seniority is restored to him.

The Price Is Too High

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch estimates, conservatively, that $150 million was spent during the recent election campaign through the several channels of communication to plead the causes of presidential and congressional candidates.

The Post-Dispatch offered no estimate of the certainly quite large sum spent on other forms of campaigning. But the one figure is enough to awaken the American people to the fact that elections have become big business—big enough to become a threat to the best sort of democratic action. The situation becomes even more forbidding when it is recalled that the subcommittee on Privileges and Elections, in almost constant session during the campaign under the direction of Senator Albert Gore, was able to trace only $12,355,400—an indication that there is far too much loose money around with no adequate public machinery to keep watch over it.

Unless the Congress evolves remedies elections can develop into auction blocks with the purpose of truly representative government seriously dimmed. And the more costly campaigning is made the fewer candidates there will be who can afford to make the try. It would be a sad day for America when great numbers of potentially good public servants are priced out of the field.

Fixing Responsibility

The significance of a tentative decision by the City Charter Revision Committee to change the form of Lincoln's government is the group's recognition of the fact that city leadership leaves something to be desired.

The committee saw through its hearings that the present form of government does not easily facilitate the kind of guidance the people want and expect. The day-to-day operations of the city bring no condemnation and the proposed change should not be so interpreted. Nor does the committee decision mean that officers of the city have not done their jobs well in the past.

What the proposal does mean is that leadership now can only be a product of the individual and is not encouraged or helped by the form of government. This is because the administration of the city is the responsibility of the City Council. Rather than a single responsible individual, administration now rests with seven persons. It is not logical to expect that a unified program of planning and development for the future come from such an un-unified administrative setup and the committee has recognized this.

Nearly every member of the committee agreed that they were not too concerned with exactly how it was done or what it was called but they wanted to centralize and unify the administration of city affairs. They wanted someone to fit together the pieces of all city departments and to carefully plan the city's future in line with its growth.

By their action, the committee is seeking to do away in the future with such things as a water crisis, inadequate sewers, undeveloped parks, bad streets and a constantly pinched economy. They hope to accomplish this by placing in one individual, not dividing among many, the responsibility for seeing the city's needs and planning to fulfill them.

There is a long way yet to go and many battles yet to be won but the committee has now started on what shows promise of giving the people a much more satisfactory city government.

Theirs was a bold step calling for vision and wisdom. They took the step with firmness and are for that to be commended.

Another Test

Downtown car drivers have been advised that double parallel parking will be tried this week on the North side of O street between Ninth and Tenth street.

Briefly it is a system of parking cars in pairs at intervals sufficient to permit easy maneuvering which usual head to rear parallel parking does not afford.

Whether the innovation will result in a permanent and extensive change in the city's downtown parking patterns rests on studies that will be conducted during the experiment. But it is by trial that improvements are gained and public co-operation is an essential ingredient. It has been characteristic of Lincoln car drivers that they have shared fully in trials and improvements of the past. There is no reason to believe that they will not be equally accommodating in this latest test.

For Crackdown

The National Safety Council, an agency long devoted to the patient polite approach, mainly conducting its own campaigns, has decided on a firmer course. It has expanded its program to back all movements dealing with parts of the highway safety crusade. Henceforth it will call upon the safety-minded of the nation to go after the reckless and incompetent drivers with a heavy hand—just get them off the road. It will back stricter licensing tests to sustained crackdown in the courts on violators. It may sound harsh but when one totals up the names on the annual highway casualty list one cannot justly criticize the council. Sweet reason hasn't worked.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

It will be good for America, we believe, if Tuesday we saw the end of the tradition of the "Solid South." Most of the talk in that connection has concerned itself with damage to a single, limited region. Granted that the one-party system is unhealthy politically, the results have not been limited to the Deep South. They have been a burden to the Democratic party of the nation.

★

In the Senate, for example, we hope that the leadership of Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas has come to an end. At this distance from Washington, it is difficult if not impossible to give him credit for strengthening the Democratic party, for its stern, unsuccessful challenge Tuesday. The Texan has seemed to feel that his chief responsibility as Democratic floor leader has been to look after the matters of prime concern to Texas and pursue a namby-pamby course of moderation toward the White House. In the struggle between conservatism and liberalism in the closing years of Roosevelt, there may have been some value to the contributions of the Southern conservative but it disappeared when the middle-of-the-road policies of recent years put in an appearance. Then the Southerner, secure in his political future in his own state, was under no pressure to bestir himself nationally. Virginia's Byrd is an excellent example. A man of exceptional ability, it has seemed to us he was capable of exercising infinitely more influence than that developing from the negative role he has played. As a watchdog of the Treasury, insistent in demands that the budget be balanced, Byrd has left an impress upon American life but in no sense has there been a greatness in stature that could have been desired. What he has signified is that he has been against more of the time than for the things which are a part of national life.

Johnsons And The Byrds

★

One of the unmeasured benefits that will appear in due time if the Deep South breaks with tradition will be new blood for congressional committee chairmanships whenever the Democratic party is in control of Congress. It is too much to hope, we suspect, that the old system of seniority be discarded. The limitations of that system best can be illustrated if the Democrats organize the new Congress which will take its seats next January. At a time when foreign policy is of the utmost concern, the chairman of the foreign relations committee in the Senate will be its oldest member, a capable senator, it is true, who despite his age is physically vigorous, but nevertheless a man of advanced years. And in other important committee chairmanships, under seniority and the one-party system which has prevailed in the Deep South there are instances where there is much to be desired.

★

Nebraska was drifting rapidly to the point where it was becoming known in the nation as a one-party state. For the first time in a presidential election in years, columnists and commentators passed us by, and concentrated understandably upon other areas where the results were less certain. Nebraska Democrats can take satisfaction in their showing Tuesday. Although the results in the Third District will not be certain until the mail vote has been counted, it appeared that Larry Brock had defeated Republican incumbent Harrison. That one development shattered the illusion of party invincibility. Brock's campaign was a model of effectiveness. He restricted himself to two issues—issues of paramount importance to the people of his district. He campaigned on the questions of a farm program embracing price supports at 90 per cent of parity, plus public power. In other contests Nebraska Democrats showed greater strength than in other years.

Escape For Nebraska

The unsettled question of Tuesday's election is whether the future will strengthen the practice of independent voting. There has been concern for continuance of the two-party system. Nothing does impairing it, there can be some justification for the belief that the split votes reflected throughout the nation encouraged rather than weakened the two-party system.

Cites Record To Prove Veracity

WASHINGTON — There have been allegations in high places of late that this writer has not been telling the truth. In view of the war that has broken out in the Near East, it might be interesting to review the record of who was telling the truth in regard to a situation which could endanger the peace of the world.

It is true, as recorded in the current "Confessions of an SOB" in the Saturday Evening Post, that there have sometimes been arguments over my veracity.

However, the record of what this column reported to the public and what the administration reported to the public is spelled out in black and white so there can be no mistake about who was telling the truth. Here is the record.

On Aug. 8, this writer reported: "Secretary Dulles arrived in London to find Prime Minister Eden seething over the Suez Canal seizure. He was almost as irate against the United States as against President Nasser . . . the French were equally aroused, possibly more so, and both were resolved to use force to take the canal back from Egypt."

I leave it to the public to decide who was telling the truth.

On Aug. 8, this writer further reported: "Eden gave Dulles about the bluntest bawling out that the head of one nation can give the foreign minister of another. He blamed Dulles for pressuring Britain to get British troops out of the Suez Canal . . . and then building up Nasser's power in a race to see which could do the most for Egypt — the United States or Russia.

"Eden also pointed out that Britain and France had supported the United States when we got into trouble over Korea. In contrast, he said, the United States was now dragging its feet."

DANGER OF WAR

Yet Dulles, returning to the U.S.A., gave no impression that the prime minister of England was irate and bitter. Bitterness of this kind can help lead, and in this case did lead, to war.

On Sept. 1, this column reported: "The American embassy in Paris has cabled Washington that Premier Mollet's government will be overthrown if he backs down in the Suez dispute."

This was a clear warning of the danger of war. I leave it to the American people to decide who was telling the truth.

On Sept. 7, this column reported: "In a personal message to President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Anthony Eden has solemnly warned that Britain and France may be forced to invade Egypt. . ."

No hint of this warning, direct from the top leader of England to the President of the United States, was given to the American public.

On Oct. 10, I reported: "The British and French have been so peeved at John Foster Dulles that for a time they refused to give him any inkling of their plans."

On Oct. 11, President Eisenhower stated just the opposite. He told a press conference there had been no split with England and France over Suez. Neither he nor Secretary Dulles, he said, had been given "any intimation from anyone in British officialdom" that "they were dissatisfied with our stand."

The American public can decide who was telling the truth.

People Consulted Selves Not Issues

WASHINGTON — The general ran against the Democratic party and both are feeling fine, thanks.

The general creamed Adlai Stevenson in a near-record landslide. The Democrats set a record of their own by denying him in that landslide control of the Senate and House.

Just such a divided government has meant stalemate at or near the ideological center during 1955-56 when it has also existed. For all practical purposes, control of congressional machinery will again rest with the conservative coalition of Southern Democrats and Midwest Republicans.

The situation will be somewhat different during the next two years. The fast and dangerous pace of world events will force some far-reaching decisions in foreign policy. It will be difficult for the President still to avoid action in some fields at home, such as farm policy, civil rights, education and health.

Also the Constitution now commands the end of the Eisenhower tenure in 1960. Its end thus in sight, the yeast of ambition will do its fermenting work in senatorial breasts on both sides of the aisle. Any number of presidential campaigns will begin when the gavel falls Jan. 3 next.

☆ ☆ ☆

Liberals appear to have made a net gain of one in the Senate. This comes about through two "sleepers"— John Carroll of Colorado and Frank Church of Idaho, both Democrats. They displaced authentic right-wing Republicans, Senator Eugene Millikin, whose health forced him to retire, and Senator Herman Welker, respectively.

But an equally authentic R.W.R. —Chapman Revercomb — won the Senate seat left vacant in West Virginia by the death of the late liberal Democrat, Harley Kilgore. Only two years remain of Kilgore's term, however. Democrats naturally hope that the party feuding which let Revercomb in will have ended by then so they can reassert their normal West Virginia majorities.

The Eisenhower-Republican score in the Senate is a mixed affair.

He gained two pillars of strength —John Sherman Cooper in Kentucky and Jacob K. Javits in New York. Both are able and articulate. But Revercomb is strictly a minus one in that area and the loss of Senator Duff of Pennsylvania is still another.

☆ ☆ ☆

The President came up very much minus in his efforts to promote Eisenhower Republicanism by getting personal friends and one of his cabinet into the Senate. Former Secretary of Interior Douglas McKay, Governor Arthur Langlie and former Governor Dan Thornton, who ran at his request in Oregon, Washington and Colorado, respectively, were beaten. Only Cooper among the President's personal draftees survived.

It is difficult to see in the 1956 voting any pattern except the absence of pattern. On balance it appears the voter made up his own mind for reasons which seemed good to him without much attention to what he was told were issues. He overwhelmed the object of his romantic attachment, President Eisenhower, with electoral college kisses, but insisted upon dressing in a way the President didn't want and sought hard to change.

BOB CONSIDINE

Stassen Could Have Saved Ike

NEW YORK — Somebody should get to Harold Stassen and find out if President Eisenhower would have won decisively if he had dumped Nixon last August and put his faith in Christian Herter.

Yep, it was a pretty tough squeak for Ike. Followers of the "Dump Nixon" program were pretty jittery until Ike drew out toward a 10,000,000 popular vote and a nearly 400 electoral vote lead shortly after noon Wednesday. Some ran scared even with that much margin view.

☆ ☆ ☆

If Eisenhower isn't the political phenomenon of our time he'll do until one comes along. For example:

Like most West Pointers and Annapolis men, he never voted until well along in years.

His great military breaks and promotions came under Democratic administrations.

Harry S. Truman offered him the 1948 Democratic nomination. As late as 1951 he at least considered running as a Democrat, and pressures to do so were brought to bear on him by such prominent Democratic friends as George E. Allen.

Once nominated and elected as a Republican, he reorganized the party.

Though his life had been devoted to war, he became a symbol of peace with his shutdown of the Korean war, his "Atoms-For-Peace" plan, his performance at the summit conference in Geneva and his recent conduct in the matter of Egypt and Hungary.

He suffered a very serious heart attack just at a time when he had to make plans to run for a second term, if that was his wish.

Recovered and active again, and having regained the confidence of the voter in his ability to handle the job, Eisenhower came down with a rare intestinal disorder in June — and once again his chances of re-election tottered.

His fellow Republicans lost the Senate, House and most governorships. So-o-o-o-.

As this is written, the AAU championship for masterful restraint is still held by Harry S. Truman. It has now been many hours since Eisenhower utterly buried Stevenson under the greatest avalanche shaken loose in U.S. politics since F.D.R. interred Alf Landon 46 states to 2 in 1936.

Mr. Truman had it first, and had it right. He said real loud that this was going to happen. He went to the Chicago convention with the express purpose of stopping the swing toward Adlai. He dangled Harriman in front of the delegates and hoped, it is said, that Stu Symington would be the compromise.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Public Prefers Ike and Demo Party

WASHINGTON — There were only two real surprises in the election and one of them—the size of President Eisenhower's sweep—should have been no surprise at all since it was quite accurately forecast in the polls.

But the fact that the President, despite his extraordinary personal popularity, failed by a considerable margin to carry in a Senate and House of his own party is a surprising phenomenon. It is all the more remarkable considering the lengths to which he went to try to help Republican candidates get a firm grip on his coattails.

The President in the congressional elections of 1954 did the same thing, going further than perhaps any president in history to try to increase the slender Republican majorities that came out of the Eisenhower victory of '52. He failed then as he failed on Tuesday.

This would seem to confirm everything that was said during the campaign about the weakness of the Republican party both in organizational strength and in the esteem of the voters. The Democratic party is still overwhelmingly the majority party, and that fact was only obscured by the magic of Eisenhower, the symbol; the Ikonology, as it was called toward the end of the campaign when thousands chanted "We Like Ike" and every platform and billboard was dominated by a picture of the smiling President.

Audible on the Republican right in the aftermath of the great Eisenhower triumph is a rumble of discontent which is likely to find expression when the new Congress meets. This reflects a feeling that the Republican organization put all its stress on Ike, making him appear as a kind of benevolent constitutional monarch above the sordid battle of politics. That was the role in which he appeared to millions who saw in him a kindly father radiating the assurance that all is well.

Yet, it is patently unfair in view of the President's strenuous efforts in behalf of his party's candidates to blame him for the party's failures. While he followed the line of the "New Republicanism," even in his own tentative fashion going along with his good friend Paul Hoffman in reading Senators Jenner and McCarthy out of the party, he went to bat for Senator Herman Welker in Idaho. Welker's record of opposition to Eisenhower measures in the Senate is only a shade better than that of the Jenner-McCarthy team.

In spite of a "Dear Herman" letter from the President holding out the presidential coattails, Welker was defeated by Frank Church, a newcomer to politics. In Idaho, as in other states, the stress was not so much on Welker's betrayal of the Eisenhower administration on the national and international level as on his failure to serve his own state while in Washington.

The voting in many instances confirmed the separateness of 48 Republican and Democratic parties, each walled off behind state boundaries. The Republicans in their unsuccessful effort to defeat Senator Wayne Morse charged that he had not helped Oregon. They were even charged with doctoring a photograph to try to show that when he spoke in the Senate he spoke to an empty chamber. One reason given for the defeat of Senator James Duff was that he had not given his Pennsylvania constituents enough time and attention.

This emerging pattern of state and regional demand on senators—as well as on representatives—for local service comes at a time when the nation's responsibility before the world is as great as it ever has been in our history. If senators as well as members of the House are to be errand boys, responsible solely to 48 splinter parties, then we are in a bad way.

President Eisenhower showed an embarrassed recognition of this fact when he was urged at a press conference during the campaign to relate the Jenner-McCarthy team to the "New Republicanism." He replied that national direction and control, to the extent of drumming renegades out of the ranks, could not be contemplated under our party system.

WHAT YOUNG PEOPLE THINK

Curfew Idea Rings No Bell

By EUGENE GILBERT
President of the Gilbert Youth Research Co.

An overwhelming majority of the nation's teen-agers are opposed to curfew laws that would make them be home at a certain hour of the night. Instead, they have some pretty definite ideas of their own on when they should report in.

"We don't want to be told by law when we have to be home from a date," was the general reaction our interviewers encountered in a survey of some 90 cities and towns that currently do not have a teen-age curfew.

They felt that on week ends and during vacations, 14-to-15-year-olds should be home by 11:30 from ordinary dates, and by 12:30 at the latest on special occasions. For 16 and 17 year olds they figured a 1:30 o'clock homecoming would be all right for special occasions. Most young people 18 to 21 years old thought they should be permitted to use their own discretion about returning home.

Curfew laws, common in colonial America, have been revived in San Francisco, Philadelphia, Omaha and dozens of other cities in an attempt to break up youth gangs and curb juvenile delinquency.

☆ ☆ ☆

Second Class Citizens?

Some officials credit them with reducing juvenile crime by as much as 25 per cent, but our interviewers quickly learned that curfew rings no bells with the nation's teen-agers.

Our question was: "Do you favor a curfew law for teen-agers in your town?"

No, answered a whooping 79 per cent. Only 16 per cent favored the curfew idea and 5 per cent had not made up their minds.

Seldom have the nation's teen-agers been so close to unanimity on a subject concerning their behavior. Many of the answers showed a degree of indignation, even belligerency, not noted in previous surveys made by our organization. Several compared curfew to treating teen-agers like "citizens of an occupied enemy country." Others delivered scorching salvoes against advocates of curfew laws and argued that they undermine a youngster's self respect and confidence in himself.

In general, teen-agers opposed to curfew regarded it as unwarranted government infringement on their freedom and on the rights and duties of their parents.

Think It's Parents Problems

"It's up to the individual parents and their children to decide when the boy or girl should arrive home," said a 17-year-old boy. "Some kids I know are mature enough to make their own decisions on when they ought to be home, and others have to be told by their folks. And what's wrong with that? Every person is different from everyone else."

But the general unpopularity of the curfew idea does not mean that most teenagers want to become night owls.

Our survey showed that on the whole young people want to be regulated by their parents in matters of dating privileges. Many, in fact, complained that their parents did not take sufficient interest in the social life of their offspring.

"Parents these days don't seem to care where or with whom their kids are spending their time," complained a Nevada girl. "There is going to be a brand new crop of delinquents and adult neurotics if they continue acting so uninterested in their teen-aged children."

The survey showed that 53 per cent of the high school boys and girls were allowed to date on week nights. Of these, only one out of four had to be home at a specific time, although most were put on their honor to exercise common sense.

Week Night Dating New

Week night dating is a post war development among the teen-aged set. A survey made 12 years ago showed that only 30 per cent were allowed to go out on school nights, and of these, 75 per cent had a designated hour when they had to be home.

Housing Ordinance

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: A new committee has been formed. Its membership includes people who have paid taxes in Lincoln 25 to 50 years. It includes young people who dream of a little house all their own, but are afraid to buy or build now because of the uncertainties of the housing ordinance. It includes old people living on $65 per month, and heads of families whose incomes won't stretch over the requirements of the proposed ordinance. The name of this committee is Citizens' Committee For Changing The Housing Ordinance.

The most important changes this committee asks are:

(1) That every part of the ordinance except Arts. 7 and 9 be made non-retroactive—not applying to houses already built.

(2) That limitations be placed on emergency powers given to the mayor, on official inspection, and on number of officers hired to enforce the ordinance and salaries paid to them.

(3) That the 50 per cent clause be deleted.

(4) That restrictions on floor area per person in new houses be relaxed.

(5) That the unreasonable penalties of Art. 14 be relaxed.

(6) That no dwelling be condemned and closed until tenants are offered better places to live.

(7) That suitable, low-cost housing be provided for persons displaced by urban rebuilding.

We hope to hear no more about "This ordinance is not intended to hurt anybody." It has already hurt us, plenty. We don't want to be assured of sympathetic enforcement. The people who make the promises are not the people who will enforce the law. Besides, we don't need sympathy—we need justice. We are cold (below freezing) to the suggestion that "Any parts of the ordinance found to be unworkable can be changed later." No parts will be found unworkable; they will work far too well. If we can't get them changed now, before the third reading and enactment into law, we are sunk.

And we have no time for the admonition that "We should trust our government." We ask that these changes and safeguards be written into a revised draft of the ordinance in English so plain that we can understand them and the lawyers can't misunderstand them.

The name of the committee is awkward. As soon as the ordinance is changed to meet our approval, we intend to change our name to Citizen's Committee For The Support Of Our City Government. Right now we are waiting, holding our breath.

Henceforth it will call upon the safety-minded of the nation to go after the reckless and incompetent drivers with a heavy hand—just get them off the road. It will back stricter licensing tests to sustained crackdown in the courts on violators. It may sound harsh but when one totals up the names on the annual highway casualty list one cannot justly criticize the council. Sweet reason hasn't worked.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

It will be good for America, we believe, if Tuesday we saw the end of the tradition of the "Solid South." Most of the talk in that connection has concerned itself with damage to a single, limited region. Granted that the one-party system is unhealthy politically, the results have not been limited to the Deep South. They have been a burden to the Democratic party of the nation.

★

In the Senate, for example, we hope that the leadership of Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas has come to an end. At this distance from Washington, it is difficult if not impossible to give him credit for strengthening the Democratic party, for its stern, unsuccessful challenge Tuesday. The Texan has seemed to feel that his chief responsibility as Democratic floor leader has been to look after the matters of prime concern to Texas and pursue a namby-pamby course of moderation toward the White House. In the struggle between conservatism and liberalism in the closing years of Roosevelt, there may have been some value to the contributions of the Southern conservative but it disappeared when the middle-of-the-road policies of recent years put in an appearance. Then the Southerner, secure in his political future in his own state, was under no pressure to bestir himself nationally. Virginia's Byrd is an excellent example. A man of exceptional ability, it has seemed to us he was capable of exercising infinitely more influence than that developing from the negative role he has played. As a watchdog of the Treasury, insistent in demands that the budget be balanced, Byrd has left an impress upon American life but in no sense has there been a greatness in stature that could have been desired. What he has signified is that he has been against more of the time than for the things which are a part of national life.

★

One of the unmeasured benefits that will appear in due time if the Deep South breaks with tradition will be new blood for congressional committee chairmanships whenever the Democratic party is in control of Congress. It is too much to hope, we suspect, that the old system of seniority be discarded. The limitations of that system best can be illustrated if the Democrats organize the new Congress which will take its seats next January. At a time when foreign policy is of the utmost concern, the chairman of the foreign relations committee in the Senate will be its oldest member, a capable senator, it is true, who despite his age is physically vigorous, but nevertheless a man of advanced years. And in other important committee chairmanships, under seniority and the one-party system which has prevailed in the Deep South there are instances where there is much to be desired.

★

Nebraska was drifting rapidly to the point where it was becoming known in the nation as a one-party state. For the first time in a presidential election in years, columnists and commentators passed us by, and concentrated understandably upon other areas where the results were less certain. Nebraska Democrats can take satisfaction in their showing Tuesday. Although the results in the Third District will not be certain until the mail vote has been counted, it appeared that Larry Brock had defeated Republican incumbent Harrison. That one development shattered the illusion of party invincibility. Brock's campaign was a model of effectiveness. He restricted himself to two issues—issues of paramount importance to the people of his district. He campaigned on the questions of a farm program embracing price supports at 90 per cent of parity, plus public power. In other contests Nebraska Democrats showed greater strength than in other years.

The unsettled question of Tuesday's election is whether the future will strengthen the practice of independent voting. There has been concern for continuance of the two-party system. Rather than impairing it, there can be some justification for the belief that the split votes reflected throughout the nation encouraged rather than weakened the two-party system.

Cites Record To Prove Veracity

WASHINGTON — There have been allegations in high places of late that this writer has not been telling the truth. In view of the war that has broken out in the Near East, it might be interesting to review the record of who was telling the truth in regard to a situation which could endanger the peace of the world.

It is true, as recorded in the current "Confessions of an SOB" in the Saturday Evening Post, that there have sometimes been arguments over my veracity.

However, the record of what this column reported to the public and what the administration reported to the public is spelled out in black and white so there can be no mistake about who was telling the truth. Here is the record.

On Aug. 8, this writer reported: "Secretary Dulles arrived in London to find Prime Minister Eden seething over the Suez Canal seizure. He was almost as irate against the United States as against President Nasser . . . the French were equally aroused, possibly more so, and both were resolved to use force to take the canal back from Egypt."

I leave it to the public to decide who was telling the truth.

On Aug. 8, this writer further reported: "Eden gave Dulles about the bluntest bawling out that the head of one nation can give the foreign minister of another. He blamed Dulles for pressuring Britain to get British troops out of the Suez Canal . . . and then building up Nasser's power in a race to see which could do the most for Egypt — the United States or Russia.

"Eden also pointed out that Britain and France had supported the United States when we got into trouble over Korea. In contrast, he said, the United States was now dragging its feet."

☆ ☆ ☆

DANGER OF WAR

Yet Dulles, returning to the U.S.A., gave no impression that the prime minister of England was irate and bitter. Bitterness of this kind can help lead, and in this case did lead, to war.

On Sept. 1, this column reported: "The American embassy in Paris has cabled Washington that Premier Mollet's government will be overthrown if he backs down in the Suez dispute."

This was a clear warning of the danger of war. I leave it to the American people to decide who was telling the truth.

On Sept. 7, this column reported: "In a personal message to President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Anthony Eden has solemnly warned that Britain and France may be forced to invade Egypt. . ."

No hint of this warning, direct from the top leader of England to the President of the United States, was given to the American public.

On Oct. 10, I reported: "The British and French have been so peeved at John Foster Dulles that for a time they refused to give him any inkling of their plans."

On Oct. 11, President Eisenhower stated just the opposite. He told a press conference there had been no split with England and France over Suez. Neither he nor Secretary Dulles, he said, had been given "any intimation from anyone in British officialdom" that "they were dissatisfied with our stand."

The American public can decide who was telling the truth.

People Consulted Selves Not Issues

WASHINGTON — The general ran against the Democratic party and both are feeling fine, thanks.

The general creamed Adlai Stevenson in a near-record landslide. The Democrats set a record of their own by denying him in that landslide control of the Senate and House.

Just such a divided government has meant stalemate at or near the ideological center during 1955-56 when it has also existed. For all practical purposes, control of congressional machinery will again rest with the conservative coalition of Southern Democrats and Midwest Republicans.

The situation will be somewhat different during the next two years. The fast and dangerous pace of world events will force some far-reaching decisions in foreign policy. It will be difficult for the President still to avoid action in some fields at home, such as farm policy, civil rights, education and health.

Also the Constitution now commands the end of the Eisenhower tenure in 1960. Its end thus in sight, the yeast of ambition will do its fermenting work in senatorial breasts on both sides of the aisle. Any number of presidential campaigns will begin when the gavel falls Jan. 3 next.

☆ ☆ ☆

Liberals appear to have made a net gain of one in the Senate.

This comes about through two "sleepers"— John Carroll of Colorado and Frank Church of Idaho, both Democrats. They displaced authentic right-wing Republicans, Senator Eugene Millikin, whose health forced him to retire, and Senator Herman Welker, respectively.

But an equally authentic R.W.R. —Chapman Revercomb — won the Senate seat left vacant in West Virginia by the death of the late liberal Democrat, Harley Kilgore. Only two years remain of Kilgore's term, however. Democrats naturally hope that the party feuding which let Revercomb in will have ended by then so they can reassert their normal West Virginia majorities.

The Eisenhower-Republican score in the Senate is a mixed affair.

He gained two pillars of strength —John Sherman Cooper in Kentucky and Jacob K. Javits in New York. Both are able and articulate. But Revercomb is strictly a minus one in that area and the loss of Senator Duff of Pennsylvania is still another.

☆ ☆ ☆

The President came up very much minus in his efforts to promote Eisenhower Republicanism by getting personal friends and one of his cabinet into the Senate. Former Secretary of Interior Douglas McKay, Governor Arthur Langlie and former Governor Dan Thornton, who ran at his request in Oregon, Washington and Colorado, respectively, were beaten. Only Cooper among the President's personal draftees survived.

It is difficult to see in the 1956 voting any pattern except the absence of pattern. On balance it appears the voter made up his own mind for reasons which seemed good to him without much attention to what he was told were issues. He overwhelmed the object of his romantic attachment, President Eisenhower, with electoral college kisses, but insisted upon dressing in a way the President didn't want and sought hard to change.

BOB CONSIDINE

Stassen Could Have Saved Ike

NEW YORK — Somebody should get to Harold Stassen and find out if President Eisenhower would have won decisively if he had dumped Nixon last August and put his faith in Christian Herter.

Yep, it was a pretty tough squeak for Ike. Followers of the "Dump Nixon" program were pretty jittery until Ike drew out toward a 10,000,000 popular vote and a nearly 400 electoral vote lead shortly after noon Wednesday. Some ran scared even with that much margin view.

☆ ☆ ☆

If Eisenhower isn't the political phenomenon of our time he'll do until one comes along. For example:

Like most West Pointers and Annapolis men, he never voted until well along in years.

His great military breaks and promotions came under Democratic administrations.

Harry S. Truman offered him the 1948 Democratic nomination. As late as 1951 he at least considered running as a Democrat, and pressures to do so were brought to bear on him by such prominent Democratic friends as George E. Allen.

Once nominated and elected as a Republican, he reorganized the party.

Though his life had been devoted to war, he became a symbol of peace with his shutdown of the Korean war, his "Atoms-For-Peace" plan, his performance at the summit conference in Geneva and his recent conduct in the matter of Egypt and Hungary.

He suffered a very serious heart attack just at a time when he had to make plans to run for a second term, if that was his wish.

Recovered and active again, and having regained the confidence of the voter in his ability to handle the job, Eisenhower came down with a rare intestinal disorder in June — and once again his chances of re-election tottered.

His fellow Republicans lost the Senate, House and most governorships. So-o-o-o-.

As this is written, the AAU championship for masterful restraint is still held by Harry S. Truman. It has now been many hours since Eisenhower utterly buried Stevenson under the greatest avalanche shaken loose in U.S. politics since F.D.R. interred Alf Landon 46 states to 2 in 1936.

Mr. Truman had it first, and had it right. He said real loud that this was going to happen. He went to the Chicago convention with the express purpose of stopping the swing toward Adlai. He dangled Harriman in front of the delegates and hoped, it is said, that Stu Symington would be the compromise.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Public Prefers Ike and Demo Party

WASHINGTON — There were only two real surprises in the election and one of them—the size of President Eisenhower's sweep—should have been no surprise at all since it was quite accurately forecast in the polls.

But the fact that the President, despite his extraordinary personal popularity, failed by a considerable margin to carry in a Senate and House of his own party is a surprising phenomenon. It is all the more remarkable considering the lengths to which he went to try to help Republican candidates get a firm grip on his coattails.

The President in the congressional elections of 1954 did the same thing, going further than perhaps any president in history to try to increase the slender Republican majorities that came out of the Eisenhower victory of '52. He failed then as he failed on Tuesday.

This would seem to confirm everything that was said during the campaign about the weakness of the Republican party both in organizational strength and in the esteem of the voters. The Democratic party is still overwhelmingly the majority party, and that fact was only obscured by the magic of Eisenhower, the symbol; the Ikonology, as it was called toward the end of the campaign when thousands chanted "We Like Ike" and every platform and billboard was dominated by a picture of the smiling President.

Audible on the Republican right in the aftermath of the great Eisenhower triumph is a rumble of discontent which is likely to find expression when the new Congress meets. This reflects a feeling that the Republican organization put all its stress on Ike, making him appear as a kind of benevolent constitutional monarch above the sordid battle of politics. That was the role in which he appeared to millions who saw in him a kindly father radiating the assurance that all is well.

Yet, it is patently unfair in view of the President's strenuous efforts in behalf of his party's candidates to blame him for the party's failures. While he followed the line of the "New Republicanism," even in his own tentative fashion going along with his good friend Paul Hoffman in reading Senators Jenner and McCarthy out of the party, he went to bat for Senator Herman Welker in Idaho. Welker's record of opposition to Eisenhower measures in the Senate is only a shade better than that of the Jenner-McCarthy team.

In spite of a "Dear Herman" letter from the President holding out the presidential coattails, Welker was defeated by Frank Church, a newcomer to politics. In Idaho, as in other states, the stress was not so much on Welker's betrayal of the Eisenhower administration on the national and international level as on his failure to serve his own state while in Washington.

The voting in many instances confirmed the separateness of 48 Republican and Democratic parties, each walled off behind state boundaries. The Republicans in their unsuccessful effort to defeat Senator Wayne Morse charged that he had not helped Oregon. They were even charged with doctoring a photograph to try to show that when he spoke in the Senate he spoke to an empty chamber. One reason given for the defeat of Senator James Duff was that he had not given his Pennsylvania constituents enough time and attention.

This emerging pattern of state and regional demand on senators—as well as on representatives—for local service comes at a time when the nation's responsibility before the world is as great as it ever has been in our history. If senators as well as members of the House are to be errand boys, responsible solely to 48 splinter parties, then we are in a bad way.

President Eisenhower showed an embarrassed recognition of this fact when he was urged at a press conference during the campaign to relate the Jenner-McCarthy team to the "New Republicanism." He replied that national direction and control, to the extent of drumming renegades out of the ranks, could not be contemplated under our party system.

WHAT YOUNG PEOPLE THINK

Curfew Idea Rings No Bell

By EUGENE GILBERT
President of the Gilbert Youth Research Co.

An overwhelming majority of the nation's teen-agers are opposed to curfew laws that would make them be home at a certain hour of the night. Instead, they have some pretty definite ideas of their own on when they should report in.

"We don't want to be told by law when we have to be home from a date," was the general reaction our interviewers encountered in a survey of some 90 cities and towns that currently do not have a teen-age curfew.

They felt that on week ends and during vacations, 14-to-15-year-olds should be home by 11:30 from ordinary dates, and by 12:30 at the latest on special occasions. For 16 and 17 year olds they figured a 1:30 o'clock homecoming would be all right for special occasions. Most young people 18 to 21 years old thought they should be permitted to use their own discretion about returning home.

Curfew laws, common in colonial America, have been revived in San Francisco, Philadelphia, Omaha and dozens of other cities in an attempt to break up youth gangs and curb juvenile delinquency.

☆ ☆ ☆

Second Class Citizens?

Some officials credit them with reducing juvenile crime by as much as 25 per cent, but our interviewers quickly learned that curfew rings no bells with the nation's teen-agers.

Our question was: "Do you favor a curfew law for teen-agers in your town?"

No, answered a whooping 79 per cent. Only 16 per cent favored the curfew idea and 5 per cent had not made up their minds.

Seldom have the nation's teen-agers been so close to unanimity on a subject concerning their behavior. Many of the answers showed a degree of indignation, even belligerency, not noted in previous surveys made by our organization. Several compared curfew to treating teen-agers like "citizens of an occupied enemy country." Others delivered scorching salvoes against advocates of curfew laws and argued that they undermine a youngster's self respect and confidence in himself.

In general, teen-agers opposed to curfew regarded it as unwarranted government infringement on their freedom and on the rights and duties of their parents.

Think It's Parents Problems

"It's up to the individual parents and their children to decide when the boy or girl should arrive home," said a 17-year-old boy. "Some kids I know are mature enough to make their own decisions on when they ought to be home, and others have to be told by their folks. And what's wrong with that? Every person is different from everyone else."

But the general unpopularity of the curfew idea does not mean that most teenagers want to become night owls.

Our survey showed that on the whole young people want to be regulated by their parents in matters of dating privileges. Many, in fact, complained that their parents did not take sufficient interest in the social life of their offspring.

"Parents these days don't seem to care where or with whom their kids are spending their time," complained a Nevada girl. "There is going to be a brand new crop of delinquents and adult neurotics if they continue acting so uninterested in their teen-aged children."

The survey showed that 53 per cent of the high school boys and girls were allowed to date on week nights. Of these, only one out of four had to be home at a specific time, although most were put on their honor to exercise common sense.

Week Night Dating New

Week night dating is a post war development among the teen-aged set. A survey made 12 years ago showed that only 30 per cent were allowed to go out on school nights, and of these, 75 per cent had a designated hour when they had to be home.

Housing Ordinance

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: A new committee has been formed. Its membership includes people who have paid taxes in Lincoln 25 to 50 years. It includes young people who dream of a little house all their own, but are afraid to buy or build now because of the uncertainties of the housing ordinance. It includes old people living on $65 per month, and heads of families whose incomes won't stretch over the requirements of the proposed ordinance. The name of this committee is Citizens' Committee For Changing The Housing Ordinance.

The most important changes this committee asks are:

(1) That every part of the ordinance except Arts. 7 and 9 be made non-retroactive—not applying to houses already built.

(2) That limitations be placed on emergency powers given to the mayor, on official inspection, and on number of officers hired to enforce the ordinance and salaries paid to them.

(3) That the 50 per cent clause be deleted.

(4) That restrictions on floor area per person in new houses be relaxed.

(5) That the unreasonable penalties of Art. 14 be relaxed.

(6) That no dwelling be condemned and closed until tenants are offered better places to live.

(7) That suitable, low-cost housing be provided for persons displaced by urban rebuilding.

We hope to hear no more about "This ordinance is not intended to hurt anybody." It has already hurt us, plenty. We don't want to be assured of sympathetic enforcement. The people who make the promises are not the people who will enforce the law. Besides, we don't need sympathy—we need justice. We are cold (below freezing) to the suggestion that "Any parts of the ordinance found to be unworkable can be changed later." No parts will be found unworkable; they will work far too well. If we can't get them changed now, before the third reading and enactment into law, we are sunk.

And we have no time for the admonition that "We should trust our government." We ask that these changes and safeguards be written into a revised draft of the ordinance in English so plain that we can understand them and the lawyers can't misunderstand them.

The name of the committee is awkward. As soon as the ordinance is changed to meet our approval, we intend to change our name to Citizen's Committee For The Support Of Our City Government. Right now we are waiting, holding our breath.

Steele Citian, Convicted Of Arson, Wins Parole

By ROY CAMPBELL
Star Staff Writer

The state Board of Pardons and Paroles Thursday granted a parole to a Reformatory inmate. Paul S. Clark, convicted of arson in Steele City. He was sentenced for setting fire to his own grain elevator March 4, 1955, due to a corn shortage and funds he couldn't pay back to a friend.

The board Thursday also granted paroles to three Pen inmates, awarded a commutation to an inmate of the Women's Reformatory, and granted paroles to seven Men's Reformatory inmates.

One inmate at the Penitentiary, James C. Taylor, 36, of Hominy, Okla., had his life sentence commuted to 35 years. He was convicted on a second degree murder charge in Omaha, started his sentence in August, 1946, and has served 10 years.

The board denied a parole to a Penitentiary inmate from Lincoln who was involved in 15 institution infractions — including writing love letters to other inmates.

The parole denied was to Donald Brophy, 31, of Lincoln, who is serving 20 years with two additional concurrent sentences of five years. He pleaded guilty to robbery, burglary, and escape from the Lancaster County Jail on Dec. 9, 1946. He was jailed on default of being able to furnish bond for trial on three felony complaints.

Noted as the leader of the "Brophy" gang in Lincoln, Brophy was involved in two armed robberies and the burglary of a Lincoln filling station.

Institution infractions against him included inciting a riot and attempted escape from the Pen in 1948, according to the record. He was also involved in the knifing of two inmates who refused to go along with the escape plot, officials said.

He also was penalized when caught writing love letters to other inmates.

The Board took the following action:

Penitentiary

Johnnie Bell, 18, Omaha, serving 4 years from Douglas County for assault to do great bodily harm, sentenced 1-20-55, paroled.
Richard Kerns, 27, Omaha, robbery Douglas County, 7 years, 4-7-55, paroled, release next March.
Kenneth McMahon, 25, Central City, forgery Merrick County, 5 years, 2-23-54, paroled.

Reformatory (Men's Cases (All Granted)

Paul S. Clark, 34, Steel City, 2nd degree arson, Jefferson County, 4-6 years, 1-23-55, parole to begin on release next March.
David Nollett, 24, Kearney, non support, Buffalo County, 1-2 years, 12-11-55.
James C. Leigh, 21, Michigan, robbery Cheyenne County, 1-4 years, 5-20-51.
James C. Poppino, 21, Omaha, burglary Douglas County, 2-4 years, 1-1-55.
Lawrence Lodes, 19, Clarkson, no-account checks Dodge County, 1-3 years, 11-9-55.
Vernon Yocum, 24, Creighton, break and enter, Knox County, 1-2 years, 12-19-55.
Herbert Sheldon, 24, Lincoln, burglary Lancaster County, 1-3 years, 12-29-55.

Women's Reformatory

JoAnn T. Grazio, 23, New York City, N.Y., uttering forged instrument Douglas County, 1-3 years, 6-7-55.

Mail Vote Could Change One Race

OMAHA (AP)—A count of some 4,000 absentee ballots in Douglas County will get under way Friday and at least one county-level race could be affected.

Democrat Frank J. Welsh led Douglas County Board Chairman Leonard Bergman, Republican, by only 226 votes on the basis of complete, unofficial returns from the county's 265 polling places.

Refugees Arrive

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) — Two hundred Hungarian refugees, the first of 2,000 to be given permanent asylum in Switzerland, arrived in a special train from Vienna.

FIRST WOMAN IN TWO YEARS GETS PAROLE

The first inmate of the Women's Reformatory at York in two years to appear before the Board of Pardons and Paroles was given a commutation Thursday pending a detainer by Colorado.

The inmate, JoAnn T. Grazio, 23, of New York City, N.Y., had drawn up a forged check in Douglas County. She was serving a 1-3 year term which started in June, 1955.

The fact that few women from the Women's Reformatory ever appear before the Board drew comment from Gov. Victor Anderson. The governor told the Reformatory superintendent, Mrs. Hattie Bowley, there is "no preparation for parole...and very few requests come from your institution."

The governor suggested that the possibility of parole would give the inmates a goal to work for, and it might help with the other inmates. If none ever appear for parole, he said, it breaks down that goal.

Mrs. Bowley said she would be happy to recommend someone deserving a parole and explained, "I feel that I do do that, I feel that if we don't think they'll make a parole it is unfair to recommend them for a parole."

NLRB Examiner Upholds Several Charges, Drops Others In Lincoln Concrete Strike

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The mixed ruling of the National Labor Relations Board examiner was seen Thursday as having "no immediate actual effect" on the 141-day-old concrete haulers' strike against two Lincoln concrete firms.

NLRB Examiner C. W. Whittemore upheld some charges that the AFL-CIO Teamsters Local 659 violated the National Labor Relations Act, but dismissed others.

Ready-Mixed Concrete Co. and Reimers-Kaufman Concrete Products Co. brought the case before the NLRB.

NLRB Decision

The NLRB will make the final decision on the examiner's recommendations.

The complaining firms charged that the union by "picketing and other conduct" encouraged employes of many contractors to refuse to use or handle materials of Ready-Mixed and Reimers-Kaufman.

The examiner recommended that the union be ordered to cease any attempts to induce employes of any other employer from handling materials of Reimers-Kaufman and Ready-Mixed.

On another charge by the complaining firms, the examiner recommended a ban on attempts to force the two companies to recognize or bargain with the union unless it is certified as a representative of their employes.

However, the examiner said the evidence failed to establish the companies' charge that the act was violated by alleged threats of union representatives against company employes.

David Wemberg, Omaha attorney for the striking union, hailed the examiner's dismissal of the intimidation allegations as "a victory."

Anticipated

Weinberg said the union anticipated the examiner's ruling on "roving situs picketing" and "noncertification."

"It merely follows the position long taken by the NLRB," he said.

Weinberg said the union has never denied that striking employes followed concrete trucks and picketed job sites while deliveries were being made.

Not Per Se

"But we do contend," he explained, "that these are not violations per se of the Act as held by the NLRB."

The attorney said the union's case relies on recent decisions of a U.S. District Court in the District of Columbia and the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals that were contrary to the NLRB's holdings on this type of picketing.

Meanwhile, a NLRB petition for a temporary injunction against alleged secondary boycotts is pending before U.S. District Judge John W. Delehant at Lincoln for decision.

'Moot'

Weinberg said any temporary injunction decision could become "moot" if preceded by a NLRB decision upholding the examiner's recommendation.

This action would shift the legal battle into the U.S. Court of Appeals, Weinberg explained. The NLRB would have to seek a permanent injunction there because any temporary injunction would be dissolved in its effect by a NLRB order, he said.

Management spokesman Eugene Tallman said the companies would have no comment until they knew more about the NLRB examiner's ruling.

Steele Citian, Convicted Of Arson, Wins Parole

By ROY CAMPBELL
Star Staff Writer

The state Board of Pardons and Paroles Thursday granted a parole to a Reformatory inmate, Paul S. Clark, convicted of arson in Steele City. He was sentenced for setting fire to his own grain elevator March 4, 1955, due to a corn shortage and funds he couldn't pay back to a friend.

The board Thursday also granted paroles to three Pen inmates, awarded a commutation to an inmate of the Women's Reformatory, and granted paroles to seven Men's Reformatory inmates.

One inmate at the Penitentiary, James C. Taylor, 36, of Hominy, Okla., had his life sentence commuted to 35 years. He was convicted on a second degree murder charge in Omaha, started his sentence in August, 1946, and has served 10 years.

The board denied a parole to a Penitentiary inmate from Lincoln who was involved in 15 institution infractions — including writing love letters to other inmates.

The parole denied was to Donald Brophy, 31, of Lincoln, who is serving 20 years with two additional concurrent sentences of five years. He pleaded guilty to robbery, burglary, and escape from the Lancaster County Jail on Dec. 9, 1946. He was jailed on default of being able to furnish bond for trial on three felony complaints.

Noted as the leader of the "Brophy" gang in Lincoln, Brophy was involved in two armed robberies and the burglary of a Lincoln filling station.

Institution infractions against him included inciting a riot and attempted escape from the Pen in 1948, according to the record. He was also involved in the knifing of two inmates who refused to go along with the escape plot, officials said.

He also was penalized when caught writing love letters to other inmates.

The Board took the following action:

Penitentiary

Johnnie Bell, 48, Omaha, serving 4 years from Douglas County for assault to do great bodily harm; sentenced 1-20-55; paroled.

Richard Kerns, 27, Omaha; robbery Douglas County; 7 years; 4-7-55; paroled, release next March.

Kenneth McMahon, 25, Central City; forgery Merrick County; 5 years; 2-23-54; paroled.

Reformatory (Men's) Cases (All Granted)

Paul S. Clark, 54, Steel City; 2nd degree arson, Jefferson County; 4-6 years; 3-21-55; parole to begin on release next March.

David Nollett, 25, Kearney; non-support; Buffalo County; 1-2 years; 12-31-55.

James C. Leigh, 21, Michigan; robbery Cheyenne County; 3-4 years; 5-26-54.

James C. Poppino, 21, Omaha; burglary Douglas County; 2-4 years; 3-1-55.

Lawrence Lodes, 43, Clarkson; no-account checks Dodge County; 1-3 years; 11-9-55.

Vernon Yocum, 24, Creighton; break and enter, Knox County; 1-2 years; 12-19-55.

Herbert Sheldon, 24, Lincoln; burglary Lancaster County; 1-3 years; 12-29-55.

Women's Reformatory

JoAnn T. Grazio, 23, New York City, N.Y., uttering forged instrument Douglas County; 1-3 years; 6-7-55.

Mail Vote Could Change One Race

OMAHA (AP)—A count of some 4,000 absentee ballots in Douglas County will get under way Friday and at least one county-level race could be affected.

Democrat Frank J. Welsh led Douglas County Board Chairman Leonard Bergman, Republican, by only 226 votes on the basis of complete, unofficial returns from the county's 265 polling places.

Refugees Arrive

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) — Two hundred Hungarian refugees, the first of 2,000 to be given permanent asylum in Switzerland, arrived in a special train from Vienna.

FIRST WOMAN IN TWO YEARS GETS PAROLE

The first inmate of the Women's Reformatory at York in two years to appear before the Board of Pardons and Paroles was given a commutation Thursday pending a detainer by Colorado.

The inmate, JoAnn T. Grazio, 23, of New York City, N.Y., had drawn up a forged check in Douglas County. She was serving a 1-3 year term which started in June, 1955.

The fact that few women from the Women's Reformatory ever appear before the Board drew comment from Gov. Victor Anderson. The governor told the Reformatory superintendent, Mrs. Hattie Bowley, there is "no preparation for parole. . .and very few requests come from your institution."

The governor suggested that the possibility of parole would give the inmates a goal to work for, and it might help with the other inmates. If none ever appear for parole, he said, it breaks down that goal.

Mrs. Bowley said she would be happy to recommend someone deserving a parole and explained, "I feel that I do do that, I feel that if we don't think they'll make a parole it is unfair to recommend them for a parole."

NLRB Examiner Upholds Several Charges, Drops Others In Lincoln Concrete Strike

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The mixed ruling of the National Labor Relations Board examiner was seen Thursday as having "no immediate actual effect" on the 141-day-old concrete haulers' strike against two Lincoln concrete firms.

NLRB Examiner C. W. Whittemore upheld some charges that the AFL-CIO Teamsters Local 659 violated the National Labor Relations Act, but dismissed others.

Ready-Mixed Concrete Co. and Reimers-Kaufman Concrete Products Co. brought the case before the NLRB.

NLRB Decision

The NLRB will make the final decision on the examiner's recommendations.

The complaining firms charged that the union by "picketing and other conduct" encouraged employes of many contractors to refuse to use or handle materials of Ready-Mixed and Reimers-Kaufman.

The examiner recommended that the union be ordered to cease any attempts to induce employes of any other employer from handling materials of Reimers-Kaufman and Ready-Mixed.

On another charge by the complaining firms, the examiner recommended a ban on attempts to force the two companies to recognize or bargain with the union unless it is certified as a representative of their employes.

However, the examiner said the evidence failed to establish the companies' charge that the act was violated by alleged threats of union representatives against company employes.

David Weinberg, Omaha attorney for the striking union, hailed the examiner's dismissal of the intimidation allegations as "a victory."

Anticipated

Weinberg said the union anticipated the examiner's ruling on "roving situs picketing" and "noncertification."

"It merely follows the position long taken by the NLRB," he said.

Weinberg said the union has never denied that striking employes followed concrete trucks and picketed job sites while deliveries were being made.

Not Per Se

"But we do contend," he explained, "that these are not violations per se of the Act as held by the NLRB."

The attorney said the union's case relies on recent decisions of a U.S. District Court in the District of Columbia and the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals that were contrary to the NLRB's holdings on this type of picketing.

Meanwhile, a NLRB petition for a temporary injunction against alleged secondary boycotts is pending before U.S. District Judge John W. Delehant at Lincoln for decision.

'Moot'

Weinberg said any temporary injunction decision could become "moot" if preceded by a NLRB decision upholding the examiner's recommendation.

This action would shift the legal battle into the U.S. Court of Appeals, Weinberg explained. The NLRB would have to seek a permanent injunction there because any temporary injunction would be dissolved in its effect by a NLRB order, he said.

Management spokesman Eugene Tallman said the companies would have no comment until they knew more about the NLRB examiner's ruling.

Adlai Aides Doubt He'll Seek Nomination A Third Time In 1960

WASHINGTON (INS) — Close associates of Adlai E. Stevenson said Thursday that they doubt he will seek the Democratic nomination for president a third time in 1960.

But they admitted that their opinion is pure conjecture, and that Stevenson himself does not today know what his future role in American politics will be.

In the immediate aftermath of the Democratic nominee's stunning defeat Tuesday at the hands of President Eisenhower, however, Stevenson has arrived at one firm conclusion. He has made it clear to his closest friends that he intends to remain a leader of the Democratic party, and to be its chief spokesman in criticizing the Eisenhower administration for what he or the party consider mistakes in foreign or domestic policies.

The twice-defeated Democratic nominee is known to feel deeply that Mr. Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles have committed a series of "fatal blunders" in the handling of foreign policy over the past four years.

3 Objectives

Stevenson now has three major objectives which he will seek to drive home to the nation in his position as leader of the minority party. These are:

1. The vital necessity of mending the present breach in the Western alliance of the U.S., Britain and France.

2. The need — which he believes is urgent — for steps to halt the world race for more powerful and deadlier hydrogen bombs.

3. The need for a new approach to U.S. defense requirements which would either replace the present draft system with a more efficient and economical plan of raising manpower, or would make the Selective Service System more democratic.

Stevenson has pointed out that only one out of each eight American youths now is called to duty. He also believes that the nearly 100 per cent turnover of armed forces manpower every two years is wasteful and that it fails to develop a trained defense force to cope with the atomic age.

Stevenson is expected to have something to say about his future plans in a formal statement within a few days.

But this is expected to contain only broad outlines of his plans. The defeated Democratic nominee is still too numbed by fatigue and the stunning blow of his defeat to consider actions over the next four years or longer.

He expects first to take a long rest, and probably will go hunting in the rugged mountains of the New Mexico-Arizona-Colorado area. For ten weeks, Stevenson, like all those who traveled with him, has been living on a schedule of campaigning that gave him an average of no more than four to five hours sleep a night.

He said early Wednesday when asked about his future plans, and his possible candidacy, in 1960: "I'm a candidate for only one thing — my bed."

Stevenson wants to spend a few days getting his personal business affairs in order before taking his vacation.

He remarked "one thing I have to do is to begin earning a living again."

Democratic party and the "actual power" resides with congressional leaders.

Mansfield, an assistant chairman of the Democratic National Committee, described Stevenson's role for the present as a "spokesman" and an "adviser" in the party.

The "source of power," Mansfield told newsmen, will be in the hands of Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson and House speaker Sam Rayburn.

Sen. Estes Kefauver, the Democratic vice-presidential candidate "is and will be a power in the party nationally," Mansfield added. But he said that this power will be overshadowed by the congressional leadership "who have the say about legislation."

At the same time, the senator said that, despite President Eisenhower's overwhelming victory, the chief executive's influence with GOP congressmen will diminish.

Because of a constitutional bar against a presidential third term, Mansfield said, the Republicans "will give a little more consideration to individuals who they think have a chance for the GOP nomination in 1960."

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Montana Democrat said, "appears to have the best chance" of being the Republican standard bearer four years from now. But Mansfield said Senate GOP leader William F. Knowland, Calif., will have to be "considered" also.

Mansfield said Stevenson's delegation to an advisory role in the Democratic party is a natural consequence of his defeat.

'Satisfactory Water Works Operation'

Firm Reports In Preparation For Bond Sale

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

An "extremely satisfactory water works operation" is the judgment of Black & Veatch of Kansas City, Mo., of Lincoln's Water Department.

The conclusion is drawn in a report made for the city in connection with the coming sale of $2.5 million in water revenue bonds. The bonds will finance completion of the $8.5 million improvement program recommended by Black & Veatch for Lincoln in 1953.

The report of the engineering specialists will be part of the city's bond sale brochure.

$2 Million More

The firm pointed out that $6,693,778 has already been spent on expansion of the Lincoln water works system. Another $2,142,116 is under contract, the report said.

The completed improvements, it was noted, will provide the city with a supply of 72 million gallons of water per day, compared to a maximum demand of slightly less than 50 million gallons per day to date.

"The water works facilities available upon completion of the current program," the report said, "will provide an adequate and dependable water supply for the present needs of the city and substantial reserves for continued growth."

The source of Lincoln's water supply, the Platte River near Ashland, was described by Black & Veatch as "the best source of additional supply and the quantity of water available is far more than adequate for supplying any future requirements of the city that can be reasonably anticipated for 40 years or more."

The Water Department's financial condition was reported as sound, its rates relatively low and its property in excellent condition.

Actress Wed

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Friends of actress Ruth Roman reported she called Hollywood from Panama City to say that she and Budd Moss were married by a Panamanian magistrate.

The couple had planned to be wed by the captain of the freighter Berganger on which they are sailing to Antwerp, but the steamship line rules forbade it.

Following the ceremony they continued on the trip. They are expected to arrive in Antwerp Nov. 22.

More Facilities For Mental Patients Pay Off—Wittson

OMAHA (AP) — Nebraska's expanded out-patient treatment facilities for mental patients is paying off, Dr. Cecil L. Wittson said Thursday.

During the first year 1,051 outpatients were cared for at the Norfolk and Hastings State Hospitals, and the Nebraska Psychiatric Institute here and at Scottsbluff. Seventy three per cent of those over 18 showed definite improvement, Dr. Wittson said.

He added that in the patients under 18 the improvement rate was 85 per cent.

Dr. Wittson, director of the program, said many of those treated would have required lengthy stays under the old program of hospitalizing most patients.

He said the hospital staffs conducted 7,325 interviews with patients and relatives and a number of group psycho-therapy sessions were held.

This program is part of the state's overall program to improve mental health treatment, Dr. Wittson said.

Officials Report Park Vandalism

WYMORE, Neb. — The Wymore Park Board has offered a reward of $50 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of anyone damaging park property.

The reward posting is the result of vandalism to park property recently. A coin operated light meter box was torn from a pole at Arbor State Park recently, evidently for quarters believed to have been in the collection box.

Park officials said there was little if any money in the box but the meter has not been found and damage to property has been considerable. The reward will stand and covers damage to any park property.

Six Injured In Headon Crash

Six persons were injured late Thursday afternoon in a headon two-car collision on Van Dorn about 100 feet west of the road leading to the Boy Scout Camp.

Drivers of the cars involved were Mrs. W. W. Isbell, 30, of 1860½ Dakota, and Frank J. Hruza, 54, of 2928 Folsom. Mrs. Isbell was driving northeast and Hruza southwest when the accident occurred.

Mrs. Isbell, who was alone in her car, suffered a fractured kneecap and numerous cuts. She was listed in satisfactory condition.

Hruza suffered head cuts and a possible skull fracture, and was listed in fair condition. His passengers, their injuries and conditions: Johnny Hruza, 12, arm injury and cuts, good; Patty Hruza, 14, shock, good; Billy Hruza, 11, deep cut across forehead, fair; Glenda Kay Dwyer, 15, 2735 Lincoln, severe head cut, fair.

U.N. Truce Unit Called To Meet By Red Koreans

SEOUL (Friday) (INS) — The United Nations-Communist joint Military Armistice Commission in Korea was summoned to meet at Panmunjom Saturday.

The session was scheduled at the request of the Chinese-North Korean Communist command.

The Reds notified the U.N. command they wanted to discuss alleged allied "violations" of the armistice.

It was believed the Reds may place before the meeting a charge that two South Korean Air Force Mustang fighters had crossed the demilitarized truce zone to fly over North Korean constal waters Wednesday when they were attacked by two Russian-built MIG-15 jets.

One of the ROK planes was lost and the other returned to its base in crippled condition.

None of the Americans sustained even minor injuries.

STAN DELAPLANE'S

POSTCARD

The new SS Mariposa sailed from San Francisco the other day. And as you may imagine there was a good deal of bon voyage.

Streamers poured over the side; tears poured over the side; a few visiting guests were poured over the side, protesting they could lick any man in the house.

It was a damp farewell. The rain poured down in sympathy and we sailed off into what would have been the sunset. Except that it was 11 o'clock in the morning.

There is nothing more weepy than a luxury cruise ship. I think the rich cry easier than other less gifted people.

On all the cruise ships I have seen, people cry on departure, they cry on arrival. In between times they weep a little just to keep in practice. The new Mariposa — 365 passengers for Tahiti, Australia and other romantic lands has been pretty liquid.

They broke a bottle of champagne across her bow in Portland, Oregon.

She was cocktailed for a week in San Francisco.

She sailed with fireboats jetting streams of water salutes into the rainy skies. If you shook a passenger he gurgled. They were that soggy.

"What do you think of the ship?" said Mr. Bernie Clayton, the Matson public relations man.

"A taut ship but a happy, happy ship," I quoted.

"Boo hoo" said Mr. Clayton. I lent him my handkerchief.

I dashed away my own tears and, to get down to business, you should know that the Mariposa is 564 feet long and 76 feet wide. It says here in the handout that it displaces twenty thousand tons. That is, twenty thousand tons of water — this water will be replaced by twenty thousand tons of pure passenger tears so you need not worry about it.

The ship is gleaming white with nut brown Polynesian interiors and nostalgic tear-jerking designs by Mr. Harry Neafie who I found remarkably dry-eyed up in the outrigger bar.

He said he had made a lengthy study of the South Pacific and all the decor was authentic as a Mary Martin-Ezio Pinza duet. Every evening enchanted every hour on the hour.

He said it took 20 artists to do the art work which numbers exactly 763 pieces.

This gives you the statistical picture.

There was a good deal of sailing during the night which I assume the captain did in the proper manner. For in the morning we nosed into Los Angeles harbor where I was informed that we would do the whole thing over again.

It seemed to me the passengers looked slightly dehydrated. And as for me, I was all wept out and beginning to look for a few laughs.

However a whole new crew of fresh passengers came aboard. Accompanied by teary friends and relatives. The firebuats squirted water and the champagne bottles spurted bubble juice. The last-minute guests were dragged struggling onto the dock. Everybody threw streamers and a great happy cry of mourning broke out on the decks and on the docks.

And that is the way you sail away on a cruise ship, children.

STAN DELAPLANE'S

POSTCARD

The new SS Mariposa sailed from San Francisco the other day. And as you may imagine there was a good deal of bon voyage.

Streamers poured over the side; tears poured over the side; a few visiting guests were poured over the side, protesting they could lick any man in the house.

It was a damp farewell. The rain poured down in sympathy and we sailed off into what would have been the sunset. Except that it was 11 o'clock in the morning.

There is nothing more weepy than a luxury cruise ship. I think the rich cry easier than other less gifted people.

On all the cruise ships I have seen, people cry on departure, they cry on arrival. In between times they weep a little just to keep in practice. The new Mariposa — 365 passengers for Tahiti, Australia and other romantic lands has been pretty liquid.

They broke a bottle of champagne across her bow in Portland, Oregon.

She was cocktailed for a week in San Francisco.

She sailed with fireboats jetting streams of water salutes into the rainy skies. If you shook a passenger he gurgled. They were that soggy.

"What do you think of the ship?" said Mr. Bernie Clayton, the Matson public relations man.

"A taut ship but a happy, happy ship," I quoted.

"Boo hoo" said Mr. Clayton. I lent him my handkerchief.

I dashed away my own tears and, to get down to business, you should know that the Mariposa is 564 feet long and 76 feet wide. It says here in the handout that it displaces twenty thousand tons. That is, twenty thousand tons of water — this water will be replaced by twenty thousand tons of pure passenger tears so you need not worry about it.

The ship is gleaming white with nut brown Polynesian interiors and nostalgic tear-jerking designs by Mr. Harry Neafie who I found remarkably dry-eyed up in the outrigger bar.

He said he had made a lengthy study of the South Pacific and all the decor was authentic as a Mary Martin-Ezio Pinza duet. Every evening enchanted every hour on the hour.

He said it took 20 artists to do the art work which numbers exactly 763 pieces.

This gives you the statistical picture.

There was a good deal of sailing during the night which I assume the captain did in the proper manner. For in the morning we nosed into Los Angeles harbor where I was informed that we would do the whole thing over again.

It seemed to me the passengers looked slightly dehydrated. And as for me, I was all wept out and beginning to look for a few laughs.

However a whole new crew of fresh passengers came aboard. Accompanied by teary friends and relatives. The fireboats squirted water and the champagne bottles spurted bubble juice. The last-minute guests were dragged struggling onto the dock. Everybody threw streamers and a great happy cry of mourning broke out on the decks and on the docks.

And that is the way you sail away on a cruise ship, children.

Bulganin Reported By Commies To Have Snubbed Ike Plea On Hungary

BERLIN (AP) — The East German news service ADN said Thursday night Soviet Premier Bulganin has told President Eisenhower that withdrawing Soviet forces from Hungary is "completely and entirely" the business of the Hungarian and Soviet governments.

The official Communist service said Bulganin replied to Eisenhower's request Nov. 4 to the Soviet leader to withdraw Soviet troops from Hungary and give that country the right to choose its own government.

ADN quoted Bulganin's letter to Eisenhower as saying:

"Answering your letter dated November 4, I feel urged to state that the problem of the withdrawal of Soviet troops from Hungary touched therein comes completely and entirely under the competence of the Hungarian and Soviet governments."

The Soviet leader also told Eisenhower there is no reason to doubt that Russian foreign policy has been and will be guided by the Russian government's declaration Oct. 30, 1956.

In this declaration, the Soviet leaders had stressed that their relations with other Iron Curtain countries are based on the principles of equality, independence and national sovereignty.

Not Public

The President's message to Bulganin was not made public in Washington.

According to ADN, Eisenhower stressed in his letter to Bulganin that the Soviet declaration of Oct. 30 had been interpreted everywhere as the promise of a fast withdrawal of Russian troops from Hungary. ADN said Eisenhower wrote:

"The government of the United States and I myself have considered this declaration an act of high wisdom of statesmen". . . therefore we have been extremely shaken by the apparent change of policy. . .

"In the name of humanity and peace, I ask you urgently that Soviet Russia take steps for an immediate withdrawal of the Soviet troops from Hungary and give the Hungarian people the opportunity to enjoy and materialize the human rights and elementary freedoms guaranteed to all nations through the United Nations Charter."

Division

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Hungary's revolution appears to have aggravated a division in the Yugoslav Communist party and caused President Tito to take steps leading off an open party discussion in the near future.

The Yugoslav Politburo, a dozen party men with Tito as secretary general, met this week. It announced plans for the party congress, theoretically the ruling body, to meet in the fall of 1957. Earlier, plans had been made for a meeting this year. The Politburo likely postponed the congress to avoid expressions of opposition to some present party policies.

One group is pointing to "the lessons" of Hungary as a warning to the Yugoslav party.

This group wants more "democracy," though not in the Western sense. It would spread a veneer of democracy over political life while the party retains control.

Revolts Eyed

BERLIN (INS)—An East German source said that the Soviet Union plans to disarm and replace a large part of the satellite armies with Russian troops to head off any more revolts on the bloody Hungarian pattern.

At the same time rumors circulated in Berlin that all was not well in the Kremlin in the wake of the rapid-fire international developments of the past few days.

One unconfirmed report reaching East Berlin indicated that Soviet civilian leaders were struggling with Red army heads over present policy.

The implications of this report was that the army heads contended that Soviet Communist party Secretary Nikita Khrushchev's policy of "own road to socialism" is endangering Soviet security.

It is suggested that the army heads are demanding a strong hand over the satellites to assure Soviet security.

New Fighting

VIENNA (INS) — The Budapest radio reported that new street fighting had broken out in the Hungarian capital between patriotic insurgents and Russian troops in the glare of flames which were devouring two big hotels.

The Russian-controlled radio said rifle fire from "revolutionary bands" prevented firemen from nearing the fires in the Hotel Royal and Hotel Continental.

The radio gave no details of how extensive the new fighting was. Earlier reports and claims by the Reds indicated that all but the last vestige of rebel resistance in Budapest were wiped out Wednesday.

Your luau—traditional feast of happy Hawaiian Islanders—will reflect the mood of the Islands: white sand beaches, rolling surf, sighing palm trees. And you'll serve a feast that friends will talk about for weeks!

You can do it at so little cost, with so little fuss! We planned it that way as we gathered all the information, menus, recipes and foods...enabling you to enjoy your version of a colorful luau...right in your own home. Easy to Create Hawaiian Mood

The foods you serve at your luau are bound to be a success in themselves. You can heighten the island feeling with a few "native" touches. Field, One Of Richest Men In U.S., Dies At 63

NEW YORK (AP) — Marshall Field III, 43, whose 160-million dollar inheritance from a department store fortune made him one of the nation's richest men, died Thursday.

Field

The philanthropist, newspaper founder and book publisher became ill last September. He entered New York Hospital Oct. 21 and on the following day underwent an operation for removal of a blood clot in the brain.

His third wife, Ruth, was at his bedside when he died.

Field was a multimillionaire before he entered his teens. His grandfather amassed a fortune in the famed Chicago department store that bore his name, and in real estate. Eventually, all of it passed to Field through the deaths of his father and his younger brother, Henry.

As a youth, Field was a playboy, interested in polo, airplanes, fox hunting, horse racing and sailing. He was educated in England where he moved in the same social set as the Duke of Windsor, then the Prince of Wales and later king of England.

As he matured, however, Field outgrew his boyhood tastes and plunged into a variety of enterprises, many of them with a strong social service motive.

Field founded the Chicago Sun in 1941 as a pro-New Deal opposition paper to the anti-New Deal Chicago Tribune. Now the Sun-Times, the newspaper has been edited and published since 1950 by Field's son, Marshall Field, fourth member of the family to bear the name.

Earlier, Field had entered the newspaper business as a stockholder of the New York newspaper PM. He acquired sole ownership of the paper in 1942 and his money nursed it through a series of financial setbacks.

Field finally sold PM in 1946. It changed hands and names after he left and finally vanished.

Department Store

Marshall Field & Co., the famed Chicago department store that stands as a monument to the family, was sold in 1917. Field remained as a director but took no active part in its management.

At the age of 21, Field was married the first time to Evelyn Marshall. They had three children, Marshall IV, Barbara and Bettine before their divorce 15 years later.

A second marriage to Mrs. Audrey James Coates, a goddaughter of King Edward VII, ended in divorce after four years. Field married his present wife, Mrs. Ruth Pruyn Phipps, in 1936. They had two daughters, Phyllis and Fiona.

Woman Is Found Slain In Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The beaten, strangled body of a partly clad woman was found Thursday behind a car in a service station parking lot here.

Police Lt. Al Nelder said she was Mrs. Helen Ivy, about 35, resident of a hotel across the street from where the body was found.

Nelder called it a "sadistic killing" and said she had been "beaten, strangled and stomped."

"Sex obviously was the motive," he added.

Civil Defense On 24-Hour Alert In Midwest Area

DENVER (INS) — The Denver regional office of the federal Civil Defense Administration disclosed Thursday its key personnel have been put on a 24-hour alert.

The office has jurisdiction over Colorado, Nebraska, Kansas, Wyoming, the two Dakotas, Minnesota and Iowa.

Conditions in the Middle East and Eastern Europe, a CD official said, were responsible. The 26 top officials in the regional office will be available "around the clock" and a new order keeps a duty officer in the headquarters on Denver University campus at all times.

Iowa Democratic Governor Lauds Chairman More

DES MOINES (AP)—Gov.-Elect Herschel Loveless said here Thursday he wants Jake More of Harlan to remain as Democratic state chairman.

Loveless said More has been an "excellent chairman."

"Jake has done a fine job," declared Loveless, the first Iowa Democrat to win election as governor in 20 years.

More was under heavy fire from some Democratic sections prior to the election, especially from those supporting Adlai Stevenson before the Democratic national convention. More was Midwest campaign manager for Gov. Averell Harriman of New York when the latter sought the presidential nomination.

Field, One Of Richest Men In U.S., Dies At 63

Field

The philanthropist, newspaper founder and book publisher became ill last September. He entered New York Hospital Oct. 21 and on the following day underwent an operation for removal of a blood clot in the brain.

His third wife, Ruth, was at his bedside when he died.

Field was a multimillionaire before he entered his teens. His grandfather amassed a fortune in the famed Chicago department store that bore his name, and in real estate. Eventually, all of it passed to Field through the deaths of his father and his younger brother, Henry.

As a youth, Field was a playboy, interested in polo, airplanes, fox hunting, horse racing and sailing. He was educated in England where he moved in the same social set as the Duke of Windsor, then the Prince of Wales and later king of England.

As he matured, however, Field outgrew his boyhood tastes and plunged into a variety of enterprises, many of them with a strong social service motive.

Field founded the Chicago Sun in 1941 as a pro-New Deal opposition paper to the anti-New Deal Chicago Tribune. Now the Sun-Times, the newspaper has been edited and published since 1950 by Field's son, Marshall Field, fourth member of the family to bear the name.

Earlier, Field had entered the newspaper business as a stockholder of the New York newspaper PM. He acquired sole ownership of the paper in 1942 and his money nursed it through a series of financial setbacks.

Field finally sold PM in 1946. It changed hands and names after he left and finally vanished.

Department Store

Marshall Field & Co., the famed Chicago department store that stands as a monument to the family, was sold in 1917. Field remained as a director but took no active part in its management.

At the age of 21, Field was married the first time to Evelyn Marshall. They had three children, Marshall IV, Barbara and Bettine before their divorce 15 years later.

A second marriage to Mrs. Audrey James Coates, a goddaughter of King Edward VII, ended in divorce after four years. Field married his present wife, Mrs. Ruth Pruyn Phipps, in 1936. They had two daughters, Phyllis and Fiona.

Woman Is Found Slain In Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The beaten, strangled body of a partly clad woman was found Thursday behind a car in a service station parking lot here.

Police Lt. Al Nelder said she was Mrs. Helen Ivy, about 35, resident of a hotel across the street from where the body was found.

Nelder called it a "sadistic killing" and said she had been "beaten, strangled and stomped."

"Sex obviously was the motive," he added.

The office has jurisdiction over Colorado, Nebraska, Kansas, Wyoming, the two Dakotas, Minnesota and Iowa.

Iowa Democratic Governor Lauds Chairman More

DES MOINES (AP)—Gov.-Elect Herschel Loveless said here Thursday he wants Jake More of Harlan to remain as Democratic state chairman.

Loveless said More has been an "excellent chairman."

"Jake has done a fine job," declared Loveless, the first Iowa Democrat to win election as governor in 20 years.

More was under heavy fire from some Democratic sections prior to the election, especially from those supporting Adlai Stevenson before the Democratic national convention. More was Midwest campaign manager for Gov. Averell Harriman of New York when the latter sought the presidential nomination.

Two Disease Viruses 'Tamed,' Put To Work Killing Cancer Cells

WASHINGTON (INS) — Cancer experts have "tamed" two disease-causing viruses and have put them to work killing human cancer cells.

The viruses are known as coxsackie B virus and the adenovirus group. Coxsackie B closely resembles the polio virus and causes a feverish, though not necessarily fatal illness.

The adenoviruses are found in throat swabbings and nasal washings of people with colds, grippe and other respiratory ailments.

A report on two anti-cancer vaccines made from these viruses was given Thursday at the National Academy of Sciences autumn meeting in Washington by scientists at the U.S. National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, Md.

40 Patients

A fluid made from the adenoviruses was injected in 40 female patients suffering cancer of the cervix with "definite, sometimes extensive local destruction" of the cancerous tissue, the researchers reported. They said unwanted side efffects were "minimal" and there was "no ascertainable destruction of normal tissues."

Cancer experts recognize these last two points as important, since the real cancer cure road block is to develop a vaccine or chemical bullet to knock out the tumor cells without affecting the normal cells or body functions.

Because these results were promising, although not completely curative, the researchers turned to taming the more potent coxackie B virus to make an anti-cancer vaccine.

They also deliberately "bred" these viruses to increase their cancer-killing power. This was done by growing human cancer cells in rats and injecting, extracting and re-injecting the same virus fluid five or six times.

Human Cancers

By then the beefed-up virus was able to destroy the growing cancer cells in the experimental rats. Next step would be to test the method on human cancers in human patients.

Equally important, the successful transfer of human cancer cells to mice means researchers have a new anti-cancer tool, since they need not confine experiments to so-called terminal hopeless cancer patinets.

The report was given by Drs. R. J. Heubner, R. R. Smith, W. P. Rowe, R. G. Suskind and R. A. Love, all of the National Institutes of Health.

Miss Stevenson, Meyner Announce Their Engagement

TRENTON, N.J. (INS)—Pretty Helen Stevenson and Gov. Robert Meyner of New Jersey announced their engagement Thursday and said it had been delayed because they were "too busy campaigning" for her cousin Adlai Stevenson.

Meyner, 48, and his bride-to-be met newsmen in a suite at the Hotel Hildebrecht where they said they planned to be married "sometime in January."

The attractive brunette said cousin Adlai will be invited to the ceremony which will be held either in the chapel at Oberlin College, or at the First Congregational Church, Oberlin, Ohio. Her father, William E. Stevenson, is president of the college.

Announcement

The parents of the bride-to-be issued the formal engagement announcement Thursday morning in Oberlin.

The couple, whose engagement has been rumored for several months, first met at a mock Democratic convention at Oberlin last May. Miss Stevenson disclosed that Meyner asked her father for her hand immediately after the Democratic convention in Chicago.

"He popped the question during the convention," she admitted. Miss Stevenson denied it was "love at first sight," but she confessed:

Two Disease Viruses 'Tamed,' Put To Work Killing Cancer Cells

WASHINGTON (INS) — Cancer experts have "tamed" two disease-causing viruses and have put them to work killing human cancer cells.

The viruses are known as coxsackie B virus and the adenovirus group. Coxsackie B closely resembles the polio virus and causes a feverish, though not necessarily fatal illness.

The adenoviruses are found in throat swabbings and nasal washings of people with colds, grippe and other respiratory ailments.

A report on two anti-cancer vaccines made from these viruses was given Thursday at the National Academy of Sciences autumn meeting in Washington by scientists at the U.S. National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, Md.

40 Patients

A fluid made from the adenoviruses was injected in 40 female patients suffering cancer of the cervix with "definite, sometimes extensive local destruction" of the cancerous tissue, the researchers reported. They said unwanted side efffects were "minimal" and there was "no ascertainable destruction of normal tissues."

Cancer experts recognize these last two points as important, since the real cancer cure road block is to develop a vaccine or chemical bullet to knock out the tumor cells without affecting the normal cells or body functions.

Because these results were promising, although not completely curative, the researchers turned to taming the more potent coxackie B virus to make an anti-cancer vaccine.

They also deliberately "bred" these viruses to increase their cancer-killing power. This was done by growing human cancer cells in rats and injecting, extracting and re-injecting the same virus fluid five or six times.

Human Cancers

By then the beefed-up virus was able to destroy the growing cancer cells in the experimental rats. Next step would be to test the method on human cancers in human patients.

Equally important, the successful transfer of human cancer cells to mice means researchers have a new anti-cancer tool, since they need not confine experiments to so-called terminal hopeless cancer patinets.

The report was given by Drs. R. J. Heubner, R. R. Smith, W. P. Rowe, R. G. Suskind and R. A. Love, all of the National Institutes of Health.

Miss Stevenson, Meyner Announce Their Engagement

TRENTON, N.J. (INS)—Pretty Helen Stevenson and Gov. Robert Meyner of New Jersey announced their engagement Thursday and said it had been delayed because they were "too busy campaigning" for her cousin Adlai Stevenson.

Meyner, 48, and his bride-to-be met newsmen in a suite at the Hotel Hildebrecht where they said they planned to be married "sometime in January."

The attractive brunette said cousin Adlai will be invited to the ceremony which will be held either in the chapel at Oberlin College, or at the First Congregational Church, Oberlin, Ohio. Her father, William E. Stevenson, is president of the college.

Announcement

The parents of the bride-to-be issued the formal engagement announcement Thursday morning in Oberlin.

The couple, whose engagement has been rumored for several months, first met at a mock Democratic convention at Oberlin last May. Miss Stevenson disclosed that Meyner asked her father for her hand immediately after the Democratic convention in Chicago.

"He popped the question during the convention," she admitted. Miss Stevenson denied it was "love at first sight," but she confessed: "I liked him first as a person and then later I fell in love with him."

WITH AN EYE ON THE FUTURE

IT'S always well to keep a weather eye on the future—just in case something interesting might be coming up—We're a great-future eyer and this morning it paid off—We understand that the traditional Christmas Ball, that gay party planned by a group of feminine high school juniors, is in the making—in fact, almost completely planned.

The Christmas Ball this year will be held on Thursday, Dec. 27, and at the Lincoln Country Club as usual.

The Ball hostesses will include Miss Lynn Wright, Miss Ann Sowles, Miss Nancy Morgan, Miss Mary Walt, Miss Sandy Nixon, Miss Judy Adams, Miss Carol Carney, Miss Shirley Parker, Miss Mary Ellen Stein, Miss Karen Belsheim, Miss Glenda Luff, all of Southeast High School; Miss Martey Davey, Miss Bonnie Bush, Miss Barbara Tanner, Miss Charlotte Risse, Miss Caroline Fry, Miss Nancy Stefanisen, Miss Janice Prouty, all of Lincoln High School; Miss Susie Prouty, who is attending school in Arizona this year, and Miss Linda Teal, who is a student at Monticello, Godfrey, Ill.

* * *

IN THE more immediate future is the 100 Club's costume party which is planned for Saturday evening, Nov. 24. The party arrangements are in the hands of a committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Faytinger, chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Trombla, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Nate Holman, Mr. and Mrs. John McCown, Dr. and Mrs. Bernard Wendt, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Windle, and Mr. and Mrs. Pat Ash.

* * *

SPEAKING of later November brings to mind Thanksgiving—and we even found some plans for that holiday—Understand that Mr. and Mrs. William Ammon will be a family dinner host and hostess at their home when their guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ammon and their family. Mrs. C. D. Ammon, as you doubtless know, is traveling.

* * *

WE learned, also, that Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cather Jr. will entertain the members of their families at dinner at their home on Thanksgiving day—The Cathers, by the way, are busy people this week—Mrs. Cather's brother-in-law, Dr. H. M. Loy, a member of the University of Minnesota, Duluth branch, planed into Lincoln Wednesday evening to remain until Saturday. Dr. Loy has come to attend the meeting of Phi Delta Kappa, national education honorary for men.

But on Friday Mr. and Mrs. Cather and their children take off for Kansas City where they will join Mrs. Cather's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Clive Hilgert, for the trek to Lawrence, Kan., and the Kansas-Nebraska game on Saturday—Then back to Kansas City for Saturday night—and home on Sunday.

* * *

APROPOS of guests in town for brief visits — Mrs. Roger Newman and her three children, Roger, Linda and Bradley, arrived from Omaha on Thursday to be the guests of Mrs. Newman's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. James Critchfield.

* * *

THERE'S news from the west coast that will be of interest to Lincoln this morning — It has to do with the arrival on Friday, Nov. 2, of Miss Kristi Lee Allen at Merritt Hospital, Oakland, Calif. The young Miss Allen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Allen of Oakland, formerly of Lincoln, and her mother is the former Barbara Emerson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Emerson of Lafayette, Calif., also formerly of Lincoln. Mr. and Mrs. Gene Allen of Lincoln are the paternal grandparents.

* * *

JUST heard that Mr. and Mrs. C. W. D. Kinsey will be leaving tomorrow for Kansas City where they will be the guests of Mrs. Kinsey's brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. George Westgate. On Saturday the foursome will go to Lawrence, Kan., for the game.

* * *

UNDERSTAND that a certain Mr. Doyle — better known as Timmy, is having his seventh anniversary on Saturday. By way of celebration Timmy will be host at a party — a strictly stag affair — which includes refreshments at home and then on to a movie.

* * *

BUT back to Thanksgiving plans for a moment or two because we want to tell you that Miss Jane Deppen, an Airlines stewardess, will be arriving on Nov. 19 to remain through Thanksgiving as the guest of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Earl N. Deppen.

College View PTA Program

College View PTA members will sponsor a Family Night program for school patrons and residents of the community next Wednesday evening at the school.

Supper will be served in the school cafeteria beginning at 5:30 o'clock, and a program of entertainment including a hillbilly skit will be presented during the evening in three complete performances.

A bazaar featuring a variety of "booths" has been planned at which plants and garden gadgets, food, needle and handwork articles, and Christmas decorating items will be on sale. Also for sale will be the College View PTA Cook Book.

La Sertoma Hears Speaker

Mrs. Ralph Beechner was hostess to the members of La Sertoma Wednesday evening when a talk on her recent travels in Europe and Russia was given by Mrs. Bertrand Ehrmann.

During the meeting, Mrs. Ralph McGoogan, chairman of the ways and means committee, presented a report on the club's ice cream fair, held at the Cedars Home for Children Oct. 21, the proceeds of which will be presented to the home.

Assisting hostesses were Mrs. A. G. Spohnheimer, Mrs. R. C. Adams and Mrs. George Fisk.

Former Coed Is Bride

MRS. EARLE O. MOSS

At an afternoon ceremony solemnized on Saturday, Nov. 3, Miss Gretchen Booth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burrell Booth of Cody, became the bride of Earle O. Moss, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Moss of Manville, Wyo. Lighted white candles and spreading arrangements of gold and bronze-toned chrysanthemums appointed the chancel of St. John's Church, Episcopal, at Cody for the service, which was read by the Rev. Harold Luxem of The Church of Jesus, Episcopal, at Rosebud, S.D. Mrs. J. A. Hasburg, organist, played the wedding music, and also accompanied Mrs. Frank McCracken, the vocal soloist.

As her sister's matron of honor, Mrs. George L. Hare of Santa Ana, Calif., appeared in a full-skirted frock of tangerine crystalette. The basqued bodice and wide skirt were accented by a sash of the crystalette caught at the back into a bustle bow, and she wore a tiara of taffeta petals in frock tone dotted with pearls. Wearing identical costumes in muted russet shades were the bridesmaids, Miss Diana Adamson and Mrs. Warren Stotts of Cody, who completed their ensembles with head bandeaux of green-tinted feathers. The attendants carried cascades of gold and bronze pompons.

George L. Hare of Santa Ana served Mr. Moss as best man, and seating the guests were Bill Nappe and Edward Veit of Valentine.

The bride's gown of white Dupioni silk was touched with imported Alencon lace and designed in the period mode. Appliques of the lace frosted with tiny pearls and iridescent sequins edged the bateau neckline and extended into a deep point down the front of the sculptured bodice, and the sleeves were long and tapered. The lace motif was repeated in a peplum effect on the very full skirt of silk, and her illusion veil was held by a pillbox cap of the jeweled lace. She carried a white Bible ornamented with a single white orchid and showered with valley-lilies.

A reception for 70 guests was held at the Adamson Community Club in Cody, after which the couple left for a short honeymoon trip. For traveling, Mrs. Moss wore a brown wool jersey ensemble with matching accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Moss will reside at Lusk, Wyo. The bride is a former student at Brownell Hall in Omaha, and the University of Colorado, Boulder, Colo., and last year attended Nebraska Wesleyan University. Mr. Moss served with the Air Force including overseas duty in Korea.

THE STAR IN SUBURBIA

We'll have to provide new page fillers for our Little Red Book since we have added such a long list of new friends to our Suburbia column. After scanning all of the notations this morning we decided to converse first with our new acquaintances in the Kessler Heights community to learn about their latest activity.

And it was last Friday afternoon when a former resident of Kessler Heights, Mrs. Raymond Dryden and her son, Patrick, were visitors in the area. The Dryden twosome, who moved to Omaha with their family in August, were guests of Mrs. Price May and other neighborhood friends.

When Mrs. Donald Lohrberg entertained on Thursday evening, she was hostess to five neighborhood ladies for coffee and an informal chat. Included in the guest list were Mrs. Price May, Mrs. Frank Klapal, Mrs. Art Dennis, Mrs. Harold Simmerman and Mrs. Lance Listiak.

The Don Hamilton residence was the guest-home for grandparents last week-end. Understand that young Kimberley Hamilton's grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. T. A. Hamilton of Norfolk, arrived in time to attend the homecoming game and remained for a couple day's visit in the neighborhood. And Mrs. Hamilton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burdick of Crete, also were in Kessler Heights for a week-end visit.

Other news from Kessler Heights concerns the Phillip James family. Heard that Mr. and Mrs. James and their daughter, Peggy, enjoyed dinner and an afternoon of visiting with Mr. and Mrs. William Ullstrom last Sunday.

SOUTH HILLS

In South Hills the children's activity, as well as that of the adults, never ceases. Last Tuesday, four-year-old Steve and two-year-old Debbie Kissinger were entertained at a birthday party given by their mother, Mrs. Robert Kissinger. Guests for the afternoon's entertainment were Roger and Gay Hempel, Susan, Bobby and Jimmy Heard, Tommy Rice, Jackie Hornby, Lannie Ross, Randy Beckler and Cindy Linneman.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Dean Robare and their children, Lynn, Sandra and Jeanne on Thursday were Mr. Robare's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Robare. The David Roberas are residents in Geneva.

Also heard that Mr. and Mrs. Ted Thompson entertained at dinner last Saturday after the football game when their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Loren Jackson.

Another guest in the South Hills area is the Rev. George H. Shermer of Minneapolis, Minn., who is spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. Roswill Johnson. The Rev. Shermer and Mrs. Johnson, former residents of Stromsberg were in the city Wednesday to call on several of their friends. Rev. Shermer will return to Minnesota next Monday.

On Saturday we will be extending a "Happy Birthday" wish to little Miss Julie Perry, who will be two years old. Mrs. Matthew Perry has planned a very informal get-to-gether on Saturday morning for several of the neighborhood friends and their mothers in celebration of Julie's birthday. Included in the guest list of the neighborhood children will be tScott Powell, Sherrie Patzel, Jim Warren, Danny and Dana Hock.

Mrs. W. J. Boudreaux, Mrs. Carter Hart and Mrs. Richard McKenzie were the hostesses to the distaff side of Capt. Boudreaux's crew, Wednesday morning, at the Boudreaux residence. Forty-five guests were present for the morning chat and coffee.

WITH AN EYE ON THE FUTURE

IT'S always well to keep a weather eye on the future—just in case something interesting might be coming up—We're a great future eyer and this morning it paid off—We understand that the traditional Christmas Ball, that gay party planned by a group of feminine high school juniors, is in the making—in fact, almost completely planned.

The Christmas Ball this year will be held on Thursday, Dec. 27, and at the Lincoln Country Club as usual.

The Ball hostesses will include Miss Lynn Wright, Miss Ann Sowles, Miss Nancy Morgan, Miss Mary Walt, Miss Sandy Nixon, Miss Judy Adams, Miss Carol Carney, Miss Shirley Parker, Miss Mary Ellen Stein, Miss Karen Belsheim, Miss Glenda Luff, all of Southeast High School; Miss Martey Davey, Miss Bonnie Bush, Miss Barbara Tanner, Miss Charlotte Risse, Miss Caroline Fry, Miss Nancy Stefanisen, Miss Janice Prouty, all of Lincoln High School; Miss Susie Prouty, who is attending school in Arizona this year, and Miss Linda Teal, who is a student at Monticello, Godfrey, Ill.

* * *

IN THE more immediate future is the 100 Club's costume party which is planned for Saturday evening, Nov. 24. The party arrangements are in the hands of a committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Faytinger, chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Trombla, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Nate Holman, Mr. and Mrs. John McCown, Dr. and Mrs. Bernard Wendt, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Windle, and Mr. and Mrs. Pat Ash.

* * *

SPEAKING of later November brings to mind Thanksgiving—and we even found some plans for that holiday—Understand that Mr. and Mrs. William Ammon will be a family dinner host and hostess at their home when their guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ammon and their family. Mrs. C. D. Ammon, as you doubtless know, is traveling.

* * *

WE learned, also, that Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cather Jr. will entertain the members of their families at dinner at their home on Thanksgiving day—The Cathers, by the way, are busy people this week—Mrs. Cather's brother-in-law, Dr. H. M. Loy, a member of the University of Minnesota, Duluth branch, planed into Lincoln Wednesday evening to remain until Saturday. Dr. Loy has come to attend the meeting of Phi Delta Kappa, national education honorary for men.

But on Friday Mr. and Mrs. Cather and their children take off for Kansas City where they will join Mrs. Cather's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Clive Hilgert, for the trek to Lawrence, Kan., and the Kansas-Nebraska game on Saturday—Then back to Kansas City for Saturday night—and home on Sunday.

* * *

APROPOS of guests in town for brief visits — Mrs. Roger Newman and her three children, Roger, Linda and Bradley, arrived from Omaha on Thursday to be the guests of Mrs. Newman's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. James Critchfield.

* * *

THERE'S news from the west coast that will be of interest to Lincoln this morning — It has to do with the arrival on Friday, Nov. 2, of Miss Kristi Lee Allen at Merritt Hospital, Oakland, Calif. The young Miss Allen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Allen of Oakland, formerly of Lincoln, and her mother is the former Barbara Emerson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Emerson of LaFayette, Calif., also formerly of Lincoln. Mr. and Mrs. Gene Allen of Lincoln are the paternal grandparents.

* * *

JUST heard that Mr. and Mrs. C. W. D. Kinsey will be leaving tomorrow for Kansas City where they will be the guests of Mrs. Kinsey's brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. George Westgate. On Saturday the foursome will go to Lawrence, Kan., for the game.

* * *

UNDERSTAND that a certain Mr. Doyle — better known as Timmy, is having his seventh anniversary on Saturday. By way of celebration Timmy will be host at a party — a strictly stag affair — which includes refreshments at home and then on to a movie.

* * *

BUT back to Thanksgiving plans for a moment or two because we want to tell you that Miss Jane Deppen, an Airlines stewardess, will be arriving on Nov. 19 to remain through Thanksgiving as the guest of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Earl N. Deppen.

College View PTA Program

College View PTA members will sponsor a Family Night program for school patrons and residents of the community next Wednesday evening at the school.

Supper will be served in the school cafeteria beginning at 5:30 o'clock, and a program of entertainment including a hillbilly skit will be presented during the evening in three complete performances.

A bazaar featuring a variety of "booths" has been planned at which plants and garden gadgets, food, needle and handwork articles, and Christmas decorating items will be on sale. Also for sale will be the College View PTA Cook Book.

La Sertoma Hears Speaker

Mrs. Ralph Beechner was hostess to the members of La Sertoma Wednesday evening when a talk on her recent travels in Europe and Russia was given by Mrs. Bertrand Ehrmann.

During the meeting, Mrs. Ralph McGoogan, chairman of the ways and means committee, presented a report on the club's ice cream fair, held at the Cedars Home for Children Oct. 21, the proceeds of which will be presented to the home.

Assisting hostesses were Mrs. A. G. Spohnheimer, Mrs. R. C. Adams and Mrs. George Fisk.

Former Coed Is Bride

MRS. EARLE O. MOSS

At an afternoon ceremony solemnized on Saturday, Nov. 3, Miss Gretchen Booth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burrell Booth of Cody, became the bride of Earle O. Moss, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Moss of Manville, Wyo. Lighted white candles and spreading arrangements of gold and bronze-toned chrysanthemums appointed the chancel of St. John's Church, Episcopal, at Cody for the service, which was read by the Rev. Harold Luxem of The Church of Jesus, Episcopal, at Rosebud, S.D. Mrs. J. A. Hasburg, organist, played the wedding music, and also accompanied Mrs. Frank McCracken, the vocal soloist.

As her sister's matron of honor, Mrs. George L. Hare of Santa Ana, Calif., appeared in a full-skirted frock of tangerine crystalette. The basqued bodice and wide skirt were accented by a sash of the crystalette caught at the back into a bustle bow, and she wore a tiara of taffeta petals in frock tone dotted with pearls. Wearing identical costumes in muted russet shades were the bridesmaids, Miss Diana Adamson and Mrs. Warren Stotts of Cody, who completed their ensembles with head bandeaux of green-tinted feathers. The attendants carried cascades of gold and bronze pompons.

George L. Hare of Santa Ana served Mr. Moss as best man, and seating the guests were Bill Nappe and Edward Veit of Valentine.

The bride's gown of white Dupioni silk was touched with imported Alencon lace and designed in the period mode. Appliques of the lace frosted with tiny pearls and iridescent sequins edged the bateau neckline and extended into a deep point down the front of the sculptured bodice, and the sleeves were long and tapered. The lace motif was repeated in a peplum effect on the very full skirt of silk, and her illusion veil was held by a pillbox cap of the jeweled lace. She carried a white Bible ornamented with a single white orchid and showered with valley-lilies.

A reception for 70 guests was held at the Adamson Community Club in Cody, after which the couple left for a short honeymoon trip. For traveling, Mrs. Moss wore a brown wool jersey ensemble with matching accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Moss will reside at Lusk, Wyo. The bride is a former student at Brownell Hall in Omaha, and the University of Colorado, Boulder, Colo., and last year attended Nebraska Wesleyan University. Mr. Moss served with the Air Force including overseas duty in Korea.

THE STAR IN SUBURBIA

We'll have to provide new page fillers for our Little Red Book since we have added such a long list of new friends to our Suburbia column. After scanning all of the notations this morning we decided to converse first with our new acquaintances in the Kessler Heights community to learn about their latest activity.

And it was last Friday afternoon when a former resident of Kessler Heights, Mrs. Raymond Dryden and her son, Patrick, were visitors in the area. The Dryden twosome, who moved to Omaha with their family in August, were guests of Mrs. Price May and other neighborhood friends.

When Mrs. Donald Lohrberg entertained on Thursday evening, she was hostess to five neighborhood ladies for coffee and an informal chat. Included in the guest list were Mrs. Price May, Mrs. Frank Klapal, Mrs. Art Dennis, Mrs. Harold Simmerman and Mrs. Lance Listiak.

The Don Hamilton residence was the guest-home for grandparents last week-end. Understand that young Kimberley Hamilton's grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. T. A. Hamilton of Norfolk, arrived in time to attend the homecoming game and remained for a couple day's visit in the neighborhood. And Mrs. Hamilton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burdick of Crete, also were in Kessler Heights for a week-end visit.

Other news from Kessler Heights concerns the Phillip James family. Heard that Mr. and Mrs. James and their daughter, Peggy, enjoyed dinner and an afternoon of visiting with Mr. and Mrs. William Ullstrom last Sunday.

SOUTH HILLS

In South Hills the children's activity, as well as that of the adults, never ceases. Last Tuesday, four-year-old Steve and two-year-old Debbie Kissinger were entertained at a birthday party given by their mother, Mrs. Robert Kissinger. Guests for the afternoon's entertainment were Roger and Gay Hempel, Susan, Bobby and Jimmy Heard, Tommy Rice, Jackie Hornby, Lannie Ross, Randy Beckler and Cindy Linneman.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Dean Robare and their children, Lynn, Sandra and Jeanne on Thursday were Mr. Robare's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Robare. The David Roberas are residents in Geneva.

Also heard that Mr. and Mrs. Ted Thompson entertained at dinner last Saturday after the football game when their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Loren Jackson.

Another guest in the South Hills area is the Rev. George H. Shermer of Minneapolis, Minn., who is spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. Roswill Johnson. The Rev. Shermer and Mrs. Johnson, former residents of Stromsberg were in the city Wednesday to call on several of their friends. Rev. Shermer will return to Minnesota next Monday.

On Saturday we will be extending a "Happy Birthday" wish to little Miss Julie Perry, who will be two years old. Mrs. Matthew Perry has planned a very informal get-to-gether on Saturday morning for several of the neighborhood friends and their mothers in celebration of Julie's birthday. Included in the guest list of the neighborhood children will be Scott Powell, Sherrie Patzel, Jim Warren, Danny and Dana Hock.

Mrs. W. J. Boudreaux, Mrs. Carter Hart and Mrs. Richard McKenzie were the hostesses to the distaff side of Capt. Boudreaux's crew, Wednesday morning, at the Boudreaux residence. Forty-five guests were present for the morning chat and coffee.

Atlantic, Pacific U.S. Forces On 'Ready' Status

AF And Navy Alert As World TensionsMount

WASHINGTON (INS)—America's naval forces in both the Atlantic and Pacific were placed on "readiness alert" status Thursday as U.S. military authorities expressed "serious concern" over shipments of Soviet planes to Syria and over Russian troop movements on the Polish border.

An undisclosed number of Pacific Fleet warships, including aircraft carriers, were ordered to steam out of port to Far East and other destinations "as soon as possible." The order affected vessels which had been scheduled for westward movement later this year.

The action, which came within 24 hours of "alert" instructions massing a formidable U.S. naval task force in the Atlantic, marked the first such drastic step decreed by the Pentagon since the Berlin airlift crisis in 1948.

AF Ready

Meanwhile, the Air Force announced that it has ordered a "large percentage" of its jet fighters and atomic bombers to be in the air at all times, ready for emergency operations. All major U.S. air commands throughout the world have been placed on a "readiness alert."

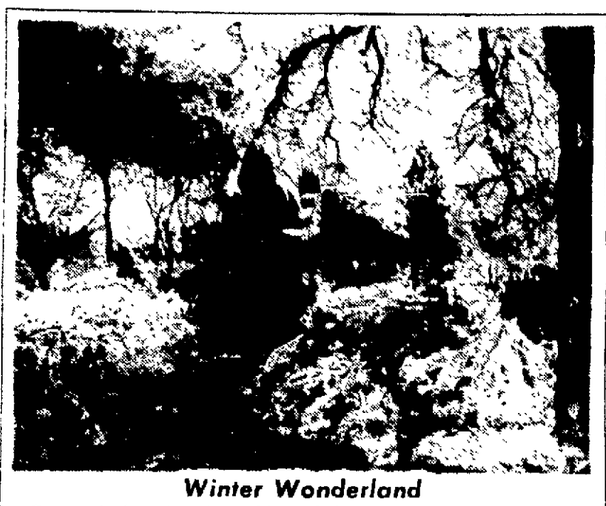
The Navy said its ship movements are being accelerated 30 to 60 days ahead of previous schedule.

Names of the ships involved were withheld, but the Navy said they will include both large and small aircraft carriers.

'Not Flexing Muscles'

The westward speedup was described as part of a general U.S. effort to "lighten defenses without flexing muscles."

The Pentagon refused further comment, but military observers pointed out that both Russia and Red China maintain massive forces in the Pacific area.



Winter Wonderland

City park department employees produced man-made winter wonderl- Thursday at Van Dorn Park. The icicles shown above formed on park trees as below freezing temperatures solidified spray from water sprinklers which were meant to provide needed water for the park grass and trees. (Star Photo)

LAFB Declines To Comment On Alert

Col. Perry M. Hoisington III, commander of the 816th Air Wing, at the Lincoln Air Force Base refused comment Thursday night on the status of base jet forces during the current "readiness alert" for all major U.S. air commands.

The officer reported that the base is "performing in a standard manner" at the present time. All further information would have to come from the Pentagon, he said.

'Suppression' Street

VIENNA (AP) — An Austrian newspaper has proposed that streets in Western capitals where Soviet embassies are located be renamed "Street of the Hungarian Suppression" as a permanent reminder of Soviet injustice.

MOON-VIEWING SESSION SET AT WESLEYAN FRIDAY NIGHT

Nebraska Wesleyan students will have a chance to see the moon magnified some 30 times at a moon-viewing session to be held at the Wesleyan Rose Memorial Observatory Friday night.

"There's truth and poetry there for everyone to read," Professor Carroll Moore, Nebraska Wesleyan University astronomy teacher, said. "But the poetry has been over-emphasized and truth underemphasized."

Professor Moore will give students a chance a "read the truth" about the moon Friday night when he holds a viewing session from 7 to 8.30 p.m.

Craters

"At that magnification it seems to observors that they are flying over the moon," he said. "They can see the craters and the mountains and the moon becomes a rugged, uninviting mass far out in space."

"For many who associate the moon with love in the traditional sense, it's quite a shock to see it close-up," Professor Moore said. "But it's always good for them."

The Wesleyan viewing Friday night will show the moon in the first quarter. Professor Moore said it would be especially interesting because it will be a pre-eclipse viewing. The moon is to be in eclipse at midnight, Nov. 17, he said.

Signs Of Kremlin Struggle Reported

WASHINGTON (INS) — Extremely reliable sources said Thursday there are some signs of a high level struggle for power going on inside the Kremlin.

The sources declined to give details of their information but emphasized the unusual activities they have heard about indicate the pot is boiling in Moscow.

Washington circles immediately speculated that Soviet boss Nikita Khrushchev may be waging a struggle to maintain his influence against the iron-fisted old Stalinists Vyacheslav Molotov and Lazar Kaganovich.

Foreign affairs analysts pointed to the surprise Kremlin switch to a tough policy in Hungary and to increasing signs that Russia may take action against Poland's new Titoist leadership.

Diplomat Kills Self

TOKYO (INS) — The body of a German consulate official who apparently committed suicide was found near the Japanese port of Kobe.

Japanese police said it was "presumed" that Johannes Presan, a member of the West German consulate staff at Kobe, had killed himself.

Razor blade cuts were found on both of his wrists.

The Council is also considering a proposed Reformation Sunday service to be held next fall in the city auditorium.

Church Group OKs Proposed Housing Bill

The Lincoln Council of Churches Thursday night adopted a resolution favoring the controversial minimum housing standards ordinance now before the City Council.

The resolution supported the present bill as "as satisfactory as can be expected."

The bill would regulate the size of rooms and window areas, ventilation and such facilities as plumbing, wiring and garbage disposal.

Opponents of the ordinance contend that the restrictions would force many persons from their homes because their present financial condition would not permit them to meet requirements.

Col. Perry M. Hoisington III, commander of the 818th Air Wing, at the Lincoln Air Force Base refused comment Thursday night on the status of base jet forces during the current "readiness alert" for all major U.S. air commands.

The officer reported that the base is "performing in a standard manner" at the present time. All further information would have to come from the Pentagon, he said.

MOON-VIEWING SESSION SET AT WESLEYAN FRIDAY NIGHT

Nebraska Wesleyan students will have a chance to see the moon magnified some 80 times at a moon-viewing session to be held at the Wesleyan Rose Memorial Observatory Friday night.

"There's truth and poetry there for everyone to read," Professor Carroll Moore, Nebraska Wesleyan University astronomy teacher, said. "But the poetry has been over-emphasized and truth under-emphasized."

Professor Moore will give students a chance a "read the truth" about the moon Friday night when he holds a viewing session from 7 to 8:30 p.m.

Craters

"At that magnification it seems to observors that they are flying over the moon," he said. "They can see the craters and the mountains and the moon becomes a rugged, uninviting mass far out in space."

"For many who associate the moon with love in the traditional sense, it's quite a shock to see it close-up," Professor Moore said. "But it's always good for them."

The Wesleyan viewing Friday night will show the moon in the first quarter. Professor Moore said it would be especially interesting because it will be a pre-eclipse viewing. The moon is to be in eclipse at midnight, Nov. 17, he said.

Signs Of Kremlin Struggle Reported

WASHINGTON (INS) — Extremely reliable sources said Thursday there are some signs of a high level struggle for power going on inside the Kremlin.

The sources declined to give details of their information but emphasized the unusual activities they have heard about indicate the pot is boiling in Moscow.

Washington circles immediately speculated that Soviet boss Nikita Khrushchev may be waging a struggle to maintain his influence against the iron-fisted old Stalinists Vyacheslav Molotov and Lazar Kaganovich.

Foreign affairs analysts pointed to the surprise Kremlin switch to a tough policy in Hungary and to increasing signs that Russia may take action against Poland's new Titoist leadership.

Diplomat Kills Self

TOKYO (INS) — The body of a German consulate official who apparently committed suicide was found near the Japanese port of Kobe.

Japanese police said it was "presumed" that Johannes Presan, a member of the West German consulate staff at Kobe, had killed himself.

Razor blade cuts were found on both of his wrists.

Church Group OKs Proposed Housing Bill

The Lincoln Council of Churches Thursday night adopted a resolution favoring the controversial minimum housing standards ordinance now before the City Council.

The resolution supported the present bill as "as satisfactory as can be expected."

The bill would regulate the size of rooms and window areas, ventilation and such facilities as plumbing, wiring and garbage disposal.

Opponents of the ordinance contend that the restrictions would force many persons from their homes because their present financial condition would not permit them to meet requirements.

Five Injured As Toboggan Hits Washout

ARTHUR, Neb. (AP)—Five Arthur youths have been hospitalized at Ogallala following a toboggan accident.

Injured were Dean Nielsen, Robert Nielsen, Karol Knott, Denny Morrell and Leolo Aufdengarten. Miss Aufdengarten suffered cracks of both hips, Dean Nielsen injured a hip, and Robert Nielsen and Morrell suffered head injuries.

Nebraska News

The five, attending a night sleigh-riding and weiner roast party, were on the toboggan when it struck a soapweed plant and careened into a large washout ditch.

Other members of the party said the toboggan struck the far side of the washout heavily, throwing the occupants out and upon one another.

The hill north of here was covered with four to five inches of snow left by last week's blizzard.

Harrison Says He Has Offer Of D.C. Post

Rep. R. D. Harrison, Norfolk Republican who apparently lost a return ticket to Washington, said he has been offered a Washington position and has received several other "offers" as well.

A recheck of unofficial returns gave Democrat Lawrence Brock a 1,258-vote edge in the tight race for Third District Congressman and Harrison told the Associated Press he sees only an "extremely outside chance" of overtaking the Wakefield farmer.

Harrison is the Norfolk marketer for Sinclair Oil products and also owns a farm in Cedar County.

Might Stay There

"I might decide to stay here and operate the business and take care of the farm; I just don't know yet," Harrison said.

Brock, who will probably be the second Democrat since 1940 to win a partisan political office in the state, has become widely known through his activities as state Democratic chairman, and as president of the National Livestock Feeders Assn. and Cornbelt Feeders Assn.

A 1925 graduate of Leigh High School, Brock received a degree in pharmacy from the University of Nebraska in 1929 and operated a drug store for several years at Madison, Neb.

Cattle Feeder

He switched to farming at Wakefield and gradually got into cattle feeding. He is a leader in a group seeking Congressional approval of the 230-kilovolt power transmission line from Fort Randall to Grand Island.

This was Brock's first race for public office.

The AP's recheck, covering each of the district's 24 counties, showed Brock garnering 61,295 votes, Harrison 60,166.

County clerks in the 24 counties reported a total of 4,126 absentee voters' ballots in hand or expected, with some possibility this might edge higher. Absentee and disabled voters' ballots had to be mailed by Monday but can be received until Nov. 15. Some ballots of service men can be expected to arrive late.

A county by county tabulation shows:

Mr. Dickens Can Sue

NEW YORK (AP) — Finders-keepers doesn't seem to apply to Pearley Dickens, 40. Last August he uncovered $2,300 from the brickwork of a building he was helping demolish. The customary 90-day waiting period over, Dickens went to claim it. A police custodian said the building's owners were claiming the money as "abandoned," not lost. It'll now take a law suit to determine who will end up with the $2,300.

Harrison Says He Has Offer Of D.C. Post

Rep. R. D. Harrison, Norfolk Republican who apparently lost a return ticket to Washington, said he has been offered a Washington position and has received several other "offers" as well.

A recheck of unofficial returns gave Democrat Lawrence Brock a 1,258-vote edge in the tight race for Third District Congressman and Harrison told the Associated Press he sees only an "extremely outside chance" of overtaking the Wakefield farmer.

Harrison is the Norfolk marketer for Sinclair Oil products and also owns a farm in Cedar County.

Might Stay There

"I might decide to stay here and operate the business and take care of the farm; I just don't know yet," Harrison said.

Brock, who will probably be the second Democrat since 1940 to win a partisan political office in the state, has become widely known through his activities as state Democratic chairman, and as president of the National Livestock Feeders Assn. and Cornbelt Feeders Assn.

A 1925 graduate of Leigh High School, Brock received a degree in pharmacy from the University of Nebraska in 1929 and operated a drug store for several years at Madison, Neb.

Cattle Feeder

He switched to farming at Wakefield and gradually got into cattle feeding. He is a leader in a group seeking Congressional approval of the 230-kilovolt power transmission line from Fort Randall to Grand Island.

This was Brock's first race for public office.

The AP's recheck, covering each of the district's 24 counties, showed Brock garnering 61,295 votes, Harrison 60,166.

County clerks in the 24 counties reported a total of 4,126 absentee voters' ballots in hand or expected, with some possibility this might edge higher. Absentee and disabled voters' ballots had to be mailed by Monday but can be received until Nov. 15. Some ballots of service men can be expected to arrive late.

A county by county tabulation shows:

Mr. Dickens Can Sue

NEW YORK (AP) — Finders-keepers doesn't seem to apply to Pearley Dickens, 40. Last August he uncovered $2,300 from the brickwork of a building he was helping demolish. The customary 90-day waiting period over, Dickens went to claim it. A police custodian said the building's owners were claiming the money as "abandoned," not lost. It'll now take a law suit to determine who will end up with the $2,300.

EMPLOYMENT IN LINCOLN AREA BELOW LEVEL OF YEAR AGO

Total wage and salary employment for the Lincoln area was 100 below the level of a year ago during October, according to a report from the Nebraska State Employment Service.

The area includes Lancaster, Saline, Seward, Fillmore and York Counties.

Employment in industries dropped considerably, especially in construction where the loss was 500. Most of the loss occurred as peak employment at the Lincoln Air Force Base housing project was sharply curtailed.

Finance, insurance, real estate and service industries gained 100 employes and a further gain of 50 indicated the beginning of seasonal expansion for the Christmas holiday trade.

Strong seasonal advances due to holiday buying are expected to be a major factor in maintaining employment levels through the remainder of the year.

Estimated unemployment remained unchanged since September but the jobless total stands 14 per cent above a year ago.

Weaver Requests Reappraisal Of Drought Situation

FALLS CITY, Neb. (AP)—Representative Phil Weaver, Nebraska Republican, has requested that the U. S. Department of Agriculture reappraise the drought situation in Richardson County for designation as a drought area.

"For your information," Weaver wired, "southeast Nebraska, including Richardson County, has received less than one-half of normal precipitation for the year."

Then Nebraska congressman pointed out that because of the drought, the county corn corp is estimated at an average of three bushels per acre, or 10 per cent of normal.

Iowa-Nebraska Interstate Route Differences Settled

Highway Would Cross River North Of South Omaha Bridge

OMAHA (AP) — Nebraska State Engineer L. N. Ress said Thursday Iowa has agreed to route the proposed Interstate Highway east and south of Council Bluffs, resolving differences between Iowa and Nebraska over the proposed route.

The four lane highway would cross the Missouri River at a point 1½ miles north of the South Omaha bridge.

The Iowa Highway Commission had previously announced plans to route the east-west Interstate to a point about two miles south of Missouri Valley, Iowa, but Ress voiced strong objections to this route.

Ress said he learned of Iowa's decision to revert to the original east and south of Council Bluffs route when he met in Omaha Thursday with John Butter, chief engineer of the Iowa Highway Commission.

There was no immediate indication of whether Iowa still plans to run a secondary spur of the east-west interstate to a point near Missouri Valley, but the route east and south of Council Bluffs would be the main trunk.

Scottsbluff Asked To Back Frontier For Air Service

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (INS) — Frontier Air Lines President C. A. Myhre has requested the city of Scottsbluff. to endorse its efforts to provide service to western Nebraska.

Myhre urged the city to write the Civil Aeronautics Board requesting Frontier to take over service or, if United Air Lines drops its flights to Scottsbluff, to declare the city would prefer Frontier to other competing carriers.

Myhre also backed the proposal by offering to initiate two daily Denver-to-Omaha round trips with stops at Scottsbluff and a Casper-to-Omaha flight.

Get Out Vote Drive Produces Results

ORD, Neb.—A record vote was recorded at two of the three ward polls in Ord as the campaign by students of Ord High School to get out the vote produced results.

In the Valley County contests Emil Sedlacek defeated Ted Lenker for Fourth District supervisor, H. Burson defeated L. Wold in the Second District and Bill Darnes was unopposed in the Seventh District.

The Ord High School Band paraded through Ord and students carried banners urging citizens to "Remember to Vote Today." The total vote in Ord was eight votes less than the record of four years ago.

Man Badly Hurt In Fall On Steps

NORFOLK, Neb.—Clinton Davey, 46, of Norfolk suffered a brain concussion and other injuries in a fall while he was working at the General Wholesale Co.

Davey stumbled and fell down about five steps and landed face down on a concrete floor. He received a compound fracture of the right elbow and possible leg fracture in addition to the concussion.

Pelican Unexpectedly Stops At Harvard

HARVARD, Neb. (AP) — The 470 students here have a new "classmate."

A pelican, apparently on a migration trip, flew down into the school courtyard.

Supt. Arnold Edmiston said the pelican probably was attracted by a light shining on the concrete and creating an illusion of water.

The bird was trapped because of space limitations, the courtyard being too small to permit the pelican to take off.

Edmiston said the bird tried several times to escape but couldn't. Finally becoming reconciled to its predicament, the pelican began parading up and down in front of his many new admirers.

The pelican provided art lessons and nature study class first hand. One teacher and her students write essays on the bird.

School authorities called the Clay County sheriff who decided it was the duty of a game warden to come to the rescue of the stranded bird.

Meanwhile, Edmiston has been trying to feed the pelican fish and shrimp but without success. The bird refused to eat.

The superintendent expressed fear that the bird might be too weak to fly when he is freed, making him a target for dogs.

Iowa-Nebraska Interstate Route Differences Settled

Highway Would Cross River North Of South Omaha Bridge

OMAHA (AP) — Nebraska State Engineer L. N. Ress said Thursday Iowa has agreed to route the proposed Interstate Highway east and south of Council Bluffs, resolving differences between Iowa and Nebraska over the proposed route.

The four lane highway would cross the Missouri River at a point 1½ miles north of the South Omaha bridge.

The Iowa Highway Commission had previously announced plans to route the east-west Interstate to a point about two miles south of Missouri Valley, Iowa, but Ress voiced strong objections to this route.

Ress said he learned of Iowa's decision to revert to the original east and south of Council Bluffs route when he met in Omaha Thursday with John Butter, chief engineer of the Iowa Highway Commission.

There was no immediate indication of whether Iowa still plans to run a secondary spur of the east-west interstate to a point near Missouri Valley, but the route east and south of Council Bluffs would be the main trunk.

Scottsbluff Asked To Back Frontier For Air Service

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (INS) — Frontier Air Lines President C. A. Myhre has requested the city of Scottsbluff to endorse its efforts to provide service to western Nebraska.

Myhre urged the city to write the Civil Aeronautics Board requesting Frontier to take over service or, if United Air Lines drops its flights to Scottsbluff, to declare the city would prefer Frontier to other competing carriers.

Myhre also backed the proposal by offering to initiate two daily Denver-to-Omaha round trips with stops at Scottsbluff and a Casper-to-Omaha flight.

UP Manager, Publishing Executive To Speak At Press Meet

Miss Davis Allen

Marguerite Davis, a former Lincolnite who heads the United Press bureau in Chicago, and P. D. Allen, vice president of a Chicago publishing company, will give talks in Lincoln this week end.

They head the list of speakers at the 25th annual convention of the Nebraska High School Press Association Friday and Saturday at the University of Nebraska.

James Morrison, journalism professor at the university and convention director, said students from about 50 Nebraska schools are expected to attend.

The silver anniversary convention program will be the most extensive in NHSPA history, he said.

More than 75 events are planned, including 26 clinical discussions led by acting journalists and 26 more led by students.

Miss Davis will speak at a morning convocation and Allen, who is a Maclean-Hunter Publishing Corporation executive, will be speaker at a Friday evening banquet.

Miss Davis was in the United Press bureau in Omaha for a year and then came to Lincoln as temporary bureau manager in 1944.

She was appointed manager of the Chicago radio bureau in 1950 and in 1955 she was made manager of the Chicago bureau which includes both radio and newspaper services.

Allen, who is chairman of the Associated Business Publications speakers' bureau, is in charge of all United States operations for the three American Business Press publications — Rock Publications, Concrete Products and Inland Printer.

Awards

High school journalists attending the convention will compete for awards in 14 editorial, advertising and photographic contests.

Three outstanding schools newspapers and two yearbooks will receive awards from the Nebraska press.

Other convention highlights will include a tour of Lincoln publishing plants and radio and television stations, the Friday night banquet followed by a dance and variety show and the awards luncheon Saturday noon.

Speakers will include:

Carl Towley, Hopkins, Minn., representing the National Scholastic Press Association; Lee Pursley, Anderson, Ind., National Association of Journalism Directors; Gunnar Horn, Omaha, Quill and Scroll Society; Andy Lester, Des Moines, Ia., district manager for Graflex, Inc; Otto W. Quale, Owatonna, Minn., American Yearbook Co., and R. S. Thrig, Chicago, S. K. Smith Co., manufacturer of yearbook covers.

In addition, more than a dozen Nebraska newsmen will be present to advise NHSPA students.

Schools registered for the convention include Alliance, Beatrice, Belgrade, Columbus, Curtis, Cozad, St. Ludgers (Creighton), Fremont, St. Patrick's (Fremont), Fairbury, Grand Island, Gothenburg, Hastings, Imperial, Kearney, Lincoln High, Lincoln Northeast, Lincoln Southeast, Pius X (Lincoln), McCook, North Platte, Nebraska City, Omaha North, Creighton Prep (Omaha), Holy Name (Omaha), Omaha South, Omaha Tech, Omaha Central, Cathedral (Omaha), Omaha Benson, Superior, Scottsbluff, Sidney, South Sioux City, Walton and York.

UP Manager, Publishing Executive To Speak At Press Meet

Miss Davis Allen

Marguerite Davis, a former Lincolnite who heads the United Press bureau in Chicago, and P. D. Allen, vice president of a Chicago publishing company, will give talks in Lincoln this week end.

They head the list of speakers at the 25th annual convention of the Nebraska High School Press Association Friday and Saturday at the University of Nebraska.

James Morrison, journalism professor at the university and convention director, said students from about 50 Nebraska schools are expected to attend.

The silver anniversary convention program will be the most extensive in NHSPA history, he said.

More than 75 events are planned, including 26 clinical discussions led by acting journalists and 26 more led by students.

Miss Davis will speak at a morning convocation and Allen, who is a Maclean-Hunter Publishing Corporation executive, will be speaker at a Friday evening banquet.

Miss Davis was in the United Press bureau in Omaha for a year and then came to Lincoln as temporary bureau manager in 1944.

She was appointed manager of the Chicago radio bureau in 1950 and in 1955 she was made manager of the Chicago bureau which includes both radio and newspaper services.

Allen, who is chairman of the Associated Business Publications speakers' bureau, is in charge of all United States operations for the three American Business Press publications — Rock Publications, Concrete Products and Inland Printer.

Awards

High school journalists attending the convention will compete for awards in 14 editorial, advertising and photographic contests.

Three outstanding schools newspapers and two yearbooks will receive awards from the Nebraska press.

Other convention highlights will include a tour of Lincoln publishing plants and radio and television stations, the Friday night banquet followed by a dance and variety show and the awards luncheon Saturday noon.

Speakers will include:

Carl Towley, Hopkins, Minn., representing the Naitonal Scholastic Press Assoication; Lee Pursley, Anderson, Ind., National Association of Journalism Directors; Gunnar Horn, Omaha, Quill and Scroll Society; Andy Lester, Des Moines, Ia., district manager for Graflex, Inc.; Otto W. Quale, Owatonna, Minn., American Yearbook Co., and R. S. Thrig, Chicago, S. K. Smith Co., manufacturer of yearbook covers.

In addition, more than a dozen Nebraska newsmen will be present to advise NHSPA students.

Schools registered for the convention include Alliance, Beatrice, Belgrade, Columbus, Curtis, Cozad, St. Ludgers (Creighton), Fremont, St. Patrick's (Fremont), Fairbury, Grand Island, Gothenburg, Hastings, Imperial, Kearney, Lincoln High, Lincoln Northeast, Lincoln Southeast, Pius X (Lincoln), McCook, North Platte, Nebraska City, Omaha North, Creighton Prep (Omaha), Holy Name (Omaha), Omaha South, Omaha Tech, Omaha Central, Cathedral (Omaha), Omaha Benson, Superior, Scottsbluff, Sidney, South Sioux City, Walton and York.

Election Outcome Spells More Chaotic Situation For Washington

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

Regardless of which party reorganizes the Senate, Washington is in for a far more chaotic situation now than resulted from Democratic capture of Congress in 1954.

The chaos which President Eisenhower had predicted then did not result. The Democrats generally supported administration foreign policy and other important programs, with modifications of their own.

Partisanship was held within reasonable bounds. Party lines were crossed back and forth on many issues. Republicans disagreed with the President on many occasions.

But there was a different political situation.

An extremely popular President was expected to seek a second term. As the Democrats began to prepare two years ago for this year's election, becoming more belligerent as time went on, the Republicans began to close ranks and to hide their disagreements with the President. Things rather balanced up.

There will be no such coalescing force among the Republicans now. With the President barred from a third term, the line of party hopefuls will be forming very soon. Congress will become the showcase for a lot of different political wares. Republicans voting, beginning right away, will be influenced by those seeking to establish records showing presidential availability.

Democrats, on the other hand, will take on new life with the knowledge that they won't have to try to beat Eisenhower in '58. They will be out to beat the Republican party.

This means trying to establish a Congressional record which will stand clearly as their own. It means a greater display of partisanship. It means trying to cut the heads off Republican hopefuls as fast as they pop up.

In one way, the situation will provide a test of whether the nation was wise in banning presidential third terms.

Heretofore a President has always been able to preserve a part of his authority by keeping his future plans to himself. Hereafter everybody will know that, as his term shortens, his power is coming to an end.

One thing will obscure the test. President Eisenhower's tremendous popularity may cause some who would oppose him to go slow.

Poles Purge Name Of Pro-Moscow Minister

VIENNA (AP) — The Polish city of Poznan, whose June 28 bread-and-freedom riots sparked the political upheavals in Poland, has purged the name of Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky from its streets and parks.

Rokossovsky is the pro-Moscow Polish minister of defense now—reported "on leave" in Russia and not likely to come back.

The Poznan City Council said his name was no longer acceptable because it was connected with "the personality cult" of Stalinism.

STUDENTS TOUGHER ON ACCUSED THAN PITTSBURGH JURY

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A group of 40 high school students listened attentively to a trial of a man accused of sounding a false alarm.

After the case was given to the jury an assistant district attorney suggested the judge test the student reaction.

With the regular jury and the defendant out of the courtroom the judge polled the students. They all voted "guilty."

An hour later the jury returned. The verdict:

"Not guilty."

Commissioner: State Should 'Simplify' Speed Law

Lancaster County Commissioner Del Lienemann, who advocates the posting of truck speed signs, has come up with a "simplified speed law" that he plans to recommend to the Legislature.

His proposed limits would be 60 miles per hour for passenger cars, day or night; 55 for buses, and 50 for trucks of all kinds.

Last month Lancaster County asked that truck speed limit signs be posted on its highways, but State Engineer L. N. Ress said such signs would be cumbersome because the 50 m.p.h. limit does not apply to all trucks.

31 Post Signs

In a 47-state survey made by Lienemann, 31 of the 43 answering states said they post truck speed signs on their highways.

Twenty-nine states have truck speeds lower than passenger speeds, Lienemann said. Four states have truck speed laws, but no passenger speeds. The other 25 states have truck speeds ranging from 10 to 20 miles per hour slower than passenger car limits.

Lienemann said his survey showed that only 16 states have different speed limits for day and night. Most states give the department in charge authority to post special signs if a lower speed limit is necessary for safety.

'Convinced'

The commissioner said the survey "convinces" him that in the interest of public safety, Nebraska should have distinctive speeds for passenger cars, buses, and trucks which are clear and easily enforced.

"To simplify our speed laws," Lienemann said, "it would appear that one speed law for day and night, as used by most states, would be the most satisfactory," but with special authority to lower speed limit signs for safety wherever needed.

Speed limits for cars and buses in the state are 60 daytime and 50 nighttime. Trucks with a gross weight of 10 tons or more, including loads, are limited to 50 miles per hour.

CLAIMS COURT RULES AGAINST SIOUX INDIANS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U. S. Court of Claims has ruled against a claim by the Sioux Indians of South Dakota for additional payment for land taken by the government under an 1877 law.

The tribe contended the 1877 Act violated provisions of a treaty signed in 1868 which gave the Indians more than seven million acres in the Black Hills of South Dakota.

But the court of claims said Congress acted properly, even though it disregarded some provisions of the 1868 treaty. Payments made to the Indians at the time were inadequate, it added.

The court said treaties do not prevent Congress from passing laws inconsistent with the treaties as long as the purpose is for the good of the country as a whole.

State, 10 Others Petition ICC For Hearing On RR Rate Hike

The Nebraska Railway Commission is joining with 10 other midwest states in a petition to the Interstate Commerce Commission seeking a full hearing in the ICC's ordered investigation of a 15 per cent freight rate increase requested by eastern and western railroads.

A State Railway Commission spokesman said the case could be decided by Feb. 1, since the railroads filed their application with the ICC in September.

The Railway Commission wants to slow down the process and is asking the ICC to provide for oral testimony of protesting parties, regional hearings throughout the country and modification of time schedules to permit protesting parties to prepare evidence and arguments.

The State Commission said it believes a full hearing is essential to "protect the right of every shipper and receiver of freight."

It said it wants regional hearings so that a "full record may be developed" in the interests of all concerned, and shippers will be spared the expense of having to travel to Washington, D.C., to present their testimony.

1-Year Reformatory Term For Missourian

Charles A. Schneider Jr., 23, of Springfield, Mo., was sentenced to a one-year Reformatory term and fined $10 in Lancaster District Court for the removal of mortgaged property.

The former Lincoln resident had pleaded guilty to taking from the state on May 7 a car mortgaged to Misle Chevrolet Co. with intent to defraud the lienholder.

Judge John Polk pronounced sentence.

State, 10 Others Petition ICC For Hearing On RR Rate Hike

The Nebraska Railway Commission is joining with 10 other midwest states in a petition to the Interstate Commerce Commission seeking a full hearing in the ICC's ordered investigation of a 15 per cent freight rate increase requested by eastern and western railroads.

A State Railway Commission spokesman said the case could be decided by Feb. 1, since the railroads filed their application with the ICC in September.

The Railway Commission wants to slow down the process and is asking the ICC to provide for oral testimony of protesting parties, regional hearings throughout the country and modification of time schedules to permit protesting parties to prepare evidence and arguments.

The State Commission said it believes a full hearing is essential to "protect the right of every shipper and receiver of freight."

It said it wants regional hearings so that a "full record may be developed" in the interests of all concerned, and shippers will be spared the expense of having to travel to Washington, D.C., to present their testimony.

Rockets May Pray For Rain In Tilt With Links Tonight

LINKS' BUSY BACK

DON DAVIS, Lincoln . . . Tailback threat. (Star Photo).

By BOB McCOY
Star Sports Staff Writer

The Northeast Rockets may be praying for rain when they travel across town to meet Lincoln High in the 16th edition of their intra-city rivalry in the feature of tonight's Capital City prep action as all four local schools close out their 1956 campaigns.

For, in the years since the grid rivalry began back in 1941, the Rockets have been able to take home only two victories, both in the mud in 1949 and 1950, respectively.

GAMES TONIGHT
Pius X at Auburn, 8 p.m.
Southeast at Grand Island, 8 p.m.
Northeast at Lincoln High (Oval) 7:30 p.m.

The 25-0 success in 1950 was the last for the Rockets in the series and was engineered by Jim Cederdahl and company who were running wild on the local prep scene. The victory carried the Rockets to a perfect record that season and the mythical state championship.

But since then, the Northeast eleven has been able to score only twice on the mighty Links, both touchdowns coming a year ago in a 34-13 loss.

The Links ran up their highest score on the Rockets, 60-0, back in 1954 enroute to the state Class A crown.

However tonight's battle will not be a matter of who has the most horses, but rather who has the most heart.

For neither the Links nor the Rockets are taking a very impressive record into this year's contest, but the arch rivalry will still be there and the contest promises to be one of the closest of the entire series.

The Links, who will complete their worst season in many a moon carry a 2-6 mark into the battle while the Rockets come into the contest with an 0-8 slate.

But Northeast coach Bun Galloway says his boys have been fired up and enthusiastic in practice this week and will be going all out to complete what would be a "successful season" for them if they can topple the Links.

Meanwhile Coach Ed Schwartzkopf has been drilling his Links on pass defense, expected a barrage of aerials from Northeast's Bob Els, and has been trying to get his team "up" for the game.

The contest promises to feature the Rockets' passing attack paced by quarterback Els and running efforts by halfback Gene Smith opposing a Link ground game with tailback Don Davis and sophomore fullback Larry Grenemeier leading the way.

The game will feature 13 Lincoln High and 14 Northeast seniors seeing their last prep action.

In other games tonight, Pius X is on the road at Auburn and Southeast will be facing Grand Island in the Islanders own back yard.

Coach Vince Aldrich's Thunderbolts from Pius X will be trying to put the finishing touches on their best seasonal record since the school switched to 11 man ball in 1952.

Past Scores

1911—Lincoln High 12, Northeast 6.
1912—Lincoln High 14, Northeast 0
1913—Lincoln High 20, Northeast 0.
1914—Lincoln High 6, Northeast 0
1915—Lincoln High 12, Northeast 6.
1946—Lincoln High 20, Northeast 0.
1947—Lincoln High 20, Northeast 7
1948—Lincoln High 26, Northeast 0.
1949—Northeast 14, Lincoln High 12.
1950—Northeast 27, Lincoln High 0
1951—Lincoln High 26, Northeast 0.
1952—Lincoln High 74, Northeast 0.
1953—Lincoln High 18, Northeast 0.
1954—Lincoln High 60, Northeast 0
1955—Lincoln High 31, Northeast 12.

The Pius record now stands at 7-1 and another victory would up it to 8-1, bettering the old standard of 6-1-2 set by Lincoln Cathedral (now Pius) a year ago.

But the Thunderbolts will face a rough assignment against a rugged Auburn crew who own five victories this season, one a 12-0 decision over Class A Falls City.

Nine Pius seniors will see their last prep action, among them backs Joe Neal and George Easley who will be in a showdown for the city scoring title. Easley currently holds a slim 53 to 51 point advantage.

Southeast Hot

Southeast, the hottest team in the city right now, with three straight victories following five early season losses, will also be up against strong competition when it faces Grand Island.

In a pre-season forecast, Coach Tom Gillaspie said "the Knights will show improvement over 1955 if they win three games" but the guess from this corner is that the Islanders will have too much power for the already "improved" Southeast crew tonight although upsets do occur.

SWISS QUIT GAMES

Hungarian Situation Protested

OLTEN, Switzerland (AP) — Switzerland withdrew from the Melbourne Olympics Thursday, the third nation to step out of the games within the past two days because of Russian military action in Hungary.

Spain and the Netherlands withdrew earlier in the week, while three other nations also have pulled out of the war-traveled games scheduled to begin Nov. 22. Red China and Iraq decided within the last week not to send teams, while Egypt withdrew in August.

Egypt acted long before the present Suez crisis reached the shooting stage, declaring it had no athletes of Olympic calibre.

Heated Discussion

The irrevocable decision by the Swiss Olympic Committee came after two days of heated discussion among Swiss sports federations.

The Swiss committee voted Wednesday to compete at Melbourne only if none of the Swiss athletes withdrew. Several of the sports federations, which earlier had announced they would refuse to go to Australia as a protest against Russian repression of Hungary, changed their minds.

The gymnastic federation, however, refused to take part in any event in which the Soviets competed. It was in the face of an absolute refusal by the gymnasts that the entire Swiss participation in the Olympics was cancelled.

None of the Swiss athletes probably was in the gold medal class. It was more of a blow to prestige than to the athletes, because the headquarters of the International Olympic Committee is at Lausanne.

Meanwhile, the international committee at Lausanne sharply rejected an Egyptian demand that the nations "guilty of cowardly aggression against Egypt" should be expelled from the games.

The Egyptian Olympic Committee declared Wednesday that the presence of "aggressor nations" would "besmirch the Olympic ideal."

The IOC replied Thursday that it was "astonished by the (Egyptian) intervention, which is based on purely political motives and is all the more regrettable in view of Egypt's own withdrawal from the Olympic Games."

Otto Mayer, chancellor of the IOC, had this comment on the Swiss withdrawal:

"It is a disgrace that Switzerland, a neutral nation and the very country where the International Olympic Committee has its headquarters, should set such a shameful example of political interference in the Olympic ideal."

Mayer, a Swiss himself, echoed the view expressed by some Swiss newspapers that the gymnasts who won some medals at the Helsinki Olympics in 1952 were using the Hungary incident as an excuse. The press had said several nations have improved greatly in gymnastics since 1952.

"They did not want the world to know they have fallen into a state of decadence," Mayer said.

There are 245 Russian athletes and officials already in Melbourne. Most of them arrived aboard ship yesterday, along with 17 Hungarians, four Bulgarians and two Albanians who left Odessa a month ago.

Olympic Officials Fear Hungarian Explosions

By WILL GRIMSLEY

MELBOURNE (AP) — Olympic officials struggling to preserve the ancient games in face of political crises and recurring withdrawals steeled themselves Thursday for the impending arrival of a strong Hungarian team which threatens new and more bitter repercussions.

The Hungarians, most of whom fought against the Russians in the recent uprising, were scheduled to reach Darwin Friday by air and then proceed to Melbourne, probably arriving Saturday.

Controversy may explode at the official flag-raising ceremony at which Communist colors bearing the hammer and sickle are to be hoisted in accordance with Olympic tradition.

Protest Sure

One Hungarian here, who declined to be identified, said the team was sure to protest and refuse to compete under the Communist banner. He said the athletes, numbering more than 100 in all and comprising one of the most powerful aggregations in the games, will demand the return of the ancient Hungarian crown flag which was the country's insignia for centuries before it went under Soviet domination.

"These people will not compete under Communist colors," the spokesman said. "I think they would withdraw before doing so."

A small group of Hungarians, including Olympic Committee Secretary Impre Unger, arrived here last night aboard the Russian liner Gruzia. But they have been very careful about discussing the situation. They maintain they are not familiar with developments because of the month at sea during which communications were vague.

The Hungarian team won 16 gold medals at Helsinki in 1952 and was third in the unofficial points standings behind the United States and Russia. It consists of some of the best athletes in the world.

They include distance runner Laszlo Tabori, middle distance men Lajos Szentgali and Istvan Rozsavolgyi, discus thrower Ferrec Klics, and Laszlo Papp, the boxer who won the middleweight championship at the last two games. Another of the world's leading distance runners, Sandor Iharos, is with the team but is not expected to compete because of an illness which set back his training.

Tensions Explode

The situation is similar to that which caused the withdrawal of Communist China because the flag of the Nationalist China team from Formosa was raised at the village. Holland, Spain, Switerland and Iraq subsequently pulled out as a result of fighting and international tensions in Europe and the Near East.

Pete Labels KU 'One Of Toughest'

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

Thirty-six Nebraska Cornhuskers will depart Friday morning for what Coach Pete Elliott calls "one of the toughest games of the year for us."

The Husker traveling squad will bus to Topeka, Kan., workout, and stay overnight before journeying on to Lawrence Saturday morning for the battle with the Kansas Jayhawks.

Elliott's only comment Thursday when informed the Cornhuskers were seven point underdogs was: "Well, I feel this will be one of the toughest games of the year for us."

"From all I've heard this (Homer) Floyd must be a great back," Pete said. "He's broken up several games for them."

The Husker coach said the overall physical condition of the squad was "good."

"We got a few aggravating injuries, bumps and bruises, but our general physical condition should be good."

Howard McVay, Ogallala sophomore who is out for the season because of an elbow infection, will be the only Husker unfit for duty against the Jayhawks.

Nebraska's starting lineup was also set by Elliott Thursday. It will be almost the same club that opened against Missouri. Willie Greenlaw at right half and George Harshman at quarterback are the only newcomers.

Traveling roster:

Ends—Marlin Hilding, Stu Howerter, Clarence Cook, Mike Lee, Bill Edwards, Gus Sapp, Charles Tvoukalos.
Tackles—Jerry Petersen, Jack Fleming, Don Kampe, Jerry Wheeler, Mal Dobrman, Dick Kilgore.
Guards—LaVerne Torczon, Jim Murphy, Art Klem, Don Rhoda, Time English, Larry Jones, Max Kitzelman.
Centers—Bob Bergulin, Dick McCashland, Bob Lyall, Dick Prusia.
Quarterbacks—George Harshman, Gordon Englert, Roy Stinnett.
Halfbacks — Willie Greenlaw, Frank Nappi, Bill Hawkins, Larry Naviaux, Leo George, Gene Sandage.
Fullbacks—Jerry Brown, Doug Thomas, Gene Raman.

Husker Freshmen After Second Victory Today

The University of Nebraska freshman football team will seek its second victory of the year Friday afternoon at Memorial Stadium against the Kansas State frosh.

It will be the only local appearance of the 1956 freshman. The contest is slated for 2:30 p.m. Faculty and student tickets will be honored. Prices are $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Last week Coach Gene Stauber's yearlings took a sizzling 20-14 win from the Iowa State freshman club at Ames, building up a substantial lead and then holding off the young Cyclones.

Kansas State's frosh will supply plenty of trouble for the Husker team. The Wildcat freshman romped over the University of Kansas frosh, 34-13, last week.

Two Nebraska freshman stars may be sidelined Friday afternoon when the Husker yearlings tackle the Kansas State frosh at Memorial Stadium.

Coach Gene Stauber reported Thursday that right end Glen Hepburn is bothered by a bruised thigh and halfback Max Martz has a knee injury. Both were being counted on as starters today.

If Hepburn can't go, Roger Brede of Ainsworth will get the call at right end; Ben Cacioppo of Omaha will take Martz' place if the latter has to miss the contest.

Keller, Umland To Captain NW

A top lineman and back for Nebraska Wesleyan University have been chosen to co-captain the Plainsmen as they try to stop Kearney's winning streak at Kearney Friday.

They are Lowell Umland, Eagle sophomore, and Dick Keller, Harvard junior.

Umland has worked his way into a starting position as the Wesleyan right guard. And Keller is the leading ground gainer for Wesleyan with 364 yards rushing.

Umland is a 178-pounder who stands 5-10.

Keller weighs 160 pounds and stands 5-7½.

Wesleyan Seeks Upset Of Unbeaten Kearney

Coach Kieth Skogman sends his improving Nebraska Wesleyan University football team against Kearney Friday night in an attempt to drop the Antelopes from the undefeated ranks.

Coach Al Zikmund's Kearney squad has won eight consecutive games this season and carry a 6-0 mark as leaders of the Nebraska College Conference. A victory tonight will cinch the NCC title for Kearney. Wesleyan is in fourth place in the conference with a 3-3 mark.

Two things point to a tough battle, even though Wesleyan will go into the game as underdogs because of its 3-5 season mark.

The Plainsmen have been toughening as the season progressed. They dropped their first three games, and since then have won three of five. Last week Wesleyan upset favored Doane 10-6 in a rugged defensive battle.

And the Kearney-Wesleyan battle is traditionally a tough, close game. In 21 games Wesleyan has won 10, Kearney eight, and three games have been ties.

Last year Kearney dumped Wesleyan 21-6. But the two games previous to that were ties. Wesleyan last defeated Kearney in 1952, 20-7.

Line Healthy

Coach Skogman will have a couple of things in his favor when his squad takes the field at Kearney Friday afternoon. His line, which has been rugged all season long, will be in tip-top shape.

And his set of pony backs will be ready for full-throttle running.

Greeno can choose between Jim Carr, hard-running Seward freshman; Don Carter, Atchison, Kansas junior, and Keller at fullback. Keller ran well at fullback against Midland and Doane. Carr hit well up the middle against Peru. Carter has shown signs of great running ability.

Skogman plans to start the same line that went against Doane. He will have Bob Cecil and Dale Lemon at ends; Roger Harbert and Don Keller at tackles; Lowell Umland and Jack Wiltfang at guards; and Gary O'Mara at center.

Greeno plans to start Bob Heffelfinger at quarterback; Starr, Keller or Lewis at the halfbacks, and Carr or Keller at the fullback slot.

POINT BLANK

By Don Bryant
Sports Editor, The Star

Pepped by an upset victory over Missouri, the Nebraska Cornhuskers this week will try to make it two-in-a-row.

Kansas is a tough assignment. The Jayhawks will enjoy the benefit of a Homecoming atmosphere and apparently have a better running attack than Missouri.

But the Huskers are improving and the win over the Tigers proved the value of four quarters of hustling.

Most everything points to a Kansas victory — except Nebraska's desire. If it's up to par and the Huskers force some breaks, they can spoil KU's Homecoming.

Here's a vote for the Cornhuskers.

With 257 right guesses against 63 wrong ones, the season percentage stands at .803. Let's try again:

Controversy may explode at the official flag-raising ceremony at which Communist colors bearing the hammer and sickle are to be hoisted in accordance with Olympic tradition.

Protest Sure

One Hungarian here, who declined to be identified, said the team was sure to protest and refuse to compete under the Communist banner. He said the athletes, numbering more than 100 in all and comprising one of the most powerful aggregations in the games, will demand the return of the ancient Hungarian crown flag which was the country's insignia for centuries before it went under Soviet domination.

"These people will not compete under Communist colors," the spokesman said. "I think they would withdraw before doing so."

A small group of Hungarians, including Olympic Committee Secretary Impre Unger, arrived here last night aboard the Russian liner Gruzia. But they have been very careful about discussing the situation. They maintain they are not familiar with developments because of the month at sea during which communications were vague.

The Hungarian team won 16 gold medals at Helsinki in 1952 and was third in the unofficial points standings behind the United States and Russia. It consists of some of the best athletes in the world.

They include distance runner Laszlo Tabori, middle distance men Lajos Szentgali and Istvan Rozsavolgyi, discus thrower Ferec Klics, and Laszlo Papp, the boxer who won the middleweight championship at the last two games. Another of the world's leading distance runners, Sandor Iharos, is with the team but is not expected to compete because of an illness which set back his training.

Tensions Explode

The situation is similar to that which caused the withdrawal of Communist China because the flag of the Nationalist China team from Formosa was raised at the village. Holland, Spain, Switerland and Iraq subsequently pulled out as a result of fighting and international tensions in Europe and the Near East.

Pete Labels KU 'One Of Toughest'

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

Thirty-six Nebraska Cornhuskers will depart Friday morning for what Coach Pete Elliott calls "one of the toughest games of the year for us."

The Husker traveling squad will bus to Topeka, Kan., workout, and stay overnight before journeying on to Lawrence Saturday morning for the battle with the Kansas Jayhawks.

Elliott's only comment Thursday when informed the Cornhuskers were seven point underdogs was: "Well, I feel this will be one of the toughest games of the year for us."

"From all I've heard this (Homer) Floyd must be a great back," Pete said. "He's broken up several games for them."

The Husker coach said the overall physical condition of the squad was "good."

"We got a few aggravating injuries, bumps and bruises, but our general physical condition should be good."

Howard McVay, Ogallala sophomore who is out for the season because of an elbow infection, will be the only Husker unfit for duty against the Jayhawks.

Nebraska's starting lineup was also set by Elliott Thursday. It will be almost the same club that opened against Missouri. Willie Greenlaw at right half and George Harshman at quarterback are the only newcomers.

Traveling roster:

Ends—Marlin Hilding, Stu Howerter, Clarence Cook, Mike Lee, Bill Edwards, Guy Sapp, Charles Tsoukalas.
Tackles—Jerry Petersen, Jack Fleming, Don Kampe, Jerry Wheeler, Mal Dohrman, Dick Klieber.
Guards—LaVerne Torczon, Jim Murphy, Art Klein, Don Rhoda, Ernie English, Larry Jones, Max Kitzelman.
Centers—Bob Berguin, Dick McCashland, Bob Lyall, Dick Prusia.
Quarterbacks—George Harshman, Gordon Englert, Roy Stinnett.
Halfbacks — Willie Greenlaw, Frank Nappi, Bill Hawkins, Larry Naviaux, Leo George, Gene Sandage.
Fullbacks—Jerry Brown, Doug Thomas, Gene Haman.

Husker Freshmen After Second Victory Today

The University of Nebraska freshman football team will seek its second victory of the year Friday afternoon at Memoiral Stadium against the Kansas State frosh.

It will be the only local appearance of the 1956 freshman. The contest is slated for 2:30 p.m. Faculty and student tickets will be honored. Prices are $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Last week Coach Gene Stauber's yearlings took a sizzling 20-14 win from the Iowa State freshman club at Ames, building up a substantial lead and then holding off the young Cyclones.

Kansas State's frosh will supply plenty of trouble for the Husker team. The Wildcat freshman romped over the University of Kansas frosh, 34-13, last week.

Two Nebraska freshman stars may be sidelined Friday afternoon when the Husker yearlings tackle the Kansas State frosh at Memorial Stadium.

Coach Gene Stauber reported Thursday that right end Glen Hepburn is bothered by a bruised thigh and halfback Max Martz has a knee injury. Both were being counted on as starters today.

If Hepburn can't go, Roger Brede of Ainsworth will get the call at right end; Ben Cacioppo of Omaha will take Martz' place if the latter has to miss the contest.

Keller, Umland To Captain NW

A top lineman and back for Nebraska Wesleyan University have been chosen to co-captain the Plainsmen as they try to stop Kearney's winning streak at Kearney Friday.

They are Lowell Umland, Eagle sophomore, and Dick Keller, Harvard junior.

Umland has worked his way into a starting position as the Wesleyan right guard. And Keller is the leading ground gainer for Wesleyan with 364 yards rushing.

Umland is a 178-pounder who stands 5-10.

Keller weighs 160 pounds and stands 5-7½.

Wesleyan Seeks Upset Of Unbeaten Kearney

Coach Kieth Skogman sends his improving Nebraska Wesleyan University football team against Kearney Friday night in an attempt to drop the Antelopes from the undefeated ranks.

Coach Al Zikmund's Kearney squad has won eight consecutive games this season and carry a 6-0 mark as leaders of the Nebraska College Conference. A victory tonight will cinch the NCC title for Kearney. Wesleyan is in fourth place in the conference with a 3-3 mark.

Two things point to a tough battle, even though Wesleyan will go into the game as underdogs because of its 3-5 season mark.

The Plainsmen have been toughening as the season progressed. They dropped their first three games, and since then have won three of five. Last week Wesleyan upset favored Doane 10-6 in a rugged defensive battle.

And the Kearney-Wesleyan battle is traditionally a tough, close game. In 21 games Wesleyan has won 10, Kearney eight, and three games have been ties.

Last year Kearney dumped Wesleyan 21-6. But the two games previous to that were ties. Wesleyan last defeated Kearney in 1952, 20-7.

Line Healthy

Coach Skogman will have a couple of things in his favor when his squad takes the field at Kearney Friday afternoon. His line, which has been rugged all season long, will be in tip-top shape.

And his set of pony backs will be ready for full-throttle running.

Greeno can choose between Jim Carr, hard-running Seward freshman; Don Carter, Atchison, Kansas junior, and Keller at fullback. Keller ran well at fullback against Midland and Doane. Carr hit well up the middle against Peru. Carter has shown signs of great running ability.

Skogman plans to start the same line that went against Doane. He will have Bob Cecil and Dale Lemon at ends; Roger Harbert and Don Keller at tackles; Lowell Umland and Jack Wiltfang at guards; and Gary O'Mara at center.

Greeno plans to start Bob Heffelfinger at quarterback; Starr, Keller or Lewis at the halfbacks, and Carr or Keller at the fullback slot.

Pepped by an upset victory over Missouri, the Nebraska Cornhuskers this week will try to make it two-in-a-row.

Kansas is a tough assignment. The Jayhawks will enjoy the benefit of a Homecoming atmosphere and apparently have a better running attack than Missouri.

But the Huskers are improving and the win over the Tigers proved the value of four quarters of hustling.

Most everything points to a Kansas victory — except Nebraska's desire. If it's up to par and the Huskers force some breaks, they can spoil KU's Homecoming.

Here's a vote for the Cornhuskers.

With 257 right guesses against 63 wrong ones, the season percentage stands at .803. Let's try again:

North-South, Hastings-Fremont Games Head Slate

Rated Teams Collide In Afternoon Contests

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Writer

Two football games of king-size importance get top billing on Friday's Nebraska high school football program.

This will be the last week of football for most schools. A few games remain the following week.

Top-ranked Omaha North meets Omaha South at Benson Field Friday afternoon in one of the big ones. Hastings is host to Fremont in the other.

North, undefeated in seven starts, will be seeking to clinch the state championship. South will be gunning for an upset and is given by many observers a good chance. South has won six straight after an opening loss.

This one could be close, or North might make it a runaway. The choice here is North by two touchdowns over third-ranked South.

Hastings and Fremont match perfect 8-0 records in a showdown for the Big Ten East Division championship and the right to meet McCook in the Big Ten's post-season playoff.

Hastings is rated fourth and Fremont fifth in the ratings. Fremont has an edge in backfield depth, but Hastings looks more solid up front. The nod goes to Hastings on a home field basis.

Several other key battles feature the program.

The luster of the annual Lincoln-Northeast game is dimmed by the past records of the opponents — Lincoln is 2-6 and Northeast 0-8 going into the windup.

Bellevue faces a tough test in Class A Plattsmouth in an Ak Sar-Ben Conference game. Crete faces Class A Beatrice in an important Twin Rivers scrap. Fairbury at Falls City is another T-R game.

Oshkosh at Grant is billed as a Class C state championship game.

Ron Gibson's selections in the leading games:

Lincoln over Northeast — The Links should have their most productive evening at Rocket expense.

Grand Island over Southeast — Grand Island spoiling for victory after two straight losses; Knights might come close.

Pius X over Auburn — This one should be a good scrap but Pius' ground attack will prevail.

Crete over Beatrice — Crete backfield too much of a problem for Beatrice line.

Fairbury over Falls City — Jeffs riding high as several seniors have found themselves.

Tecumseh over Nebraska City — But Pioneers could surprise if shifty Dick Place gets loose.

Bellevue over Plattsmouth — Chieftains' speed should more than offset Plattsmouth power.

Kearney over Gothenburg — Kearney up after loss to McCook.

Oshkosh over Grant — Both teams have been idle for two weeks; Grant may be hurt by short schedule.

Creighton Prep over Omaha Cathedral — A breeze for the Bluejays.

Scottsbluff over Alliance — Bearcats should have no trouble.

Others: Schuyler over Wahoo, Omaha Westside over Ashland, Central City over David City, Broken Bow over Curtis, Seward over Columbus, Cozad over Minden, Stanton over Fullerton, Trenton over Imperial, North Platte over Lexington, Plainview over Wayne, Sidney over York, Exeter over Mead, Big Springs over Dalton, Diller over Beatrice St. Joseph, Dannebrog over Palmer.

The schedule:

11-MAN GAMES

Berrios, Elorde Scrap Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — Little Miguel Berrios, the busy Puerto Rican featherweight challenger, takes on Flash Elorde, a Philippine southpaw, in Friday night's 10-round match at Madison Square Garden.

The rematch of an Aug. 22 scrap at San Francisco in which Berrios won a split decision will be carried on network (NBC) radio and television, starting at 9 p.m. CST.

N Club's New Members

Arcaro Tells On Mr. Millions—

Nashua Didn't Like Company Or Clods

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Jockey Eddie Arcaro left a secret out of the stable Thursday—the great Nashua wouldn't run against dirt kicked in his face.

Neither was the champ of all Thoroughbred money winners happy when another horse was running on his outside.

Arcaro told on his old chum at a National Press Club luncheon in advance of the Washington International on the turf at Laurel next Monday.

Racing's little money bags delighted an audience which isn't recognized for skill at the mutuel windows. He said he hadn't hit on "the system" himself.

Arcaro said he didn't mind talking about Nashua now that Mr. Millions has retired and the information can't be used against him. Nashua, with Arcaro aboard on all but four occasions, amassed a record $1,288,565 over three seasons.

Arcaro said the best horse he's ever seen was Citation, who "ran like a souped-up Cadillac and had more sense than most of the jockeys who rode him." Citation also possessed a great fighting spirit, added the veteran of 26 years in the stirrups.

"Nashua didn't have that will to fight when he got in trouble." Arcaro said. "And when he got dirt in his face, he wouldn't run against it.

"I've never told that before, but he's retired now so I guess it's safe.

"I used to be criticized sometimes for overhustling Nashua. Well, I hustled him because he didn't much like a horse on the outside of him."

Arcaro wasn't complaining about the horse that contributed so well to his bank account. The opportunity to ride Thoroughbreds in the class of Citation, Native Dancer and Nashua makes aging Eddie put off thoughts of his own retirement.

Arcaro will ride C. V. Whitney's Figherman in the International. He and Fisherman teamed for America's only victory in this classic two years ago.

"He has a pretty good chance, although he's two years older than when I won on him," Arcaro said. He rated Llangollen Farm's Mister Gus as perhaps "the best of our American prospects" in the $100,000 race against horses from six other countries."

YOU BE THE QUARTERBACK

By WARREN GAER
Head Football Coach, Drake University

George Washington and Richmond have battled on even terms the first half and the score is 6-6.

Richmond has made several first downs by rushing the first half and capitalized on its one good scoring threat. Now Richmond, with a good quick kicker available, has run three plays for nine yards and has the ball on its own 41, fourth down and one.

You be the Richmond quarterback. Rate these plays 1, 2, 3 and 4:

Punt.
Quarterback sneak (quarterback takes ball and drives forward).
Quick kick from usual running formation.
Fake drive through the line and pass to an end.

St. Mary's Blanks Concordia, 20-0

DAVID CITY—David City St. Mary's took advantage of cold weather which held Seward Concordia's passing attack down and tallied a touchdown in each of the final three quarters to take a 20-0 victory here Thursday night.

Ken Dill paced the winners by scoring two touchdowns.

Concordia lost its only chance to score in the third quarter by fumbling on the David City nine after a pass interference penalty had given them a first down on the four.

The victory ended the season for St. Mary's and gave them an 8-0 record for the campaign. It was the second consecutive undefeated season for the Knights and gives them a string of 17 straight victories.

St. Mary's	0	6	7	7	—20

St. Mary's scoring—Touchdowns: Ken Dill 2 (4, plunge, 13 run); Gene Reisdorff (13 pass from Max Coufal). Coversions: Coufal 2 (dropkicks).

Two football games of king-size importance get top billing on Friday's Nebraska high school football program.

This will be the last week of football for most schools. A few games remain the following week.

Top-ranked Omaha North meets Omaha South at Benson Field Friday afternoon in one of the big ones. Hastings is host to Fremont in the other.

North, undefeated in seven starts, will be seeking to clinch the state championship. South will be gunning for an upset and is given by many observers a good chance. South has won six straight after an opening loss.

This one could be close, or North might make it a runaway. The choice here is North by two touchdowns over third-ranked South.

Hastings and Fremont match perfect 8-0 records in a showdown for the Big Ten East Division championship and the right to meet McCook in the Big Ten's post-season playoff.

Hastings is rated fourth and Fremont fifth in the ratings. Fremont has an edge in backfield depth, but Hastings looks more solid up front. The nod goes to Hastings on a home field basis.

Several other key battles feature the program.

The luster of the annual Lincoln-Northeast game is dimmed by the past records of the opponents — Lincoln is 2-6 and Northeast 0-8 going into the windup.

Bellevue faces a tough test in Class A Plattsmouth in an Ak-Sar-Ben Conference game. Crete faces Class A Beatrice in an important Twin Rivers scrap. Fairbury at Falls City is another T-R game.

Kearney can settle the Southwest Conference title argument with a win over Gothenburg. Tecumseh can win the Southeast Nebraska Conference championship with a victory at Nebraska City.

Oshkosh at Grant is billed as a Class C state championship game.

Ron Gibson's selections in the leading games:

Lincoln over Northeast — The Links should have their most productive evening at Rocket expense.

Grand Island over Southeast — Grand Island spoiling for victory after two straight losses; Knights might come close.

Pius X over Auburn — This one should be a good scrap but Pius' ground attack will prevail.

Crete over Beatrice — Crete backfield too much of a problem for Beatrice line.

Fairbury over Falls City — Jeffs riding high as several seniors have found themselves.

Tecumseh over Nebraska City — But Pioneers could surprise if shifty Dick Place gets loose.

Bellevue over Plattsmouth — Chieftains' speed should more than offset Plattsmouth power.

Kearney over Gothenburg — Kearney up after loss to McCook.

Oshkosh over Grant — Both teams have been idle for two weeks; Grant may be hurt by short schedule.

Creighton Prep over Omaha Cathedral — A breeze for the Bluejays.

Scottsbluff over Alliance — Bearcats should have no trouble.

Others: Schuyler over Wahoo, Omaha Westside over Ashland, Central City over David City, Broken Bow over Curtis, Seward over Columbus, Cozad over Minden, Stanton over Fullerton, Trenton over Imperial, North Platte over Lexington, Plainview over Wayne, Sidney over York, Exeter over Mead, Big Springs over Dalton, Diller over Beatrice St. Joseph, Dannebrog over Palmer.

Arcaro Tells On Mr. Millions—

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Jockey Eddie Arcaro left a secret out of the stable Thursday—the great Nashua wouldn't run against dirt kicked in his face.

Neither was the champ of all Thoroughbred money winners happy when another horse was running on his outside.

Arcaro told on his old chum at a National Press Club luncheon in advance of the Washington International on the turf at Laurel next Monday.

Racing's little money bags delighted an audience which isn't recognized for skill at the mutuel windows. He said he hadn't hit on "the system" himself.

Arcaro said he didn't mind talking about Nashua now that Mr. Millions has retired and the information can't be used against him. Nashua, with Arcaro aboard on all but four occasions, amassed a record $1,288,565 over three seasons.

Arcaro said the best horse he's ever seen was Citation, who "ran like a souped-up Cadillac and had more sense than most of the jockeys who rode him." Citation also possessed a great fighting spirit, added the veteran of 26 years in the stirrups.

"Nashua didn't have that will to fight when he got in trouble." Arcaro said. "And when he got dirt in his face, he wouldn't run against it.

"I've never told that before, but he's retired now so I guess it's safe.

"I used to be criticized sometimes for overhustling Nashua. Well, I hustled him because he didn't much like a horse on the outside of him."

Arcaro wasn't complaining about the horse that contributed so well to his bank account. The opportunity to ride Thoroughbreds in the class of Citation, Native Dancer and Nashua makes aging Eddie put off thoughts of his own retirement.

Arcaro will ride C. V. Whitney's Fisherman in the International. He and Fisherman teamed for America's only victory in this classic two years ago.

"He has a pretty good chance, although he's two years older than when I won on him," Arcaro said. He rated Llangollen Farm's Mister Gus as perhaps "the best of our American prospects" in the $100,000 race against horses from six other countries."

YOU BE THE QUARTERBACK

By WARREN GAER
Head Football Coach, Drake University

George Washington and Richmond have battled on even terms the first half and the score is 6-6.

Richmond has made several first downs by rushing the first half and capitalized on its one good scoring threat. Now Richmond, with a good quick kicker available, has run three plays for nine yards and has the ball on its own 41, fourth down and one.

You be the Richmond quarterback. Rate these plays 1, 2, 3 and 4:

Punt.
Quarterback sneak (quarterback takes ball and drives forward).
Quick kick from usual running formation.
Fake drive through the line and pass to an end.

St. Mary's Blanks Concordia, 20-0

DAVID CITY—David City St. Mary's took advantage of cold weather which held Seward Concordia's passing attack down and tallied a touchdown in each of the final three quarters to take a 20-0 victory here Thursday night.

Ken Dill paced the winners by scoring two touchdowns.

Concordia lost its only chance to score in the third quarter by fumbling on the David City nine after a pass interference penalty had given them a first down on the four.

The victory ended the season for St. Mary's and gave them an 8-0 record for the campaign. It was the second consecutive undefeated season for the Knights and gives them a string of 17 straight victories.

Here's proof-in-action of power that'll handle your toughest jobs—and keep coming back for more!

CONTEST AAA BOARD — Alcan run supervised, certified by the AAA.

Six new Task-Force huskies made the run. And six ultra-modern Chevy engines proved their power and performance—with gas mileage up to 18.17 miles per gallon! Two of the engines were not stopped once, and they hummed along at peak efficiency the entire 1,520 miles!

Chevy's big V8's turned in top performance jobs—up and down towering grades and through washouts that sucked wheels into hub-deep mud. Rose Bowl Berths May Be Decided In Week's Games

By JACK HAND
The Associated Press

Georgia Tech and Tennessee risk their lofty rankings in the South's top college football game Saturday as the schedule turns into the home stretch with conference titles and bowl bids at stake from coast to coast.

In the Midwest, the vital game is a pairing of Minnesota and Iowa at Minneapolis that could produce the visiting team in the Rose Bowl with both Ohio State and Michigan State ineligible.

The Western half of the Rose Bowl probably will be filled by the winner of the Stanford-Oregon State contest. The Southwest Conference title is the likely prize for the winner of the struggle between Texas A&M and Southern Methodist.

Poll Leaders

All four of the top games involve teams among the higher ranks in the latest Associated Press poll. Georgia Tech (2) — Tennessee (3) could turn into a battle for the lead if Oklahoma (1) stumbles before the end of the season. The Sooners, with 36 straight, are expected to run over Iowa State with no trouble.

Minnesota (6) and Iowa (15) will be the nationally televised game from Minneapolis. Iowa's defeat by Michigan last week rubbed off some of the glow but the Rose Bowl hopes still remain. Minnesota, unbeaten but once tied, edged Pittsburgh last week 9-6

Although Stanford (20) was handed its first Pacific Conference defeat by UCLA last week, the battle with Oregon State (14) has a likely Rose Bowl prize.

Unbeaten, Untied

Among the other major unbeaten, untied teams, Princeton is favored over Harvard and Wyoming is expected to manhandle Montana.

Ohio State is a heavy favorite to romp over Indiana and Michigan State over Purdue in two Western Conference pairings. Michigan, fresh from its victory over Iowa, plays a dangerous Illinois team that was strong enough to beat Michigan State two weeks ago. In the other conference pairing Northwestern is at Wisconsin.

Syracuse (9), ranked highest in the East, plays Holy Cross at Syracuse and Pittsburgh, an early season winner over Syracuse, faces sub-par Notre Dame in a major intersectional test.

Navy's fast-improving team visits Duke for an important game with Duke a slight favorite on its home grounds after losing only 7-0 to Georgia Tech. Army's last home game, at West Point, N. Y., is against William and Mary.

In the Ivy set, which is awaiting with interest the Nov. 17 clash of Princeton and Yale, there is a full schedule. In addition to Harvard at Princeton, Pennsylvania plays at Yale, Cornell at Brown and Columbia at Dartmouth. In other Eastern games of interest, Boston University is at Penn State and Bucknell at Colgate.

With Oklahoma out of the Orange Bowl because it can't go back two years in a row, Colorado can just about nail down the bid by beating Missouri in the Big Seven. Nebraska is at Kansas and Kansas State goes outside its league to visit Marquette.

ACC Defender

Clemson, unbeaten but once tied, defends its Atlantic Coast Conference lead and likely Orange Bowl chances against oft-beaten Maryland. North Carolina is at Virginia, South Carolina at North Carolina State and Wake Forest plays an outside game with Virginia Tech.

Other Southeastern pairings include Georgia at Florida, Vanderbilt at Kentucky, Mississippi State at Auburn and Alabama at Tulane.

In the Southern Conference, the best are Virginia Military at West Virginia and Richmond at George Washington (Friday night). Outside the league, Furman is at Florida State, The Citadel at Villanova, Sewanee at Washington and Lee and Davidson at Wofford.

Two state college football championships will go on the line tonight, but a third title game scheduled for Friday has been postponed.

Dr. H. H. Kalas, president of Westmar College, said Thursday that Friday's game with Tarkio College has been canceled because of critical injuries to a Westmar player.

Stanley Short, a first-team end from Des Moines, suffered a brain injury in last Saturday's game with Yankton, S. D., College. Short was reported in critical condition at a Sioux City hospital.

Dr. Kalas said Westmar would concede the Central Church College Conference football title to Tarkio. Both clubs had 2-0 records, having defeated Dana and Concordia.

Barring an upset, Kearney will clinch the Nebraska College Conference title, Kearney is host to Nebraska Wesleyan and will be gunning for a ninth victory without a loss

McCook Junior College visits Scottsbluff Junior College for a Nebraska J C loop showdown. The teams have 2-0 records.

ANSWER

4. Fake dive and pass. Worst call. Very shaky. The pass probably won't be completed and you'll lose the ball.

3. Quick kick. This goes best on early downs.

2. Sneak. Not a bad choice. Chances are taken on this one in many games every year.

1. Punt. Best call. You're tied. The George Washington offense hasn't stampeded you. Let's play it safe.

Score Unfazed By Hoodoo; Named Top AL Sophomore

NEW YORK (AP) — The so-called second-year jinx didn't faze Cleveland's Herb Score. The sensational southpaw surpassed his brilliant rookie performance of last year by being named Thursday the Aemrican League's outstanding sophomore for 1956.

Score received 103 of the 207 votes cast by members of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America in the annual Associated Press poll. Detroit hurler Frank Lary ranked second in the balloting with 63 votes, followed by pitcher Johnny Kucks of the New York Yankees with 32.

In 1955 Score won 16 games and set an American League record for rookies by striking out 245 batters. This past season he improved on both marks by registering 20 victories against nine losses, while compiling 263 strikeouts.

Second In ERA

The 23-year-old lefty was runner-up to the Yank's Whitey Ford in the earned run listings with a 2.57 average. He finished the season in a blaze of glory, winning and completing his last five starts Of his 16 complete games, five were shutouts.

Signed to a bonus contract for reportedly $60,000, the stylish fireballer was assigned to Indianapolis of the American Assn, where he posted a 2-5 record in 1952. The following season he was sent down to Reading of the Eastern League, winning seven and losing three.

Back with Indianapolis in 1954, the 6-2, 185-pound resident of Lake Worth, Fla, came into his own with a 22-5 won-lost slate. He also fanned 330 batsmen to establish a league record.

Lary, attributing his success to a newly acquired knuckleball pitch that he perfected in mid-July, finished with a flourish. The hard-working righthander captured his last eight decisions to boost his season's won-lost mark to 21-13. In his freshman campaign he had a 14-15 record.

The 25-year-old Alabaman worked 294 innings, most in the league, and posted a 3.06 earned run average. He completed 20 starts.

Kucks won 18 and lost nine and was instrumental in the Yanks' pennant success. The 23-year-old righthander, who was 8-7 in 1955, pitched a three-hit shutout against Brooklyn in the seventh and deciding game of the World Series.

Tom Sturdivant, another promising Yankee moundsman, polled four votes. Hector Lopez of the A's, Elston Howard of the Yanks, Rocky Colavito of the Indians and Billy Klaus of the Red Sox received one vote each. Rookie Luis Aparicio of the White Sox also was named on one ballot.

Two state college football championships will go on the line tonight, but a third title game scheduled for Friday has been postponed.

Dr. H. H. Kalas, president of Westmar College, said Thursday that Friday's game with Tarkio College has been canceled because of critical injuries to a Westmar player.

Stanley Short, a first-team end from Des Moines, suffered a brain injury in last Saturday's game with Yankton, S. D., College. Short was reported in critical condition at a Sioux City hospital.

Dr. Kalas said Westmar would concede the Central Church College Conference football title to Tarkio. Both clubs had 2-0 records, having defeated Dana and Concordia.

Barring an upset, Kearney will clinch the Nebraska College Conference title, Kearney is host to Nebraska Wesleyan and will be gunning for a ninth victory without a loss.

McCook Junior College visits Scottsbluff Junior College for a Nebraska J.C loop showdown. The teams have 2-0 records.

ANSWER

4. Fake dive and pass. Worst call. Very shaky. The pass probably won't be completed and you'll lose the ball.

3. Quick kick. This goes best on early downs.

2. Sneak. Not a bad choice. Chances are taken on this one in many games every year.

1. Punt. Best call. You're tied. The George Washington offense hasn't stampeded you. Let's play it safe.

Score Unfazed By Hoodoo; Named Top AL Sophomore

NEW YORK (AP) — The so-called second-year jinx didn't faze Cleveland's Herb Score. The sensational southpaw surpassed his brilliant rookie performance of last year by being named Thursday the Aemrican League's outstanding sophomore for 1956.

Score received 103 of the 207 votes cast by members of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America in the annual Associated Press poll. Detroit hurler Frank Lary ranked second in the balloting with 63 votes, followed by pitcher Johnny Kucks of the New York Yankees with 32.

In 1955 Score won 16 games and set an American League record for rookies by striking out 245 batters. This past season he improved on both marks by registering 20 victories against nine losses, while compiling 263 strikeouts.

Second In ERA

The 23-year-old lefty was runner-up to the Yank's Whitey Ford in the earned run listings with a 2.57 average. He finished the season in a blaze of glory, winning and completing his last five starts. Of his 16 complete games, five were shutouts.

Signed to a bonus contract for reportedly $60,000, the stylish fireballer was assigned to Indianapolis of the American Assn., where he posted a 2-5 record in 1952. The following season he was sent down to Reading of the Eastern League, winning seven and losing three.

Back with Indianapolis in 1954, the 6-2, 185-pound resident of Lake Worth, Fla., came into his own with a 22-5 won-lost slate. He also fanned 330 batsmen to establish a league record.

Lary, attributing his success to a newly acquired knuckleball pitch that he perfected in mid-July, finished with a flourish. The hard - working righthander captured his last eight decisions to boost his season's won-lost mark to 21-13. In his freshman campaign he had a 14-15 record.

The 25-year-old Alabaman worked 294 innings, most in the league, and posted a 3.06 earned run average. He completed 20 starts.

Kucks won 18 and lost nine and was instrumental in the Yanks' pennant success. The 23-year-old righthander, who was 8-7 in 1955, pitched a three-hit shutout against Brooklyn in the seventh and deciding game of the World Series.

Tom Sturdivant, another promising Yankee moundsman, polled four votes. Hector Lopez of the A's, Elston Howard of the Yanks, Rocky Colavito of the Indians and Billy Klaus of the Red Sox received one vote each. Rookie Luis Aparicio of the White Sox also was named on one ballot.

Road tests by the American Automobile Association prove new Sinclair Power-X Gasoline with X-Chemical provides more power and lower operating costs. Tests were equivalent to four years of typical driving.

Sinclair Wins AAA Award for New Gasoline Power Discovery

New Sinclair Power-X with X-Chemical

- Restores Power in Older Cars— Retains Peak Power in New Cars
- Cuts Operating Costs in All Cars
- Drastically Reduces Spark Plug Fouling
- Eliminates Power Loss from Pre-Ignition Knock

First Gasoline to Eliminate Power-Robbing Engine Deposits. All Cars Need It—Only Sinclair Has It

Marc F. Braeckel, Vice-President and Director of Marketing of Sinclair Refining Company, accepts AAA Certificate of Performance from J. Edward Schipper, Chairman, American Automobile Association Contest Board.

THE PROBLEM—Carbon or other harmful combustion deposits build up on pistons. These hard, crusty deposits, which can form in as little as 3,000 miles, cause knock and loss of power.

THE SOLUTION — Exclusive X-Chemical in new Sinclair Power-X Gasoline changes hard, crusty deposits into harmless, powdery material. Result: increased power and lower operating costs.

STOCKS STAGE JITTERY DROP

NEW YORK (AP)—The nervous situation in the Middle East was fully reflected by the stock market Thursday as it staged a jittery decline with some improvement toward the close.

Leading issues wound up the day with losses running from fractions to around $2. By the end of the session, however, some early losers had nudged to the upside. Here and there was a sizable gain.

The market was down from the start. International oils were heavy losers as the outlook dimmed for any early resumption of Suez Canal traffic.

Around mid-session there was a sinking spell on increased turnover as reports hinting possible Soviet armed intervention in the Middle East alarmed investors.

The fears were somewhat calmed by encouraged reports on the Egyptian ceasefire, giving the lost a somewhat firmer tone by the close.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined $1.10 to $180.10 with the industrials down $1.60, the rails down $1.30 and the utilities down 20 cents.

Based on the average, the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Exchange declined an estimated $1,300,000,000 Thursday. The session's loss, combined with Wednesday's, more than wiped out the advance made in Monday's election eve rally.

Volume totaled 1,970,000 shares compared with 2,650,000 Wednesday.

The American Stock Exchange was lower on volume of 710,000 shares compared with 860,000 Wednesday.

STOCKS STAGE JITTERY DROP

NEW YORK (AP)—The nervous situation in the Middle East was fully reflected by the stock market Thursday as it staged a jittery decline with some improvement toward the close.

Leading issues wound up the day with losses running from fractions to around $2. By the end of the session, however, some early losers had nudged to the upside. Here and there was a sizable gain.

The market was down from the start. International oils were heavy losers as the outlook dimmed for any early resumption of Suez Canal traffic.

Around mid-session there was a sinking spell on increased turnover as reports hinting possible Soviet armed intervention in the Middle East alarmed investors.

The fears were somewhat calmed by encouraged reports on the Egyptian ceasefire, giving the lost a somewhat firmer tone by the close.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined $1.10 to $180.10 with the industrials down $1.60, the rails down $1.30 and the utilities down 20 cents.

Based on the average, the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Exchange declined an estimated $1,300,000,000 Thursday. The session's loss, combined with Wednesday's, more than wiped out the advance made in Monday's election eve rally.

Volume totaled 1,970,000 shares compared with 2,650,000 Wednesday.

The American Stock Exchange was lower on volume of 710,000 shares compared with 860,000 Wednesday.

"ARTICLE 4 I

EMERGENCY AMBULANCES

"Section 4 101 EMERGENCY AMBULANCES DEFINED. The term "emergency ambulance" shall mean any ambulance when responding to an emergency call or conveying a person to a hospital in a bona fide emergency, but not upon returning from any such emergency call.

"Section 4 102 SPECIAL PRIVILEGES, WHEN. The driver of any emergency ambulance may exercise the privileges set forth in this section, but subject to the conditions herein stated.

"(a) The driver of an emergency ambulance may:

"(1) Park or stand such vehicle, irrespective of the provisions of this ordinance, except upon specific direction of a police officer.

"(2) Proceed past a red or stop signal or stop sign, but only after slowing down, and only after the driver has ascertained that such movement can be made without endangering the life and property of others.

"(3) Disregard regulations governing direction of movement or turning in specified directions, only after the driver has ascertained that such movement can be made without endangering life or property.

"(b) The exemptions herein granted to an emergency ambulance shall apply only when the driver of said vehicle, while in motion, sounds an audible signal by bell, siren or exhaust whistle as may be reasonably necessary, and when the vehicle is equipped with at least one lighted lamp displaying a red light visible under normal atmospheric conditions from a distance of 500 feet to the front of such vehicle.

"(c) The foregoing provisions shall not relieve the driver of any emergency ambulance from the duty to comply with the ordinances of the City of Lincoln prescribing the maximum speeds at which motor vehicles may be operated, nor the duty to drive with due regard for the safety of all persons, nor shall such provisions protect the driver from the consequences of his failure to exercise due care for the safety of others.

"Section 4 103 YIELD OF RIGHT OF WAY TO. The driver of a vehicle upon a street shall yield the right of way to emergency ambulances when such emergency ambulance is sounding a siren and has a lighted red light visible thereon as hereinbefore provided. Upon the approach of any such emergency ambulance, the driver of every other vehicle, except emergency vehicles, shall immediately drive to a position as near as possible and parallel to the right hand edge or curb of the street, except on one-way streets where the driver shall drive to the nearest curb clear of any intersection, and shall stop and remain in such position until such emergency ambulance shall have passed, unless otherwise directed by a police officer."

"ARTICLE 4.1
EMERGENCY AMBULANCES

"Section 4.101. EMERGENCY AMBULANCES DEFINED. The term "emergency ambulance" shall mean any ambulance when responding to an emergency call or conveying a person to a hospital in a bona fide emergency, but not upon returning from any such emergency call.

Suez Battle Silent And International Police Force Is Being Assembled Fast

LONDON (Friday) (AP) — The Suez battle front was silenced and an international police force was being assembled fast Friday to neutralize and hold the Suez Canal.

The cease-fire stilled the guns Thursday afternoon.

Rapid developments unfolded on the diplomatic fronts.

Israel, Britain and France—all now occupying parts of Egypt—agreed to leave when the small-nation police army under the U.N. takes over.

Manpower from such big powers as the United States and Russia are barred from the projected occupation force.

Permanent

If all goes well, the canal would be taken out of Egypt's national control and British-French occupation and run internationally again until a permanent solution is found.

Israel was the last of the three occupying powers to agree on a withdrawal. It announced readiness to give up the Egyptian Sinia Peninsula if assured that the U.N. police would take over.

In London, Prime Minister Eden's government quashed a revolt in his Conservative party and won a vote of confidence in Parliament.

Reliable sources said doubtful Conservatives were won over when Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd assured them with emphasis that British - French forces would leave Suez unconditionally when the U.N. force arrives.

Sixteen countries have offered to contribute troops and the force may begin assembling in Egypt within a few days.

Countries which have offered troops include:

Canada, Colombia, Denmark, Finland, Norway, Sweden, Burma, Ceylon, Czechoslovakia, India, New Zealand, Pakistan, Romania, Brazil, Indonesia and Yugoslavia.

Maj. Gen. E.L.M. Burns, chief U.N. truce observer who will head the U.N. emergency force, said in Cairo that Egypt has agreed to accept 10 U.N. observers to watch over the cease-fire.

He said U.N. forces probably would land in the canal zone but would later move to the armistice line which was the Israeli-Egyptian frontier before the Israeli forces invaded on Oct 29.

President Eisenhower was reported to have brought heavy pressure on Britain, France and Israel to take their forces out of Egypt and cooperate with the U.N force.

Eisenhower was said to be urging these steps as a counter to Soviet propaganda claiming the Russian threat of armed intervention was what halted the fighting.

Premier David Ben-Gurion Thursday night sent Eisenhower assurance of Israel's intent to withdraw forces from Egypt willingly on arrival of the U.N. troops.

Associated Press correspondent Leonard Leddington reported from Port Said that shooting in the canal zone had ended by 1:30 p.m. Thursday and the city was peaceful.

He said Gen. Sir Hugh Stockwell, commander of British-French task forces, had been ordered to stand firm and continue build-up of the Allied occupation under the cease-fire.

Stockwell also said Egyptian forces appeared to be making "a considerable build-up" just south of the cease-fire line at El Cap, near Ismailia.

Uncertainty over other maneuvers in the Arab and Communist camps Thursday made the cease-fire seem insecure.

An official French report said Soviet MIG17 fighters had landed in Syria.

British Defense Minister Antony Head disclosed that Britain has received reports the Egyptians are busily repairing the airfields battered by bombs by British-French air forces.

The Egyptian Embassy in Moscow announced it was continuing to enroll hundreds of Soviet volunteers for service in the Middle East. Red China previously had announced a favorable response to an Egyptian appeal for aid of various kinds.

A statement by the Peiping government was circulated by Tass, official Soviet news agency in Mos[illegible] other countries against supporting the United States position in the Middle East, saying the United States had long been seeking to take over the Suez Canal zone under the guise of an "international" police force.

The Israeli army announced commandos from Jordan stabbed across the border from Shaari Hagai, between Tel Aviv and Jerusalem, to a point 30 miles north Wednesday night, blowing up a water pipeline and three empty houses and attacking bridges and several cars with guns and grenades. No one was injured.

The grand mufti of Egypt, Sheikh Hassan Mamnoum, stopping short of a call for a holy war, told Moslems the world over it was their "sacred duty" to fight the British, French and Israelis.

The British-French command at Cyprus announced that an Egyptian patrol fought a brief skirmish with British tankmen just north of Qantara late Wednesday. Two Egyptians were killed and a British noncom and an Egyptian were wounded in this action at the southern tip of the British-French advance down the Suez Canal.

But Canada's Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, U.N truce observers in Palestine, arrived in Cairo and announced Egypt had agreed to accept 10 U.N observers to watch over the cease-fire in the canal battle zone. Gen. Burns went to Cairo to explore how the international police force he is to lead in the area will go about its job. He expressed hope the U.N. observers would be on the job in a day or two.

Suez Battle Silent And International Police Force Is Being Assembled Fast

LONDON (Friday) (AP) — The Suez battle front was silenced and an international police force was being assembled fast Friday to neutralize and hold the Suez Canal.

The cease-fire stilled the guns Thursday afternoon.

Rapid developments unfolded on the diplomatic fronts.

Israel, Britain and France—all now occupying parts of Egypt—agreed to leave when the small-nation police army under the U.N. takes over.

Manpower from such big powers as the United States and Russia are barred from the projected occupation force.

Permanent

If all goes well, the canal would be taken out of Egypt's national control and British-French occupation and run internationally again until a permanent solution is found.

Israel was the last of the three occupying powers to agree on a withdrawal. It announced readiness to give up the Egyptian Sinia Peninsula if assured that the U.N. police would take over.

In London, Prime Minister Eden's government quashed a revolt in his Conservative party and won a vote of confidence in Parliament.

Reliable sources said doubtful Conservatives were won over when Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd assured them with emphasis that British - French forces would leave Suez unconditionally when the U.N. force arrives.

Sixteen countries have offered to contribute troops and the force may begin assembling in Egypt within a few days.

Countries which have offered troops include:

Canada, Colombia, Denmark, Finland, Norway, Sweden, Burma, Ceylon, Czechoslovakia, India, New Zealand, Pakistan, Romania, Brazil, Indonesia and Yugoslavia.

Maj. Gen. E.L.M. Burns, chief U.N. truce observer who will head the U.N. emergency force, said in Cairo that Egypt has agreed to accept 10 U.N. observers to watch over the cease-fire.

He said U.N. forces probably would land in the canal zone but would later move to the armistice line which was the Israeli-Egyptian frontier before the Israeli forces invaded on Oct. 29.

President Eisenhower was reported to have brought heavy pressure on Britain, France and Israel to take their forces out of Egypt and cooperate with the U.N. force.

Eisenhower was said to be urging these steps as a counter to Soviet propaganda claiming the Russian threat of armed intervention was what halted the fighting.

Premier David Ben-Gurion Thursday night sent Eisenhower assurance of Israel's intent to withdraw forces from Egypt willingly on arrival of the U.N. troops.

Associated Press correspondent Leonard Leddington reported from Port Said that shooting in the canal zone had ended by 1:30 p.m. Thursday and the city was peaceful.

He said Gen. Sir Hugh Stockwell, commander of British-French task forces, had been ordered to stand firm and continue build-up of the Allied occupation under the cease-fire.

Stockwell also said Egyptian forces appeared to be making "a considerable build-up" just south of the cease-fire line at El Cap, near Ismailia.

Uncertainty over other maneuvers in the Arab and Communist camps Thursday made the cease-fire seem insecure.

An official French report said Soviet MIG17 fighters had landed in Syria.

British Defense Minister Antony Head disclosed that Britain has received reports the Egyptians are busily repairing the airfields battered by bombs by British-French air forces.

The Egyptian Embassy in Moscow announced it was continuing to enroll hundreds of Soviet volunteers for service in the Middle East. Red China previously had announced a favorable response to an Egyptian appeal for aid of various kinds.

A statement by the Peiping government was circulated by Tass, official Soviet news agency in Moscow, [illegible] other countries against supporting the United States position in the Middle East, saying the United States had long been seeking to take over the Suez Canal zone under the guise of an "international" police force.

The Israeli army announced commandos from Jordan stabbed across the border from Shaari Hagai, between Tel Aviv and Jerusalem, to a point 30 miles north Wednesday night, blowing up a water pipeline and three empty houses and attacking bridges and several cars with guns and grenades. No one was injured.

The grand mufti of Egypt, Sheikh Hassan Maamoum, stopping short of a call for a holy war, told Moslems the world over it was their "dacred duty" to fight the British, French and Israelis.

The British-French command at Cyprus announced that an Egyptian patrol fought a brief skirmish with British tankmen just north of Qantara late Wednesday. Two Egyptians were killed and a British noncom and an Egyptian were wounded in this action at the southern tip of the British-French advance down the Suez Canal.

But Canada's Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, U.N truce observers in Palestine, arrived in Cairo and announced Egypt had agreed to accept 10 U.N observers to watch over the cease-fire in the canal battle zone. Gen. Burns went to Cairo to explore how the international police force he is to lead in the area will go about its job. He expressed hope the U.N. observers would be on the job in a day or two.
